BIG POWERS GET PALESTINE ISSUE

Finns Oppose Military Pact With Moscow

But Parliamentary Groups Favor Talks

HELSINKI, Finland, March 5 (AP)—A majority of the Finnish Parliament favored tonight the opening of treaty negotiations with Russia but opposed entering any far-reaching military alliance.

Of the six parliamentary groups, only the Communist-dominated Popular Front bloc has voiced support for a full military alignment with the Soviet Union. This bloc has 51 of the 200 seats in the Finnish Parliament.

Prime Minister Stalin, of Russia, has asked for a treaty of friendship and mutual assistance.

If the proposed treaty is stripped of mutual assistance clauses, it would boil down to a cultural and friendship pact. Most Finns feel this would be meaningless since the September, 1947, peace treaty already regulates such relations between the two countries. Moreover, there are few Finns who feel Russia would be satisfied with such an agreement.

Paasikivi Asked Opinions

President Juho Paasikivi had asked the parliamentary groups for their opinions on the treaty negotiations. A government minister said th statements of the various parties should be regarded as "merely reflecting public opinion" in Finland.

The important point to remember, he said, is that Paasikivi alone must make the decision on the question of beginning the talks.

Any treaty that is concluded must be ratified by Parliament.

The Agrarians, with 48 parliamentary seats, told Paasikivi they "cannot recommend negotiations" on the basis of Stalin's proposal. The party's letter to the President was published tonight.

An Agrarian spokesman said if "we agree to the talks we automatically must agree to pacts such as Hungary and Romania signed."

This view ran counter to the belief of many Conservatives and Liberals who maintained that acceptance of negotiations does not necessarily mean acceptance of the pact.

The Social Democrats, who also hold 48 seats, were emphatic in their stand against a military tie. A similar position was taken by the Conservatives, 29 seats; Liberals, nine seats, and the Swedish People's Party, 15 seats.

Committee Will Meet

A Foreign Office official told a news conference no Cabinet session to consider the problem was scheduled tonight. He said the government's Foreign Affairs Committee would meet tomorrow.

The weather-beaten presidential palace overlooking the ice-choked Helsinki harbor was the scene today of great activity. The Agrarian, Conservative and Liberal delegations of Parliament paid formal calls on Paasikivi. Close advisers, including Foreign Minister Karl Enckell, also conferred with the President.

Informed Finnish sources speculated that a Finnish delegation to

First Fragment Of New Atomic Metal Produced

NEW YORK, March 5. (AP)—Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, famous atomic scientist, disclosed tonight that the first small pieces of a new kind of atomic bomb and fuel metal have been manufactured.

The new metal is uranium 233, made by changing the heavy metal thorium into uranium. This new form of uranium does not exist naturally on earth. Neither is it known to exist in the stars.

A small part of an ounce of the thorium metal, Dr. Seaborg reported, has been made in the Hanford, Washington, uranium-graphite, chain-reacting, atomic piles. The total new metal is a few hundred milligrams.

Election Of U. S. Presidents By Popular Vote Is Proposed

"THAT'S MY MAN"—Head of the MacArthur-for-President movement in Illinois, Warren Wright is pictured in New York with a photo of the General as he declared: "That's my man and your man, too." He came east to spur the drive to make the Army leader a presidential nominee.

House Group Okays Gossett Amendment

WASHINGTON, March 5: (AP)—Election of the President and Vice-President of the United States by popular vote was recommended today in the northern-southern Democratic civil rights fight.

A constitutional amendment which would radically change the present electoral college system was approved unanimously by a House Judiciary Subcommittee in a deliberately-aimed blow at minority influence on major party policies.

This amendment, if adopted, would have such far-reaching effects as reducing the "balance of power" influence claimed by the American Labor Party, which is backing Henry A. Wallace's presidential bid in New York State.

Rep. Gossett (D-Tex), author of the amendment, blamed the electoral college system for the present split between President Truman and southern Democrats bucking the President's proposal to lower some racial barriers.

Minorities Hold Balance

"The electoral college," Gossett said, "permits and invites irresponsible control and domination by small, organized minority groups within the large pivotal states."

These minorities, Gossett said, "by voting together can and do hold a balance of power." The result, he added, is that "the political strategists in both parties make special appeals to these various groups."

Southerners have charged that Mr. Truman took his civil rights stand in the hope of capturing one such minority group—the negroes in New York, Pennsylvania and several other northern states.

Minorities can wield great influence now because, if they hold the balance of power in a state, they can swing that state's entire electoral vote to the candidate of their choice.

Thus the negroes, by voting solidly for President Truman, could cause New York's entire 47 votes in the electoral college to be cast for him in a close election.

Proposal Would Split Votes

Under the proposed amendment, however, a state's electoral votes would be split up among the various candidates according to the popular vote each candidate ereceived. In that case the negroes, by their votes, could determine how only a few of New York's 47 electoral votes would be cast.

Gossett's amendment will be taken up next week by the 26-member Judiciary Committee, which includes four Democrats from the traditionally "solid South."

To Be adopted, it would require a two-thirds vote in each ouse. Then it would have to be ratified by 36 states. Even if Congress takes the necessary action, it is doubtful if enough states could ratify before next November's election.

Senators Clash Over Probable Results Of ERP

Hawkes Says Plan Won't Stop Reds

WASINGTON, March 5. (AP)—Republican senators clashed head-on over the aims and probable results of the Marshall plan today with tempers flaring toward the end of the session.

Sen. Hawkes (R-NJ) lighted the fuse by declaring "any sane man knows" the $5,300,000,000 program will fail to stop Communism, will depress this country's living standard and may lead to World War III.

His voice shaking with emotion, Hawkes said he lost a son in the last war. "I want my little grandson," he cried, "to know I didn't vote to sell the United States down the river."

Indignantly, Sen. Lodge (R-Mass), a World War II Army officer, said Hawkes had no right to question "the patriotism and sanity" of those backing the European recovery plan.

Lodge "Quarterbacks" Bill

"If this bill were to succeed 100 per cent," Lodge said, "you would see free trade all over Europe between the West and the East. It would mean that the iron curtain would have broken down.'

Lodge appeared as "quarterback" for the aid bill, defending it in a series of exchanges with half a dozen GOP senators. Only one or two Democrats were on the floor most of the time. They kept out of the argument.

Later, Sen. George (D-Ga) introduced two amendments designed, he said, to make clear just how farm products should be bought for shipment abroad.

One amendment would require that "established trade channels" be used as far as possible. The other says commodities must be procured when there is an exportable surplus of them.

Ball Proposal Doomed

A far-reaching amendment by Sen. Ball (R-Minn)—to set up a vetoless international agency to resist Communism — apparently was doomed. Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, joined Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich), of the Foreign Relations Committee, in opposing it.

Outside the Capitol, the Committee for the Marshall Plan held a meeting to step up its campaign for congressional approval of the program without long drawn-out debate.

Secretary of State Marshall, in an off-the-record talk, reportedly stressed the need for final action before the April elections in Italy, when many United States officials expect another Communist attempt to seize power.

Heiress Granted Divorce, Custody Of Two Children

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 5 (AP)—Giola Barker Grimditch, once gay heiress but now a crippled beauty, today was given sole custody of her two children and a divorce from her socialite husband.

Judge L. Mercer Johnson denied her request for $500 a month support, attorney fees and cost of hospital treatment for automobile accident injuries which left one leg shorter than the other.

William Grimditch, Jr., Philadelphia, who had charged his wife with unfaithfulness in an effort to gain custody of the children, was granted "reasonable visitation" privileges.

House Committee Sidesteps Civil Rights Proposal

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—A threat to use the power of the federal purse in the civil rights fight failed today.

The House Appropriations Committee brushed aside a proposal to hold back money from states that deny negroes equal job and educational opportunities, and approved $1,017,851,000 for the Labor Department and the Federal Security Agency.

A subcommittee recommended that upwards of $170,000,000 be withheld for hospital building and vocational education in such states. However, the full committee rejected this in a closed session on a vote reported as 25 to 6.

Also today, the House passed a $500,982,263 appropriation bill for the State, Commerce and Justice Departments and the federal judiciary. It now goes to the Senate.

The $1,017,851,000 in labor-security funds recommended by the committee for the year starting July 1 includes $112,445,750 in contract authority for which money must be voted later.

The $905,405,250 actual cash approved is $30,119,379 less than the amount President Truman asked. But the total is only about one per cent less than the same agencies received this year.

Here is what the committee recommended today for major activities financed in the $1,017,851,000 bill:

Department of Labor—$12,498,200, a cut of $4,102,100 from the President's request. In addition, $373,001 of current year funds were recalled.

Federal Security Agency—$239,788,500, a cut of $23,367,279. In addition, however, it recommended $112,445,750 in contract authorization.

National Labor Relations Board—$7,200,000, a cut of $2,200,000. The budget asked $9,400,000 for nine month's expenses, the committee voted $7,200,000 for eight months.

National Mediation Board—$862,550, the full amount asked.

Railroad Retirement Board — $642,416,000, the full amount asked.

Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service — $2,640,000, a cut of $450,000.

State—$197,217,463, a budget cut of $17,101,068; Justice—$116,330,700, a cut of $591,300; Commerce—$168,649,000, a cut of $68,194,500; Judiciary—$18,785,100, a cut of $968,300.

Magill Favors Tax Cut Of Four To Six Billions

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—A tax cut of $6,500,000,000 actually wouldn't take that much from the Treasury, Roswell Magill, former New Deal Treasury official, told the Senate Finance Committee today.

He said the loss in revenue would be lower than the House-approved six and a half billion figure because:

"People do not wrestle quite so hard to find the last dollar of lawful deductions. Evasion is less tempting. Collection becomes easier, less costly."

The committee is considering the House bill. The Senate is expected to make this figure lower.

Magill, speaking in favor of a cut of from four to six billions, said Treasury surpluses for 1947 and 1948 top $16,400,000,000.

25 Warships Doomed

PEARL HARBOR, March 5 (AP) — Twenty-five warships, last of the Bikini atom bomb target fleet left anchored at Kwajalein, will be scuttled within the next six months, the Navy disclosed today. The ships are eight destroyers, nine transports and eight landing craft.

Guatemala Closes Border

GUATEMALA, Guatemala, March 5 (AP)—Guatemala closed its frontier with Belize (British Honduras) today and ordered troops to the border.

Gov. Alejandro Maldonado, of Peten Province, had advised the Guatemalan government he personally would investigate reports that 1,500 British troops with field guns were posted along the border.

USSR Satellites Are Denied Voice In Reich Policies

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP) — The United States bluntly rejected today a joint request from Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Poland that they be consulted on American policies in Germany.

The rejection was stated in identical notes sent by Undersecretary of State Lovett to the Polish, Yugoslav and Czechoslovak Embassies.

Russia had supported the request of the three satellite nations and copies of the note were also supplied to the Soviet Embassy.

The joint request was based on a resolution adopted by the Foreign Ministers of the three Eastern European governments at Prague February 18. In general this resolution denounced the policies of the United States, Britain and France in reconstructing Western Germany.

President, Back In Capital, Faces Major Aid Issue

Military Support Decision Awaited

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP) — President Truman returned to Washington today to face a decision of far-reaching import: Whether the United States should give military support to Western European countries fearful of Russia.

The President's first business on his return from vacation in the Carribbean and Florida was a session with his Cabinet at 4 p. m., EST. Whether the European situation was on the agenda was not stated,

But the problem for American policy makers may take precise form over the weekend if five Western European nations agree, as expected, on a mutual defense treaty and if they then raise the question of the United States joining in.

Red Move In Italy Expected

It is also expected to crop up in another and more urgent way soon in Italy, American officials now generally believe that Italy will be the target this spring of a Russian move to extend Communist power west of the "iron curtain."

The problem of military support for Western European countries has been discussed unofficially for months. An American military alliance to support the Marshall plan countries was proposed to Congress by Elder Statesman Bernard Baruch several weeks ago.

Consideration of the idea goes back in its present form to British Foreign Minister Bevin's proposal last January for a Western European union. However, the idea of an American commitment to protect the countries of such a union against German, Russian or any other aggression has been most enthusiastically considered since the Communist power-grab in Czechoslovakia.

Wedemeyer Urges Military Aid

Lt. General Albert C. Wedemeyer was expressing an opinion widely held among both military and civilian advisers of President Truman when he told the House Foreign Affairs Committee yesterday that this nation should back up its economic assistance to non-Communist countries with suitable military support.

In the case of European countries that is already being done for Greece and Turkey.

President Truman was on his vacation when the Czechoslovak crisis gave dramatic new importance, in the opinion of many of his advisers, to the question of American military commitments abroad. His return today assures an early opportunity for a discussion of the methods which might be used and a decision as to whether, in fact, any action along this line is necessary or practical in the weeks ahead.

CIO Fires Harry Bridges For Supporting Wallace

Taylor Suggests That Truman Be Consistent And Ask MacArthur And Wedemeyer To Resign

WASHINGTON, March 5—(AP)—The CIO fired Harry Bridges today and Sen. Taylor, of Idaho, suggested that President Truman fire Gens. MacArthur and Wedemeyer.

Foreign policy and third party politics were behind both developments.

Bridges lost his job as the CIO's Northern California regional director because he supported Henry A. Wallace for President and opposed the European recovery program. His stand was contrary to the CIO's.

Taylor, Wallace's running mate in the third party ticket, wrote Mr. Truman that the two generals in the Far East were urging "a foreign policy at variance with that of the administration." He noted they advocated military aid to China.

"Truman Policy" Cited

Mr. Truman fired Wallace as Secretary of Commerce in 1946, Taylor recalled, for publicly disagreeing with administration foreign policy. The Idaho senator added:

"In order that you may be consistent with the policy which you laid down in the case of Mr. Wallace, I suggest that resignations of Gen. MacArthur and Gen. Wedemeyer must also be requested."

Mr. Truman came back from his vacation today. Democratic Chairman McGrath is expected soon to give him a person-to-person account of the state of the party.

McGrath has had to do the listening to complaints from southern politicians on Mr. Truman's civil rights program. He has had, also, to survey the victory of a Wallace man in a New York congressional election.

Otherwise the day's political developments included:

New Carburetor Drives Tractors, Cars On Alcohol

OMAHA, March 5 (AP) — A new carburetor makes it possible to drive your car entirely on ethyl alcohol, the drinking kind of alcohol, instead of gasoline.

The carburetor, shown today to the National Farm Chemurgic Conference, has been used successfully in a tractor engine. And it could be put in passenger automobiles, said R. E. Davis, research engineer of Joseph E. Seagram and Sons, Louisville, Ky., distillers.

Alcohol is not cheap enough now to compete with gasoline as a fuel in the United States. But the carburetor is one of the new developments underway against a day of gasoline shortage or cheaper alcohol prices.

Czech Newspaper Reveals Army Is Undergoing Purge

PRAGUE, March 5—(AP)—The Social Democratic newspaper Pravo Lidu disclosed tonight the Czechoslovak army is undergoing a thorough purge.

Rudolf Slansky, secretary general of the Communist Party in this country and a founder of the Cominform, appeared to be in charge.

The disclosure was in a paragraph which said:

"Action committees are not going to intervene in the purge going on in the army. In case of intervention or doubt, action committees should apply directly to the Ministry of Defense and at the same time report to the chairman of the defense committee of Parliament, Slansky."

The action committees have been purging political parties, Parliament, industry, the police and cultural bodies.

The Communist government announced an increase in bread rations. Mrs. Ludmila Jankovcova, new food minister, said March rations would be raised 2.2 pounds and those for April 3.3 pounds. She said grain deliveries from Russia are satisfactory and that most bread will be of white flour.

Newspapers featured an interview given by Communist Premier Klement Gottwald in which he blamed the recent crisis on "ministers of reaction."

He asserted that Russia brought no pressure to force the "rebirth of the national front." Gottwald said foreign policy would not be changed except that "reactionaries" in foreign service would not throw dirt on the Czechoslovak republic.

Jan Masaryk, foreign minister and son of the country's first President, removed all doubt of his viewpoint. The controlled press reported a speech to army officers in which Masaryk said:

"I am one of you. You can count on me. We have entered a new phase of history. We must be grateful if Russia allows us to be at her side."

Christoffel Sentenced To Two-To-Six-Year Term

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP) — Harold Christoffel, Milwaukee labor leader who was convicted of perjury because he swore he was not a Communist, was given a two to six year prison sentence today. His lawyers said they would carry the case to the Supreme Court if necessary.

Christoffel was convicted by a federal district jury Wednesday on charges that he lied about his alleged Communist connections to the House Labor Committee last March.

Consultations Start Monday, U. S. Plan Loses

Test-For-Partition Paragraph Dropped

LAKE SUCCESS, March 5 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council late today rejected a United States proposal which would have committed the council now to all-out aid to partitioning Palestine.

Instead, the council voted to ask the big powers to consult and then say what instructions the council should give the United Nations Palestine Commission.

These instructions would bear on implementation of the United Nations Assembly's partition decision of last November 29.

That left it up to Russia, the United States, China and France. They will meet Monday in the Russian delegation's New York offices at the invitation of Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko.

The council acted after the Jewish Agency told it in effect that Palestine Jews were determined to go ahead with creation of a Jewish nation in Palestine—with or without United Nations help.

The resolution which the council finally approved by a vote of 5 to 0 bore little resemblance to the original United States proposal submitted last week by Chief United States Delegate Warren R. Austin.

Voting for the United States resolution, as finally amended, were the United States, China, France, Russia, Belgium, Canada, Colombia and the Soviet Ukraine. Britain, Argentina and Syria abstained.

Resolution Revised

During the day the United States resolution was revised sharply in an attempt to meet Soviet objections and then the council rejected three of its seven paragraphs. The rejected parts included the controversial "Paragraph 1" which Austin earlier had declared was a test for partition.

The gist of this paragraph was that the council should accept the Assembly's request to take the necessary measures for implementation of partition and to declare that any effort to block partition by force constituted a threat to peace.

This was defeated. It received only five affirmative votes. Seven of the council's 11 votes were needed for approval. It was supported by the United States, Belgium, France, Russia and the Soviet Ukraine. No member voted against it but the six abstentions killed it.

The council gave the big powers 10 days to submit recommendations. Their talks will be private.

Reaction to the council's decision was mixed. A Jewish Agency spokesman said the agency considered the vote a victory for partition despite the refusal of the council to make a specific commitment for implementation.

Disagree On Effects

It was pointed out that the draft, as approved, contained a reference to implementation. It also was noted that the council defeated a provision which both Russia and the agency had contended would open up a possibility of Jewish-Arab conciliation attempts which might lead to confusion and delay.

One top United Nations official said the decision was "very good"

Haganah Reports 30 Arabs Killed In Battle

JERUSALEM, March 5 (AP)—The Jewish militia Haganah said today that Jewish fighters killed 30 Arabs and wounded many others in a four-hour battle last night on the Plains of Sharon.

The battle developed in the coastal region between Tel Aviv and Haifa when the Jews repulsed Arabs attacking the settlement of Magdiel, Haganah's communique issued in Tel Aviv said.

Four Jews were wounded, Haganah reported. The Jewish force returned safely to its base.

Arab sources in Tel Aviv said Arab commando forces are concentrated in hill towns in the Sharon district, ready to strike when the order is given.

Probers Formally Denied Loyalty Files On Condon

WASHINGTON, March 5—(AP)—A new test of strength between Congress and the executive branch of government built up today in the Condon case.

The Commerce Department formally refused to turn over its loyalty files on Dr. Edward U. Condon to the House Committee on Un-American activities.

Rep. J. Parnell Thoman (R-NJ), chairman of the House committee, declared there is going to be a "showdown." He didn't specify when.

Three other Republican congressmen made speeches criticizing Secretary of Commerce Harriman for refusing to turn over the papers which the committee sought to subpoena.

Condon, director of the National Bureau of Standards, told reporters he certainly has no objection to the hearings which Thomas said will be held. In fact, Condon said, he asked for a hearing last July.

A subcommittee of the un-American affairs group charged last Monday that he had mingled "knowingly or unknowingly" with alleged Russian spies, and was one of the weakest links" in the nation's chain of atomic security. Condon commented that the country has nothing to worry about—he is thoroughly reliable.

It has been known since last night that the Commerce Department had no intention of turning over its loyalty board's investigation of the 46-year-old scientist.

Secretary of Commerce Harriman said it would be against the public interest to make such confidential information public. At the same time he assured the committee that the departmental loyalty board had decided unanimously February 24, that "no reasonable grounds" exist to doubt Condon's loyalty.

Bandits Terrorize Nurses, Escape With Pittsburgh Hospital Payroll

PITTSBURGH, March 5 (AP)—Two gun-wielding bandits who terrorized nurses and attendants by firing four shots fled with more than $15,000 in a payroll robbery today at Allegheny General Hospital.

The robbery occurred as Paymaster Robert R. Chalmers, 65, and Elizabeth Bruck, 25, a bookkeeper, were in the midst of paying employes in a basement room.

The bandits fled after firing four shots, two of them inside the imposing 22-story building. Patients in the modern 500-bed hospital in the city's North Side were unaware of the robbery and were not disturbed.

The bandits' auto, stolen earlier in the day, was abandoned near the hospital. Police Inspector Frank A. Ferris said $1,300 was found inside the car, along with an automatic pistol.

The exact total of the loot was not known immediately because the robbers took the receipts which were in the money box, Ferris said. Hospital authorities estimated about $14,000 still was missing.

Holdup At St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, March 5 (AP)—Three armed men wearing handkerchiefs over the lower part of their faces robbed the Bussman Manufacturing Company of $31,000 today. The robbery occurred just two minutes after the payroll money had been delivered in an armored truck.

The gunmen scooped the money from tables in the company's second-floor payroll room, where it was being sorted by seven women employes for distribution to workers.

One of the men forced a company telephone switchboard operator into a nearby wash room and jerked most of the plugs from the board. The other two went behind the switchboard into the payroll room and, working rapidly, placed the money into the bags in which it had been delivered.

Woman, 56, Hits $35,000 Radio Program Jackpot

HOLLYWOOD, March 5—(AP)—A grandmother who lives in a three-room house on a New Mexico Indian reservation won $35,000 worth of prizes today on the "Queen for a Day" radio program.

Mrs. Edgar Parrett, Shiprock, N. M., 56, took the news of her winnings calmly in the little one-telephone town north of Gallup, N. M.

All she had to do to win the prize was be a mother-in-law.

"I was hoping," she said, "but I really didn't expect to win."

She didn't hear the news herself because of unfavorable atmospheric conditions, but her daughter, Mrs. Jack Leonard, 31, Farmington, N. M., telephoned her a few minutes later.

Asked if she'd have room to stow the 42 prizes—many of them household furnishings—she said she didn't know.

"This is a lot bigger than anything I'm used to," she explained. She and her husband live at the Shiprock School for Navajo Indians, where he is in charge of a large Indian service farm. He's been in the service for 30 years. They have two grandchildren.

Radio's fabulous finger of fortune picked out Mrs. Parrett from 34 finalists. Her name was one of 3,000,000 submitted by listeners throughout the country.

The prizes—which Mutual Network officials said surpassed anything ever air-given—took three announcers four minutes to read.

They included a house full of electric and gas-operated appliances topped by a house freezer stuffed with food; an automobile and trailer; a compdete wardrobe, with a $1,000 Persian lamb coat; a diamond ring and watch; and a two-week trip to New York City, Vermont Mountains and Bermuda.

BIG POWERS GET PALESTINE ISSUE

Finns Oppose Military Pact With Moscow

But Parliamentary Groups Favor Talks

HELSINKI, Finland, March 5 (AP)—A majority of the Finnish Parliament favored tonight the opening of treaty negotiations with Russia but opposed entering any far-reaching military alliance.

Of the six parliamentary groups, only the Communist-dominated Popular Front bloc has voiced support for a full military alignment with the Soviet Union. This bloc has 51 of the 200 seats in the Finnish Parliament.

Prime Minister Stalin, of Russia, has asked for a treaty of friendship and mutual assistance.

If the proposed treaty is stripped of mutual assistance clauses, it would boil down to a cultural and friendship pact. Most Finns feel this would be meaningless since the September, 1947, peace treaty already regulates such relations between the two countries. Moreover, there are few Finns who feel Russia would be satisfied with such an agreement.

Paasikivi Asked Opinions

President Juho Paasikivi had asked the parliamentary groups for their opinions on the treaty negotiations. A government minister said th statements of the various parties should be regarded as "merely reflecting public opinion" in Finland.

The important point to remember, he said, is that Paasikivi alone must make the decision on the question of beginning the talks.

Any treaty that is concluded must be ratified by Parliament.

The Agrarians, with 48 parliamentary seats, told Paasikivi they "cannot recommend negotiations" on the basis of Stalin's proposal. The party's letter to the President was published tonight.

An Agrarian spokesman said if "we agree to the talks we automatically must agree to pacts such as Hungary and Romania signed."

This view ran counter to the belief of many Conservatives and Liberals who maintained that acceptance of negotiations does not necessarily mean acceptance of the pact.

The Social Democrats, who also hold 48 seats, were emphatic in their stand against a military tie. A similar position was taken by the Conservatives, 29 seats; Liberals, nine seats, and the Swedish People's Party, 15 seats.

Committee Will Meet

In opposing military aspects of the proposed pact, the Conservatives said such clauses "would signify joining a special group of powers and giving up our neutrality."

A Foreign Office official told a news conference no Cabinet session to consider the problem was scheduled tonight. He said the government's Foreign Affairs Committee would meet tomorrow.

The weather-beaten presidential palace overlooking the ice-choked Helsinki harbor was the scene today of great activity. The Agrarian, Conservative and Liberal delegations of Parliament paid formal calls on Paasikivi. Close advisers, including Foreign Minister Karl Enckell, also conferred with the President.

Informed Finnish sources speculated that a Finnish delegation to

The new metal is uranium 233, made by changing the heavy metal thorium into uranium. This new form of uranium does not exist naturally on earth. Neither is it known to exist in the stars.

Election Of U. S. Presidents By Popular Vote Is Proposed

House Group Okays Gossett Amendment

WASHINGTON, March 5: (AP)—Election of the President and Vice-President of the United States by popular vote was recommended today in the northern-southern Democratic civil rights fight.

A constitutional amendment which would radically change the present electoral college system was approved unanimously by a House Judiciary Subcommittee in a deliberately-aimed blow at minority influence on major party policies.

This amendment, if adopted, would have such far-reaching effects as reducing the "balance of power" influence claimed by the American Labor Party, which is backing Henry A. Wallace's presidential bid in New York State.

Rep. Gossett (D-Tex), author of the amendment, blamed the electoral college system for the present split between President Truman and southern Democrats bucking the President's proposal to lower some racial barriers.

Minorities Hold Balance

"The electoral college," Gossett said, "permits and invites irresponsible control and domination by small, organized minority groups within the large pivotal states."

These minorities, Gossett said, "by voting together can and do hold a balance of power." The result, he added, is that "the political strategists in both parties make special appeals to these various groups."

Southerners have charged that Mr. Truman took his civil rights stand in the hope of capturing one such minority group—the negroes in New York, Pennsylvania and several other northern states.

Minorities can wield great influence now because, if they hold the balance of power in a state, they can swing that state's entire electoral vote to the candidate of their choice.

Thus the negroes, by voting solidly for President Truman, could cause New York's entire 47 votes in the electoral college to be cast for him in a close election.

Proposal Would Split Votes

Under the proposed amendment, however, a state's electoral votes would be split up among the various candidates according to the popular vote each candidate ereceived. In that case the negroes, by their votes, could determine how only a few of New York's 47 electoral votes would be cast.

Gossett's amendment will be taken up next week by the 26-member Judiciary Committee, which includes four Democrats from the traditionally "solid South."

To Be adopted, it would require a two-thirds vote in each ouse. Then it would have to be ratified by 36 states. Even if Congress takes the necessary action, it is doubtful if enough states could ratify before next November's election.

Senators Clash Over Probable Results Of ERP

Hawkes Says Plan Won't Stop Reds

WASINGTON, March 5. (AP)—Republican senators clashed head-on over the aims and probable results of the Marshall plan today with tempers flaring toward the end of the session.

Sen. Hawkes (R-NJ) lighted the fuse by declaring "any sane man knows" the $5,300,000,000 program will fail to stop Communism, will depress this country's living standard and may lead to World War III.

His voice shaking with emotion, Hawkes said he lost a son in the last war. "I want my little grandson," he cried, "to know I didn't vote to sell the United States down the river."

Indignantly, Sen. Lodge (R-Mass), a World War II Army officer, said Hawkes had no right to question "the patriotism and sanity" of those backing the European recovery plan.

Lodge "Quarterbacks" Bill

"If this bill were to succeed 100 per cent," Lodge said, "you would see free trade all over Europe between the West and the East. It would mean that the iron curtain would have broken down.'

Lodge appeared as "quarterback" for the aid bill, defending it in a series of exchanges with half a dozen GOP senators. Only one or two Democrats were on the floor most of the time. They kept out of the argument.

Later, Sen. George (D-Ga) introduced two amendments designed, he said, to make clear just how farm products should be bought for shipment abroad.

One amendment would require that "established trade channels" be used as far as possible. The other says commodities must be procured when there is an exportable surplus of them.

Ball Proposal Doomed

A far-reaching amendment by Sen. Ball (R-Minn)—to set up a vetoless international agency to resist Communism — apparently was doomed. Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, joined Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich), of the Foreign Relations Committee, in opposing it.

Outside the Capitol, the Committee for the Marshall Plan held a meeting to step up its campaign for congressional approval of the program without long drawn-out debate.

Secretary of State Marshall, in an off-the-record talk, reportedly stressed the need for final action before the April elections in Italy, when many United States officials expect another Communist attempt to seize power.

Heiress Granted Divorce, Custody Of Two Children

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 5 (AP)—Giola Barker Grimditch, once gay heiress but now a crippled beauty, today was given sole custody of her two children and a divorce from her socialite husband.

Judge L. Mercer Johnson denied her request for $500 a month support, attorney fees and cost of hospital treatment for automobile accident injuries which left one leg shorter than the other.

William Grimditch, Jr., Philadelphia, who had charged his wife with unfaithfulness in an effort to gain custody of the children, was granted "reasonable visitation" privileges.

House Committee Sidesteps Civil Rights Proposal

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—A threat to use the power of the federal purse in the civil rights fight failed today.

The House Appropriations Committee brushed aside a proposal to hold back money from states that deny negroes equal job and educational opportunities, and approved $1,017,851,000 for the Labor Department and the Federal Security Agency.

A subcommittee recommended that upwards of $170,000,000 be withheld for hospital building and vocational education in such states. However, the full committee rejected this in a closed session on a vote reported as 25 to 6.

Also today, the House passed a $500,982,263 appropriation bill for the State, Commerce and Justice Departments and the federal judiciary. It now goes to the Senate.

The $1,017,851,000 in labor-security funds recommended by the committee for the year starting July 1 includes $112,445,750 in contract authority for which money must be voted later.

The $905,405,250 actual cash approved is $30,119,379 less than the amount President Truman asked. But the total is only about one per cent less than the same agencies received this year.

Here is what the committee recommended today for major activities financed in the $1,017,851,000 bill:

Department of Labor—$12,498,200, a cut of $4,102,100 from the President's request. In addition, $373,001 of current year funds were recalled.

Federal Security Agency—$239,788,500, a cut of $23,367,279. In addition, however, it recommended $112,445,750 in contract authorization.

National Labor Relations Board—$7,200,000, a cut of $2,200,000. The budget asked $9,400,000 for nine month's expenses, the committee voted $7,200,000 for eight months.

National Mediation Board—$862,550, the full amount asked.

Railroad Retirement Board — $642,416,000, the full amount asked.

Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service — $2,640,000, a cut of $450,000.

State—$197,217,463, a budget cut of $17,101,068; Justice—$116,330,700, a cut of $591,300; Commerce—$168,649,000, a cut of $68,194,500; Judiciary—$18,785,100, a cut of $968,300.

Magill Favors Tax Cut Of Four To Six Billions

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—A tax cut of $6,500,000,000 actually wouldn't take that much from the Treasury, Roswell Magill, former New Deal Treasury official, told the Senate Finance Committee today.

He said the loss in revenue would be lower than the House-approved six and a half billion figure because:

"People do not wrestle quite so hard to find the last dollar of lawful deductions. Evasion is less tempting. Collection becomes easier, less costly."

Magill, speaking in favor of a cut of from four to six billions, said Treasury surpluses for 1947 and 1948 top $16,400,000,000.

25 Warships Doomed

PEARL HARBOR, March 5 (AP)—Twenty-five warships, last of the Bikini atom bomb target fleet left anchored at Kwajalein, will be scuttled within the next six months, the Navy disclosed today. The ships are eight destroyers, nine transports and eight landing craft.

Guatemala Closes Border

GUATEMALA, Guatemala, March 5 (AP)—Guatemala closed its frontier with Belize (British Honduras) today and ordered troops to the border.

Gov. Alejandro Maldonado, of Peten Province, had advised the Guatemalan government he personally would investigate reports that 1,500 British troops with field guns were posted along the border.

USSR Satellites Are Denied Voice In Reich Policies

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—The United States bluntly rejected today a joint request from Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Poland that they be consulted on American policies in Germany.

The rejection was stated in identical notes sent by Undersecretary of State Lovett to the Polish, Yugoslav and Czechoslovak Embassies.

Russia had supported the request of the three satellite nations and copies of the note were also supplied to the Soviet Embassy.

The joint request was based on a resolution adopted by the Foreign Ministers of the three Eastern European governments at Prague February 18. In general this resolution denounced the policies of the United States, Britain and France in reconstructing Western Germany.

President, Back In Capital, Faces Major Aid Issue

Military Support Decision Awaited

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—President Truman returned to Washington today to face a decision of far-reaching import: Whether the United States should give military support to Western European countries fearful of Russia.

The President's first business on his return from vacation in the Carribbean and Florida was a session with his Cabinet at 4 p. m., EST. Whether the European situation was on the agenda was not stated.

But the problem for American policy makers may take precise form over the weekend if five Western European nations agree, as expected, on a mutual defense treaty and if they then raise the question of the United States joining in.

Red Move In Italy Expected

It is also expected to crop up in another and more urgent way soon in Italy, American officials now generally believe that Italy will be the target this spring of a Russian move to extend Communist power west of the "iron curtain."

The problem of military support for Western European countries has been discussed unofficially for months. An American military alliance to support the Marshall plan countries was proposed to Congress by Elder Statesman Bernard Baruch several weeks ago.

Consideration of the idea goes back in its present form to British Foreign Minister Bevin's proposal last January for a Western European union. However, the idea of an American commitment to protect the countries of such a union against German, Russian or any other aggression has been most enthusiastically considered since the Communist power-grab in Czechoslovakia.

Wedemeyer Urges Military Aid

Lt. General Albert C. Wedemeyer was expressing an opinion widely held among both military and civilian advisers of President Truman when he told the House Foreign Affairs Committee yesterday that this nation should back up its economic assistance to non-Communist countries with suitable military support.

In the case of European countries that is already being done for Greece and Turkey.

President Truman was on his vacation when the Czechoslovak crisis gave dramatic new importance, in the opinion of many of his advisers, to the question of American military commitments abroad. His return today assures an early opportunity for a discussion of the methods which might be used and a decision as to whether, in fact, any action along this line is necessary or practical in the weeks ahead.

CIO Fires Harry Bridges For Supporting Wallace

Taylor Suggests That Truman Be Consistent And Ask MacArthur And Wedemeyer To Resign

WASHINGTON, March 5—(AP)—The CIO fired Harry Bridges today and Sen. Taylor, of Idaho, suggested that President Truman fire Gens. MacArthur and Wedemeyer.

Foreign policy and third party politics were behind both developments.

Bridges lost his job as the CIO's Northern California regional director because he supported Henry A. Wallace for President and opposed the European recovery program. His stand was contrary to the CIO's.

Taylor, Wallace's running mate in the third party ticket, wrote Mr. Truman that the two generals in the Far East were urging "a foreign policy at variance with that of the administration." He noted they advocated military aid to China.

"Truman Policy" Cited

Mr. Truman fired Wallace as Secretary of Commerce in 1946, Taylor recalled, for publicly disagreeing with administration foreign policy. The Idaho senator added:

"In order that you may be consistent with the policy which you laid down in the case of Mr. Wallace, I suggest that resignations of Gen. MacArthur and Gen. Wedemeyer must also be requested."

Mr. Truman came back from his vacation today. Democratic Chairman McGrath is expected soon to give him a person-to-person account of the state of the party.

McGrath has had to do the listening to complaints from southern politicians on Mr. Truman's civil rights program. He has had, also, to survey the victory of a Wallace man in a New York congressional election.

Otherwise the day's political developments included:

New Carburetor Drives Tractors, Cars On Alcohol

OMAHA, March 5 (AP) — A new carburetor makes it possible to drive your car entirely on ethyl alcohol, the drinking kind of alcohol, instead of gasoline.

The carburetor, shown today to the National Farm Chemurgic Conference, has been used successfully in a tractor engine. And it could be put in passenger automobiles, said R. E. Davis, research engineer of Joseph E. Seagram and Sons, Louisville, Ky., distillers.

Alcohol is not cheap enough now to compete with gasoline as a fuel in the United States. But the carburetor is one of the new developments underway against a day of gasoline shortage or cheaper alcohol prices.

Czech Newspaper Reveals Army Is Undergoing Purge

PRAGUE, March 5—(AP)—The Social Democratic newspaper Pravo Lidu disclosed tonight the Czechoslovak army is undergoing a thorough purge.

Rudolf Slansky, secretary general of the Communist Party in this country and a founder of the Cominform, appeared to be in charge.

The disclosure was in a paragraph which said:

"Action committees are not going to intervene in the purge going on in the army. In case of intervention or doubt, action committees should apply directly to the Ministry of Defense and at the same time report to the chairman of the defense committee of Parliament, Slansky."

The action committees have been purging political parties, Parliament, industry, the police and cultural bodies.

The Communist government announced an increase in bread rations. Mrs. Ludmila Jankovcova, new food minister, said March rations would be raised 2.2 pounds and those for April 3.3 pounds. She said grain deliveries from Russia are satisfactory and that most bread will be of white flour.

Newspapers featured an interview given by Communist Premier Klement Gottwald in which he blamed the recent crisis on "ministers of reaction."

He asserted that Russia brought no pressure to force the "rebirth of the national front." Gottwald said foreign policy would not be changed except that "reactionaries" in foreign service would not throw dirt on the Czechoslovak republic.

Jan Masaryk, foreign minister and son of the country's first President, removed all doubt of his viewpoint. The controlled press reported a speech to army officers in which Masaryk said:

"I am one of you. You can count on me. We have entered a new phase of history. We must be grateful if Russia allows us to be at her side."

Christoffel Sentenced To Two-To-Six-Year Term

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP) — Harold Christoffel, Milwaukee labor leader who was convicted of perjury because he swore he was not a Communist, was given a two to six year prison sentence today. His lawyers said they would carry the case to the Supreme Court if necessary.

Christoffel was convicted by a federal district jury Wednesday on charges that he lied about his alleged Communist connections to the House Labor Committee last March.

Consultations Start Monday, U. S. Plan Loses

Test-For-Partition Paragraph Dropped

LAKE SUCCESS, March 5 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council late today rejected a United States proposal which would have committed the council now to all-out aid to partitioning Palestine.

Instead, the council voted to ask the big powers to consult and then say what instructions the council should give the United Nations Palestine Commission.

These instructions would bear on implementation of the United Nations Assembly's partition decision of last November 29.

Off the floor, Britain quickly declined to take part in the big power consultations.

That left it up to Russia, the United States, China and France. They will meet Monday in the Russian delegation's New York offices at the invitation of Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko.

The council acted after the Jewish Agency told it in effect that Palestine Jews were determined to go ahead with creation of a Jewish nation in Palestine—with or without United Nations help.

The resolution which the council finally approved by a vote of 5 to 0 bore little resemblance to the original United States proposal submitted last week by Chief United States Delegate Warren R. Austin.

Voting for the United States resolution, as finally amended, were the United States, China, France, Russia, Belgium, Canada, Colombia and the Soviet Ukraine. Britain, Argentina and Syria abstained.

Resolution Revised

During the day the United States resolution was revised sharply in an attempt to meet Soviet objections and then the council rejected three of its seven paragraphs. The rejected parts included the controversial "Paragraph 1" which Arabs claimed had destroyed was a test for partition.

The gist of this paragraph was that the council should accept the Assembly's request to take the necessary measures for implementation of partition and to declare that any effort to block partition by force constituted a threat to peace.

This was defeated. It received only five affirmative votes. Seven of the council's 11 votes were needed for approval. It was supported by the United States, Belgium, France, Russia and the Soviet Ukraine. No member voted against it but the six abstentions killed it.

The council gave the big powers 10 days to submit recommendations. Their talks will be private.

Reaction to the council's decision was mixed. A Jewish Agency spokesman said the agency considered the vote a victory for partition despite the refusal of the council to make a specific commitment for implementation.

Disagree On Effects

It was pointed out that the draft, as approved, contained a reference to implementation. It also was noted that the council defeated a provision which both Russia and the agency had contended would open up a possibility of Jewish-Arab conciliation attempts which might lead to confusion and delay.

One top United Nations official said the decision was "very good"

Haganah Reports 30 Arabs Killed In Battle

JERUSALEM, March 5 (AP)—The Jewish militia Haganah said today that Jewish fighters killed 30 Arabs and wounded many others in a four-hour battle last night on the plains of Sharon.

The battle developed in the coastal region between Tel Aviv and Haifa when the Jews repulsed Arabs attacking the settlement of Magdiel, Haganah's communique issued in Tel Aviv said.

Four Jews were wounded, Haganah reported. The Jewish force returned safely to its base.

Arab sources in Tel Aviv said Arab commando forces are concentrated in hill towns in the Sharon district, ready to strike when the order is given.

Probers Formally Denied Loyalty Files On Condon

WASHINGTON, March 5—(AP)—A new test of strength between Congress and the executive branch of government built up today in the Condon case.

The Commerce Department formally refused to turn over its loyalty files on Dr. Edward U. Condon to the House Committee on Un-American activities.

Rep. J. Parnell Thoman (R-NJ), chairman of the House committee, declared there is going to be a "showdown." He didn't specify when.

Three other Republican congressmen made speeches criticizing Secretary of Commerce Harriman for refusing to turn over the papers which the committee sought to subpoena.

Condon, director of the National Bureau of Standards, told reporters he certainly has no objection to the hearings which Thomas said will be held. In fact, Condon said, he asked for a hearing last July.

A subcommittee of the un-American affairs group charged last Monday that he had mingled "knowingly or unknowingly" with alleged Russian spies, and was one of the weakest links" in the nation's chain of atomic security. Condon commented that the country has nothing to worry about—he is thoroughly reliable.

It has been known since last night that the Commerce Department had no intention of turning over its loyalty board's investigation of the 46-year-old scientist.

Secretary of Commerce Harriman said it would be against the public interest to make such confidential information public. At the same time he assured the committee that the departmental loyalty board had decided unanimously February 24, that "no reasonable grounds" exist to doubt Condon's loyalty.

Bandits Terrorize Nurses, Escape With Pittsburgh Hospital Payroll

PITTSBURGH, March 5 (AP)—Two gun-wielding bandits who terrorized nurses and attendants by firing four shots fled with more than $15,000 in a payroll robbery today at Allegheny General Hospital.

The robbery occurred as Paymaster Robert R. Chalmers, 65, and Elizabeth Bruck, 25, a bookkeeper, were in the midst of paying employes in a basement room.

The bandits fled after firing four shots, two of them inside the imposing 22-story building. Patients in the modern 500-bed hospital in the city's North Side were unaware of the robbery and were not disturbed.

The bandits' auto, stolen earlier in the day, was abandoned near the hospital. Police Inspector Frank A. Ferris said $1,300 was found inside the car, along with an automatic pistol.

The exact total of the loot was not known immediately because the robbers took the receipts which were in the money box, Ferris said. Hospital authorities estimated about $14,000 still was missing.

Holdup At St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, March 5 (AP)—Three armed men wearing handkerchiefs over the lower part of their faces robbed the Bussman Manufacturing Company of $31,000 today. The robbery occurred just two minutes after the payroll money had been delivered in an armored truck.

The gunmen scooped the money from tables in the company's second-floor payroll room, where it was being sorted by seven women employes for distribution to workers.

One of the men forced a company telephone switchboard operator into a nearby wash room and jerked most of the plugs from the board. The other two went behind the switchboard into the payroll room and, working rapidly, placed the money into the bags in which it had been delivered.

Woman, 56, Hits $35,000 Radio Program Jackpot

HOLLYWOOD, March 5—(AP)—A grandmother who lives in a three-room house on a New Mexico Indian reservation won $35,000 worth of prizes today on the "Queen for a Day" radio program.

Mrs. Edgar Parrett, Shiprock, N. M., 56, took the news of her winnings calmly in the little one-telephone town north of Gallup, N. M.

All she had to do to win the prize was be a mother-in-law.

"I was hoping," she said, "but I really didn't expect to win."

She didn't hear the news herself because of unfavorable atmospheric conditions, but her daughter, Mrs. Jack Leonard, 31, Farmington, N. M., telephoned her a few minutes later.

Asked if she'd have room to stow the 42 prizes—many of them household furnishings—she said she didn't know.

"This is a lot bigger than anything I'm used to," she explained. She and her husband live at the Shiprock School for Navajo Indians, where he is in charge of a large Indian service farm. He's been in the service for 30 years. They have two grandchildren.

Radio's fabulous finger of fortune picked out Mrs. Parrett from 24 finalists. Her name was one of 2,000,000 submitted by listeners throughout the country.

The prizes—which Mutual Network officials said surpassed anything ever air-given—took three announcers four minutes to read.

They included a house full of electric and gas-operated appliances topped by a house freezer stuffed with food; an automobile and trailer; a compdete wardrobe, with a $1,000 Persian lamb coat; a diamond ring and watch; and a two-week trip to New York City, Vermont Mountains and Bermuda.

13 Feared Dead In River Mishap

GRENVILE, Miss., March 5 (AP)—The dangerous current of the swollen lower Mississippi River smashed the towboat Natchez against a bridge last night and 13 crewmen are dead or missing.

The 180-foot craft rolled over and sank at once, leaving only an oil slick.

Capt. William A. Howell, of the towboat Sohio-Latonia, saw the tragic end of the Natchez, and picked up nine of the 13 survivors.

He described the disaster as "by far the worst" in the 12 years he has been on the river.

"The current caught her and rolled her over," he said. "She went down in a minute.

"The men below—firemen, engineers—had no chance. The men picked up mostly were deck crew."

Two are known to be dead. They have been identified as William H. English, Cairo, Ill., and Oscar L. Powers, Osceola, Ark.

River men said the current at that point, swollen by high water, is the most dangerous between Memphis and the mouth of the Mississippi.

The Natchez' tow of three barges were scattered by the crash, but were picked up by other craft.

Among the missing is the master of the Natchez, Capt. John Browinski, St. Louis.

BALTIMORE, March 5 (AP)—A reported daylight kidnaping of a young man yesterday was dismissed as a hoax today by Police Commissioner Hamilton R. Atkinson.

Mihai And Anne Lack Pope's Dispensation

VATICAN CITY, March 5. (AP)—A source close to the Vatican said tonight the mothers of former King Mihai, of Romania, and Princess Anne, of Bourbon-Parma, had failed to receive dispensation from Pope Pius XII for the couple's marriage.

But just before he sailed from Southampton, Eng., for the United States today, the chubby Mihai, who renounced his abdication, said he would return soon to marry his pretty fiance.

"We hope to be married in Denmark and in the near future," Mihai said.

CIO Admits It Violated Labor Act Deliberately

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—The CIO admitted in court today it tried hard to violate the political spending ban in the Taft-Hartley Act. But it argued the provision is unconstitutional.

President Philip Murray and the CIO both were indicted by a federal grand jury for spending CIO money in a political campaign. It was a deliberate effort to test the spending ban.

Judge Ben Moore, lanky West Virginia jurist on special duty in the District of Columbia, heard lawyers for the Justice Department and the CIO tangle over the right of Congress "to abridge the freedom of speech and press."

Lewis Keeps Mine Owners Dangling

PITTSBURGH, March 5 (AP) — Coal operators today dangled in an uncomfortable fix designed for them by that old master of suspense—John L. Lewis.

There's more than a feeling through the coal fields that the United Mine Workers chieftain is cooking up something again. But the operators don't know the recipe, the heat in the oven or what the concoction will taste like when Lewis is ready to dish it up.

With his 400,000 soft coal diggers now busily at work in about 29 coal-producing states, under a contract which doesn't expire until June 30, Lewis already has given notice that he isn't happy about the reception his pension demands have met.

Operators are wondering if he plans to give the required 30 days notice and terminate his contract or whether he will wait until the pact expires and let the long standing policy of "no contract, no work" bring about a work stoppage.

Last year, four miner work stoppages cost the nation an estimated 18,000,000 tons. According to operators' figures, total production was 619,000,000 tons for the year, a peacetime record.

The end of February this year brought speculation that a contract termination notice from Lewis would roll in with the first of the month. None came and now operators wonder if it will arrive April 1. Other sources thought a termination notice would come at the end of a pay period, as April 3 or April 10.

They departed by air for New York after obtaining the license and did not announce a date for their wedding.

$6 Is Termed Average Md. Sales Tax Deduction

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 5 (AP)—The state's income tax division has decided that $6 per person would be a nice average deduction for Maryland residents to take for the two per cent sales tax they've paid.

In fact, the figure experts who go over state income tax returns may want some proof when they see deductions greater than $6.

Maryland citizens started paying the two per cent sales tax last July 1 on all purchases except food.

The income tax people have taken the total receipts from the tax in the last six months of 1947, divided the figure by Maryland's population, and have come up with the answer that it amounts to about $6 a head.

A married man can therefore get away with $12 worth of sales deduction on his return, and if he has any children he can add $6 apiece.

for partition; but some officials attached to the five-nation Palestine Partition Commission said it was a blow to the project for Jewish and Arab nations in Palestine by October 1.

The United States compromise moves were made by Austin in a rare give-and-take with Gromyko across the council table.

Austin acknowledged that he did not want to change the original United States resolution but said "I will do it in the interest of harmony."

At the morning session of a day-long debate Austin agreed to:

1. Drop a provision for creation of a big power committee and accept Russia's demand for "direct consultations" by major powers on an informal basis.

2. Write in a Soviet proposal that the Big Five must report back to the council within 10 to 15 days.

Judge Convicts Hatchet Slayer

BALTIMORE, March 5 (AP) — A 31-year-old baker's helper pleaded today he needed money to buy Christmas presents for his children so he hacked the friendly neighborhood grocer to death last December.

Judge Herman M. Moser convicted Howard Albert Fram of first degree murder for the slaying after hearing his story.

The jurist listened to evidence on Fram's mental state and announced he would decide next Wednesday whether to sentence him to death or give him life imprisonment.

Fram was charged with the slaying of George Lehr, 77-year-old grocer who operated a small neighborhood store and was a favorite of children and housewives. Even Fram called him "Pop."

Fram had been rooming nearby while working at a bakery, but he lost the job. His home is at Kensington, Md., near Washington, and he has two children.

"I used the money to buy Christmas presents for my children," Fram said in a written statement presented to the court.

"I only did it because I wanted the money for the children's presents."

His court-appointed attorney, Benjamin C. Howard, pleaded that Fram had worried, was under "emotional stress" because he needed the Christmas money.

Quartet Exhausted By Mountain Climb

NEW YORK, March 5. (INS)—The four members of the Gatti-Hallicrafters Expedition who climbed to the top of snow-capped, 19,780-foot Kilimanjaro, highest peak in British East Africa, were in a semi-exhausted condition tonight.

James Powers, International News Service reporter—one of the four—was so weakened physically by the ordeal he could say only a few words when contacted from New York by shortwave radio today.

"It as a difficult climb," Powers managed to say in a shaky voice, "From our base 6,000 feet up, it took us seven days to reach the top and get back down."

Powers' voice fell away and Radio Operator Bob Leo came on. "Powers is sick and had to leave for his tent," Leo reported.

Leo, it was learned, was the first of the four to reach the top. He signaled by binker flashlight to Powers and the other two, and they finally made it, too.

13 Feared Dead In River Mishap

GRENVILE, Miss., March 5 (AP)—The dangerous current of the swollen lower Mississippi River smashed the towboat Natchez against a bridge last night and 13 crewmen are dead or missing.

The 180-foot craft rolled over and sank at once, leaving only an oil slick.

Capt. William A. Howell, of the towboat Sohio-Latonia, saw the tragic end of the Natchez, and picked up nine of the 13 survivors.

He described the disaster as "by far the worst" in the 12 years he has been on the river.

"The current caught her and rolled her over," he said. "She went down in a minute.

"The men below—firemen, engineers—had no chance. The men picked up mostly were deck crew."

Two are known to be dead. They have been identified as William H. English, Cairo, Ill., and Oscar L. Powers, Osceola, Ark.

River men said the current at that point, swollen by high water, is the most dangerous between Memphis and the mouth of the Mississippi.

The Natchez' tow of three barges were scattered by the crash, but were picked up by other craft.

The Natchez, owned by the Federal Barge Lines, settled to the bottom a mile downstream.

Reported Kidnaping Dismissed As Hoax

BALTIMORE, March 5 (AP)—A reported daylight kidnaping of a young man yesterday was dismissed as a hoax today by Police Commissioner Hamilton R. Atkinson.

The commissioner said the alleged victim confessed to his father the staged kidnaping. The father informed police when he read of a widespread manhunt by police.

Hopley Gets Atom Post

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP) — Russell J. Hopley was named director today of a new civil defense planning unit designed to help protect America from mass destruction of atom bombs.

He was appointed by Defense Secretary Forrestal.

NEW YORK, March 5 (AP)—James A. Farley answered with a flat "no" tonight when asked if he would accept the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

Mihai And Anne Lack Pope's Dispensation

VATICAN CITY, March 5. (AP)—A source close to the Vatican said tonight the mothers of former King Mihai, of Romania, and Princess Anne, of Bourbon-Parma, had failed to receive dispensation from Pope Pius XII for the couple's marriage.

But just before he sailed from Southampton, Eng., for the United States today, the chubby Mihai, who renounced his abdication, said he would return soon to marry his pretty fiance.

"We hope to be married in Denmark and in the near future," Mihai said.

CIO Admits It Violated Labor Act Deliberately

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—The CIO admitted in court today it tried hard to violate the political spending ban in the Taft-Hartley Act. But it argued the provision is unconstitutional.

President Philip Murray and the CIO both were indicted by a federal grand jury for spending CIO money in a political campaign. It was a deliberate effort to test the spending ban.

Judge Ben Moore, lanky West Virginia jurist on special duty in the District of Columbia, heard lawyers for the Justice Department and the CIO tangle over the right of Congress "to abridge the freedom of speech and press."

Chief Surgeon Of W. Md. Railway Company Dies

BALTIMORE, March 5 (AP) — Dr. Frederick C. Warring, Sr., chief surgeon of the Western Maryland Railway Company, died yesterday in a sanitorium, where he had been a patient five weeks.

Dr. Warring had been associated with the railroad 37 years.

A native of Middletown, N. Y., he was graduated from the University of Maryland Medical School in 1907 and had made his home here since.

Lewis Keeps Mine Owners Dangling

PITTSBURGH, March 5 (AP) — Coal operators today dangled in an uncomfortable fix designed for them by that old master of suspense—John L. Lewis.

There's more than a feeling through the coal fields that the United Mine Workers chieftain is cooking up something again. But the operators don't know the recipe, the heat in the oven or what the concoction will taste like when Lewis is ready to dish it up.

With his 400,000 soft coal diggers now busily at work in about 29 coal-producing states, under a contract which doesn't expire until June 30, Lewis already has given notice that he isn't happy about the reception his pension demands have met.

Operators are wondering if he plans to give the required 30 days notice and terminate his contract or whether he will wait until the pact expires and let the long standing policy of "no contract, no work" bring about a work stoppage.

Last year, four miner work stoppages cost the nation an estimated 18,000,000 tons. According to operators' figures, total production was 619,000,000 tons for the year, a peacetime record.

The end of February this year brought speculation that a contract termination notice from Lewis would roll in with the first of the month. None came and now operators wonder if it will arrive April 1. Other sources thought a termination notice would come at the end of a pay period, as April 3 or April 10.

Author And Vandercook's Former Wife, Will Marry

CHICAGO, March 5. (AP)—John Gunther, author and lecturer, took out a marriage license today with Mrs. Jane Perry Vandercook, ex-wife of John W. Vandercook, radio commentator.

Gunther gave his age as 46 and his address as 530 Park Avenue, New York City. He and his first wife, Frances Fineman Gunther, were divorced in 1944.

Gunther's fiancee, 31, gave her address as 130 E. 66th Street, New York.

They departed by air for New York after obtaining the license and did not announce a date for their wedding.

$6 Is Termed Average Md. Sales Tax Deduction

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 5 (AP)—The state's income tax division has decided that $6 per person would be a nice average deduction for Maryland residents to take for the two per cent sales tax they've paid.

In fact, the figure experts who go over state income tax returns may want some proof when they see deductions greater than $6.

Maryland citizens started paying the two per cent sales tax last July 1 on all purchases except food.

The income tax people have taken the total receipts from the tax in the last six months of 1947, divided the figure by Maryland's population, and have come up with the answer that it amounts to about $6 a head.

A married man can therefore get away with $12 worth of sales deduction on his return, and if he has any children he can add $6 apiece.

The $6 figure is just a guide, the income tax people say.

for partition; but some officials attached to the five-nation Palestine Partition Commission said it was a blow to the project for Jewish and Arab nations in Palestine by October 1.

The United States compromise moves were made by Austin in a rare give-and-take with Gromyko across the council table.

Austin acknowledged that he did not want to change the original United States resolution but said "I will do it in the interest of harmony."

At the morning session of a day-long debate Austin agreed to:

1. Drop a provision for creation of a big power committee and accept Russia's demand for "direct consultations" by major powers on an informal basis.

2. Write in a Soviet proposal that the Big Five must report back to the council within 10 to 15 days.

dicted a vigorous campaign to induce the Republicans to nominate Gen. MacArthur as "the world's outstanding citizen." At Memphis, the Cotton Trade Journal said in an editorial that election of MacArthur would be a way out for southerners who don't want Mr. Truman again.

2. The Virginia House of Delegates adopted a resolution saying southern states "should be permitted to improve the relations between the races and remove discrimination in their own way."

15 Planes Sold To France

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP) — Fifteen surplus P-51 Army fighter planes have been sold to France. The State Department, announcing this today, said the sale price was $157,467 and the planes' original cost $787,335.

Judge Convicts Hatchet Slayer

BALTIMORE, March 5 (AP) — A 31-year-old baker's helper pleaded today he needed money to buy Christmas presents for his children so he hacked the friendly neighborhood grocer to death last December.

Judge Herman M. Moser convicted Howard Albert Fram of first degree murder for the slaying after hearing his story.

The jurist listened to evidence on Fram's mental state and announced he would decide next Wednesday whether to sentence him to death or give him life imprisonment.

Fram was charged with the slaying of George Lehr, 77-year-old grocer who operated a small neighborhood store and was a favorite of children and housewives. Even Fram called him "Pop."

Fram had been rooming nearby while working at a bakery, but he lost the job. His home is at Kensington, Md., near Washington, and he has two children.

"I used the money to buy Christmas presents for my children," Fram said in a written statement presented to the court.

"I only did it because I wanted the money for the children's presents."

His court-appointed attorney, Benjamin C. Howard, pleaded that Fram had worried, was under "emotional stress" because he needed the Christmas money.

Advice To The Lovelorn

17-Year-Old Girl Advised Not To Look Too Far In Future

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am 17 and in my last year of high school. I have kown a boy for two years and have been going steady with him for about five months. My parents have told me that they think very highly of him. He is a perfect gentleman with wonderful characteristics.

He has often told me that he hopes we may feel the same toward each other even after we graduate from school. My problem is, do you think I am too young to think of him as a prospect for the future?

"PAT."

Dear "Pat":

What I think is that you are looking rather unnecessarily far ahead in considering "prospects for the future."

If I were you, I would simply look upon this chap as a congenial friend with whom to have good times, and not let yourself get too serious about the friendship. At 17, it is much better for you to have a lot of friends and have good times with them all.

Difference of Belief

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am a girl of 22 and have been going with a young man of 25 for four years. My mother and his mother are very good friends and have been for some time, but my mother doesn't want me to marry him because he is not the same faith as I.

"LONELY."

Dear "Lonely":

While the fact that a young man and a girl are not of the same faith is not necessarily a barrier to their marriage, you must realize that there are difficult questions involved in such a marriage. Your mother is no doubt thinking of these difficulties when she says she doesn't want you to marry this young man.

If you can convince your mother that you and this chap have gone into these matters seriously enough to fully understand each other, and that you have been able to agree on certain basic things on which agreement would be imperative if you were to make your marriage work, it might be that her feelings would change. She probably feels now that you don't have any idea of the conflicts of thought you might be up against if you married someone whose ways of thinking were quite different from yours.

I suggest that you and your young man talk everything over and figure out just how you might reconcile your differences of belief; then ask your mother to discuss the matter with you.

Voting Machines Are Still Drawing Support

It is a little early in the year to start talking about something that voters in Allegany county will not be called upon to decide until next November 2, but we feel we should call attention to the fact that more and more endorsements of voting machines are being voiced.

The Maryland General Assembly, during its last regular session, enacted a bill authorizing the Allegany County Commissioners to purchase and put in operation voting machines. With that measure an enabling act was passed providing means and methods of financing the undertaking. It was our opinion then, and still is, that the county commissioners should have complied with that legislation.

Instead, petitions, calling for a referendum on the legislative directive to secure voting machines, were circulated at the behest of Commissioner Wilkinson, president of the board. Sufficient signers were secured, with the result that the entire matter has had to be delayed, to be placed before the citizens of the county in the November election.

Meanwhile numerous officials throughout the state have, from time to time, urged voting machines for various counties in Maryland, as a matter of economy to the taxpayers and for accuracy. And, only this week, the subject was again brought to focus when Senator Stromberg, head of the Legislative Council's Committee on Corrupt Practices and Elections, observed that his group would "certainly recommend" the use of voting machines throughout the state of Maryland.

William C. Walsh, former attorney general of Maryland, added, indirectly, perhaps, his endorsement of voting machines when, in a letter to Senator Stromberg's committee, he pointed out that in an election fifteen months ago nearly 5½ per cent of paper ballots were invalidated while only three-tenths of one per cent of voting machine-cast votes were lost. Mr. Walsh's comparison was made in a review of the recount of ballots cast in the disputed senatorial contest between Herbert R. O'Conor, and Col. D. John Markey.

Mr. Walsh has been active in politics for many years and he had had ample opportunities to observe the advantages of paper ballots over machine ballots. It has not been his habit to make snap judgement, or to issue statements, without first giving a subject matured thought, whether it be associated with legal problems or pertain to political matters. And, certainly he would not draw such a comparison on methods of conducting elections if he were not satisfied that one far overshadow the other in many respects.

Senator Stromberg and Mr. Walsh are Democrats, but that fact does not, in the least, make the voting machine issue a partisan matter. The adoption of them has been urged by Republicans, as well. It need only be recalled that chairmen of both the Republican and Democrat State Central Committees for Allegany county not only supported the passage of the voting machine legislation but urged the county commissioners, to no avail, of course, to adopt them.

It is a recognized fact that the use of voting machines can prove not only an economic move to the benefit of the taxpayers, but will speed results of an election and make more certain that a voter's ballot will not be invalidated. These are important facts for the citizens of the county to carry in their mind. They should go far in helping them reach the decision in favor of voting machines.

And Now Stalin's Vacuum Is Tugging At Little Finland

Our people feel a special friendliness toward the Finns for more reasons than the fact that "they paid their debts" after World War I. So the American public is probably more disturbed emotionally by Russia's demands on Finland than it was by the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia. The Finns put up a heroic if hopeless fight against Russian invaders in the winter war of 1939-40. After World War II the United States refusal to treat Finland as an enemy, even thought it had fought against Russia.

Russia presses against their entire eastern frontier, yet the Finns have shown a more independent spirit than the Czechs, and have elected a smaller proportion of Communists to parliament. In simple, undiplomatic language, the Finns are "our kind of people." Probably all Americans save Communists and fellow-travelers wish there were something we could do to save Finland from being gobbled up by the Soviet colossus.

Unhappily, there seems precious little we can do. Some hopeful writers stress the fact that Stalin's request for a "treaty of friendship and mutual assistance" was couched in polite language. But the Soviets are usually polite when they feel sure of their ground. By contrast, Czech Communist Premier Gottwald made brutal demands on President Benes. But Gottwald is a Czech, who carried out orders from the Kremlin.

Since the Finnish Communist party is weak, Stalin is making his own demands—"with deep respect." But he has a willing agent in President Jnho Paasikivi, the man who conducted Finland's peace talks at Moscow in 1940 and 1944 and who ordered anti-Russian candidates off the ballots in the election of 1945.

It would be a bitter pill to lovers of freedom all over the world for the Finns to be swallowed up by Stalin. We haven't any very definite suggestion, but it does seem tops in futility for the democracies to allow Europe to be absorbed into the Russian machine while they stand wringing their hands on the sidelines.

Good Morning

Because he deplored the general lack of human kindness, a New York man started on a recent morning to spread sweetness and light in his daily contacts. His first effort was in a department store. "Good morning," he said to the woman who came to wait on him. "And how are you this fine morning?" Instead of the pleasant smile he expected to receive in return, she said: "A hell of a lot of difference it makes to you how I am."

This may have been an unusual instance, but it illustrates the attitude of the American people toward each other. There still are signs of friendliness, but more often they are resented than welcomed. The person who makes a display of it is usually suspected of being drunk or a bit balmy.

The modern attitude is one of minding one's own business. Except in rare instances, he who deviates from it is rebuffed for his pains.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Eczema In Infants

Dr. Van Dellen

Infantile eczema is an allergic dermatitis that begins, as a rule, between the second and sixth months. In most instances the diet is at fault in that the child is sensitive to one or more foods. Heredity probably plays a role because one or both parents are often bothered with an allergy of some type.

The skin manifests its displeasure in various ways; red blotches may arise or small, elevated, pimplelike lesions. Tiny blisters containing a clear fluid are noted also. When these blebs rupture, liquid oozes from the surface; on drying, scales and crusts form. But the typical eruptions can rarely be seen because itching is intense and they are likely to be macerated through rubbing or scratching. This accentuates roughness, swelling, and scaliness. Crusts located over areas that wrinkle tend to crack and increase leakage. The disturbance usually begins on the cheeks or the outer sides of the lower legs. The wrists, arms, and neck are likewise favored. When severe, much of the body is involved.

Eczema demands more care than merely applying a tar salve or soothing lotion. Unless the cause is found, the disorder is likely to continue. Now and then the answer is found easily especially if the mother notices that a certain item always produces itching or aggravates the rash. The same can be said when the lesions appear after the use of a particular garment or whenever the youngster comes into contact with a dog, horse, or cat. But if no co-relation can be detected, skin tests must be done or an elimination diet instituted, to ascertain the offender.

During the first year of life the infant lives on breast or cow's milk, cereal, egg, green vegetables, potato, orange, and cod liver oil. One of these articles is unquestionably responsible and it is here that a test diet is most useful in tracking down the culprit. Menus of this type should contain simple dishes that are tolerated by most babies. If the rash disappears after this regimen is started, a new product is added and—if the lesions do not return in three or four days—another is included in the meals. In this way the guilty food is finally recognized.

The most frequent allergens are egg white, milk, and wheat and these substances should be considered first. Eczema is uncommon in breastfed babies but when it occurs, the mother's meals must be studied. If cow's milk is to blame, goat's milk or milk-free preparations may be substituted.

Children with severe eczema do better if hospitalized as they can be kept quiet, free from external irritation, and on a controlled diet. One of the most difficult problems is to prevent scratching and sometimes the arms and legs must be bandaged or tied. Other plans consist of placing a piece of cardboard around the elbows, mittens on the hands, or cellophane over the sheet to minimize friction created while moving in bed. Even if the hands or feet are tied the youngster can rub his face and head against the pillow and, to counteract this, some physicians cover the pillow with an X-ray film lubricated with mineral oil.

Sedatives are valuable in quieting the child and controlling irritation. Benadryl and pyribenzamine will relieve the itching that accompanies many types of allergy, including eczema.

Skin Blemish

W. B. writes: I have a growth similar to a star over my left eye and another under the right eye. It does not hurt. What would you suggest?

Reply

There are several types of growths that may appear in this area. Consequently, the diagnosis would have to be made by your physician, who can also indicate the best remedy.

Obesity and Pregnancy

Mrs. J. Writes: Is pregnancy more dangerous in a young woman who is 25 pounds overweight?

Reply

If you look about, you will see many plumpish women wheeling baby buggies. Other factors are more important than weight. Consult your physician for accurate information.

NUDE PATCH

M. F. writes: I awoke one morning to find a big bald spot on the front side of my scalp. What do you think it is?

REPLY

Probably alopecia areata. No one knows the cause of this disorder. The hair may return spontaneously. If not, your physician can prescribe a stimulating solution, vitamin B, or certain hormones if he thinks they are indicated.

THYROID

K. W. writes: I have heard of a new drug to cure thyroid trouble. Is it effective?

REPLY

You probably refer to propylthiouracil, which is being used in many cases of overactive thyroid. It is relatively safe and can be used over a long period of time, if administered carefully. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on thyroid disease.

EMOTHIONAL COUGH

Mrs. H. writes: Is there such a thing as a nervous cough? After an argument with my husband the other night, I was taken with a spasm of coughing and could not stop. I do not have a cold or other illness.

Reply

Yes. A psychic origin of cough should always be considered when no abnormality can be found in the respiratory passages.

Pan-American Airways Furnished Private Plane For Senator Brewster On Weekend Flights From Washington To Summer Home In Maine

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Memo to Senator Ferguson of Michigan:

You will recall that last summer serious charges were made against your Republican colleague, Senator Owen Brewster of Maine, by the West Coast airplane builder, Howard Hughes. Senator Brewster was accused of being a lobbyist for Pan American Airways and of using his high office for the commercial advantage of one airplane company.

Although these charges were publicly made and although Senator Brewster—at that time—said he welcomed an investigation, nothing has happened since. I understand that Senator Brewster since has informed the Justice Department that he did not wish to be investigated. However, in view of your own record for conducting impartial probes, and in view of the fact that you are courageously going after your Democratic colleague, Senator Thomas of Oklahoma, I feel sure that you will also wish to explore thoroughly the serious charges against a Republican.

Accordingly, I tender herewith certain evidence and the names of witnesses which I believe important in the case.

Interview Brewster's Housekeeper

I suggest that you interview Mrs. Ellen Jenny Brown, RFD 4, Dexter, Maine (telephone St. Albans 4 ring 13), who has served as Brewster's housekeeper for the past three summers. Mrs. Brown is a lady with a New England conscience who believes that Senators should live up to their oath of office. I am sure she will tell your committee the truth.

She will tell, among other things, how Brewster used to fly up to Dexter, Maine, almost every week end in a private airplane belonging to Pan-American Airways. The Brewster summer home in Maine was kept open from May 1 to November each year. And when Mrs. Brown first went to work for the Brewsters the Senator spent almost every week end at home.

He would be picked up by a private Pan American plane in Washington, and Mrs. Brown is in a position to testify regarding this because she used to answer the telephone when Sam Pryor, vice president of Pan American Airways, would call to say when the Senator would arrive. The calls usually came from Washington or Greenwich, Conn., the latter being Pryor's home.

The private plane never brought anyone except Brewster. It would circle the Brewster home before landing, which was the signal for Mrs. Brown to start preparing dinner. Once Pryor himself flew in with the Senator and stayed all night. Next day they flew to Moosehead Lake for five days' fishing.

The Senator also filled many speaking engagements and Mrs. Brown has the impression that he also flew to them in a private plane. When Charles Brewster, the Senator's son, returned from overseas in 1945, Brewster brought him to Dexter in a private Pan American plane.

When the Brewster-Hughes hearings were held in Washington last summer, the Brewster household was thrown into an uproar. Brewster immediately stopped flying Pan American planes, taking a train from Boston instead or else flying by Northeast Airlines to Bangor. Mrs. Brown was cautioned not to mention to a soul the Senator's past association with Pan American Airways.

Accepting Favors Unethical

As you know, Senator Ferguson, Congress some time ago passed a law making it illegal for railroads to give free passes to members of Congress. This was because so many favors were passed out to Congressmen by the railroads in the old days that it got to be a scandal. The Civil Aeronautics Board also has stringent rules against free trips on commercial airlines.

Therefore it would seem to any average citizen highly unethical for a U. S. Senator to be constantly accepting free airplane trips from one airline, especially when, at the very same time, he was trying to push a law through Congress benefitting that airline.

Violation Of Lobbying Law?

May I also point out that Sam Pryor of Pan American Airways has not been registered as a lobbyist and that his activities in connection with Senator Brewster would appear to be in violation of the lobbying law.

If you need further evidence, I suggest that you also contact Ernest Glueck, 24 Ormond Street, Rockville Center, L. I., whose nephew Stanley worked for Pan American in Washington from September, 1946, until September, 1947. Stanley told his family of seeing Brewster several times get into Pan American's private plane in Washington. At first Stanley was willing to testify, until his mother persuaded him not to. However, if you put him under subpoena he will doubtless tell the truth.

I also suggest that you check the flight records for Pan American Airways plane NC 4000, piloted by Capt. Alfred Uertoni of New York.

If those records have not been altered or destroyed they should tell an interesting story of trips carrying Senator Brewster, Robert Loyd, one of the secretaries for Pan American in New York, had charge of filling out these manifests.

Pan American also has a file of the inter-office memoranda in its special-service division regarding courtesies extended to public officials. These should be checked—especially two dated Dec. 3, 1946, and Dec. 8, 1946, in Miami. These pertain to Senator and Mrs. Brewster's trip to South America and clearly indicate the interest of Juan Trippe, president of Pan American, in the Brewster travels.

I also believe that Robert Thatch, former vice president of Pan American, could throw some interesting light on Pan Am's connection with Brewster; as well as Marshall Bannell, former public-relations expert for Pan American.

While I realize the Senate's reluctance to investigate one of its own members, nevertheless when such serious charges are made it would seem to be the Senate's duty to explore these charges thoroughly in order that public confidence in the good name of Congress may not be lessened.

Respectfully yours,
DREW PEARSON.

Events Almost Sensationally Bear Out Churchill Remarks

By MARK SULLIVAN

This is written on the eve of March 5th, and deals with that date. Only the year is not 1948, it is 1946. It is about the speech Winston Churchill made at Fulton, Missouri, exactly two years ago, with the events that have taken place since—and especially the events taking place this very day which almost sensationally bear out much that Churchill said.

For recalling the Churchill speech, an easy identification is the phrase he there uttered, "the iron curtain", now made memorable by millions of quotations that have carried it into the common tongue. And for recalling what Churchill described and forecast, to our then surprise and dismay the best beginning is to quote the passage in which Churchill used his history-making phrase:

"... An iron curtain has descended across the continent of Europe. Behind the line lie all the ancient states of Central and Western Europe ... All lie in the Soviet sphere and all are subject ... not only to Soviet influence but to a very high and increasing measure of control from Moscow ... The Communist Parties, which were very small in all these eastern states of Europe, have been raised to pre-eminence and power far beyond their numbers, and are seeking everywhere to obtain totalitarian control."

Surprise and Dismay

For the effect of surprise that Churchill's speech had upon us, one reason was that he described something which had taken place without our noticing it. Another reason, for both the surprise and the dismay, was that the actuality he pictured was so contrary to the ideal for which we had fought the war, the ideal of liberation and independence for all countries and peoples.

Our emotion went beyond surprise and dismay it included resentment. After Churchill had made his speech, as his train rolled eastward from Missouri, Time Magazine recorded a poignant scene: "... The old man read the papers that were brought him, his pink face lengthening, his blue eyes hardening at the angry editorial comment his speech had aroused."

For the unfavorable reaction to his speech, a reason given was his proposal for a "continuance of the intimate relationships" which during the war had existed between the British and American armed forces, amounting to a suggestion of permanent military cooperation. But neither that, nor even his suggestion of an ultimate "common citizenship" was the real reason for our resentful mood. Under ordinary circumstances, so far as we disapproved that, we would have laughed it off.

What really accounted for our resentment was the intrusion of Churchill's speech upon our comfortable feeling, common at the time, that we were going to cooperate with Soviet Russia, even appease her as much as might be necessary, to the end of peace in a unified world. That course was accepted by most of our people, was urged upon us by many spokesmen, was advocated as the proper policy of government—Henry Wallace was still in the cabinet and six months later was able to persuade President Truman to approve a speech by Wallace advocating a be-nice-to-Russia policy.

Disabused Easy-Going Comfort

That easy-going comfort, Churchill's speech disabused. He further intruded upon our comfort by calling attention to our responsibility, never a popular thing to do.

"The United States stands at this time at the pinnacle of the whole world. It is a solemn moment for the American democracy. With primacy in power is also joined an awe-inspiring accountability to the future. As you look around you, you must feel not only the sense of duty done but also feel anxiety lest you fall below the level of achievement."

Almost exactly a year after Churchill's speech, the sense of responsibility caught up with us and accountability was accepted, in the address of President Truman to Congress in March, 1947, in which he said we would give help to countries striving to keep their independence against aggression by totalitarian power, and specifically recommended aid to Greece and Turkey, then under acute pressure from Russian Communism.

On the second anniversary of Churchill's speech, the chief activity of our government, in the Administration and in Congress, is centered about defense of Western European nations against aggression by Russian Communism. It was epitomized in the report of the news last Wednesday, March 3, on the radio program "Three Star Extra." It is a nearing approach to what Mr. Felix Morley expressed as "a showdown between the United States and Soviet Russia.

Late Banker Played Major Role In Life Without Fanfare

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, March 5—When a man prominent in public life passes away, the eulogies on his service to the people are numerous. When a man dies who has served the public in a private capacity, modestly, without publicity and with a rare devotion to duty, there is unfortunately not the same recognition.

Gordon S. Rentschler, chairman of the board of the National City Bank, who died Wednesday, was known to relatively few Americans but he played a significant part in the economic life of America. Many an official of the Treasury Department here will recall the earnest service he rendered in his quiet way in determining the factors that often had to be analyzed before the government could float large issues of bonds.

Here was a man whose advice to government was always given with the deepest sincerity because he believed thoroughly that private finance and governmental operations were not incompatible and that the public interest could be served by an intelligent understanding of both.

Advice Blunt and Realistic

Here was a man, too, whose advice to private industry was blunt and realistic. Many an industrialist came to him to discuss problems of the day. He was a busy man but he gave of himself to others with a sustaining power that in the end broke down his health.

Here was a man, too, who won the lasting respect of his banking colleagues. Ever since he was made chairman of the clearing house in New York during the fateful days of the bank holiday in 1933, Gordon Rentschler rendered a service that will not be forgotten by those who worked with him.

Here was a man who almost never made a public speech, who never sought publicity of any kind, who never really sought applause from any quarter—a truly remarkable personality who differed so completely from men in public service that one wondered at times what was the incentive that kept him working so hard.

There is often discussion as to what are the rewards in business and finance. The general impression is that financial compensation is the goal and that the men who occupy responsible positions are thinking only in money terms. Gordon Rentschler never gave consideration to compensation for himself but thought a great deal about compensation for others.

Here was a man who never was too busy to worry about individual employees in his large organization and never so satisfied with his service to the shareholders of his institution as to stop at a given point and accept relaxation or a pause. He built up the National City Bank to be the largest bank in the largest city in the world. He was one of the few individuals in banking in recent years who came to the financial district from the industrial world. He knew the heavy-machinery business from his early years in a foundry in Hamilton, Ohio, his home. He knew the midwest and its industrial operations as few men in either industry or finance know it today.

Besides his hard work for a business institution, Gordon Rentschler gave long service to Princeton University, from which he was graduated and where he was a charter trustee. He served also as trustee for the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and was recently elected a trustee of the scientific foundation known as the Carnegie Institution of Washington.

Servant Of The People

There are no clippings that tell of his work for others. There are no brochures that describe his contributions to the many institutions that he served unselfishly and disinterestedly. Here was a man who lived a useful life—a life of benefit to others—and who worked so hard that at the age of 62 the tension under which he had labored broke him down. He was a casualty of many a midnight conference in banking and government circles when matters of high policy and tremendous responsibility were at stake. He departs as one of the unsung heroes of a great career—unknown to the public at large but a personality indelibly impressed on those who did know his character and integrity. He was a servant of the people as much as any man who served in public office.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S chances of election are supposed to be nil; therefore, the Democrats think in terms either of replacing him at the Convention as a capitulation to Henry Wallace or of letting the election go by default to make possible a party housecleaning.

Of course, it is too early to say that Truman's election chances are nil. All sorts of things can happen to pull him out of the doldrums. The Republicans are not too smart in their political manipulations and a world situation might arise to alter the atmosphere. The overconfidence of the Republicans may be helpful to the Democrats.

This much can be said: Truman misunderstood his role and lost his greatest advantage. To the public, he had never been a master mind. He was regarded as a gentle, friendly, kindly, decent citizen, utterly unprepared to take over the complicated mazes that Roosevelt had engineered over a 13-year period. The public was extraordinarily sympathetic; they liked the man and his family.

Truman should have set himself to complete Roosevelt's unfinished term and that's all. He should have called in the ablest men in the country, without regard to party, to provide a national government of the highest caliber to advise and guide him through that Roosevelt maze. Instead he surrounded himself with mediocre personal cronies who for ineptitude, misunderstanding and just plain, downright dumbness have been unequaled in American history.

Then he tried the Roosevelt trick, so ably described in Jim Farley's book, of balancing one element against another, one individual against another. It takes a Talleyrand or a Roosevelt to do that successfully. Mr. Truman lacks the cynicism, the natural capacity for falsehood, the joy of trickiness to be an adept at that art. He inevitably failed. The attempt to balance James Byrnes and Henry Wallace lost him both Byrnes and Wallace; the attempt to please the radicals of the Northern big cities and to hold the Southern Democrats in line smashed the New Deal amalgam which Roosevelt had so painstakingly built molecule upon molecule.

So Mr. Truman is left with few friends. The Left Wing of the New Deal is with Wallace; the Solid South is in a political fury. Only those Democrats who have no other place to go stand by Truman: they and the labor leaders who are distressed that the Taft-Hartley Bill is working so well. It is little enough to have left of the amalgam that gave Roosevelt four terms, and it ought to serve the Republicans well, if they made no mistakes.

But the Republicans are divided between men of principle and men of opportunity. And there is no gainsaying that the opportunists may not come out on top with a miserable "Me Too" campaign that might even elect Truman. "Me Too" has been a curse since 1932.

As it now stands, these are the Republican candidates: Taft, Dewey, Vandenberg, Martin, Stassen and MacArthur. Although the contest still remains between Taft and Dewey in a seew-saw of popularity among party leaders who are likely to be the delegates, the others are hard at work placing banana peels under the feet of each candidate. If all the ill-will engendered by Stassen's invasion of Ohio could work over into a general election, even Truman could defeat the Republicans.

This is a free country and anybody is free to attempt to become President of the United States. Never have the Republicans been so laden down with candidates, each of whom describes his opponents as impossible. They sort of cancel each other out. The MacArthur boom has taken on seriousness with startling suddenness, since the Hearst newspapers have come to his suppport. It is doubtful, however, that, with all his talents, General MacArthur can make the run from distant Tokyo.

For a convention is not an election. The people have nothing to say about a convention. It is a politician's paradise, where he can work as he chooses. For instance, New York State's delegation will be solidly for Dewey until Herbert Brownell releases the delegation, if ever. That means that this huge delegation will have no MacArthur votes—nor Staessen nor Vandenberg votes—unless Dewey wants it tat way—which he won't.

Dictionary Of Blessings

We keep a word dictionary on our desk, or study table, that we may refer to it for correct meanings and expressions. To the writer or speaker it is invaluable. Wouldn't it be a wonderful thing if we could but compile a Dictionary of Blessings!

In this Dictionary we could make note of all the blessings that accumulate each day of our lives, so that as the years accumulate we could keep adding until we had a good-sized volume. We would then be reminded of what a blessing is life itself, with all its experiences, for certainly our blessings far outnumber everything else, no matter what our station in life or circumstances.

With such a Dictionary before us, when the dark days would come, and discouragement should set in, we could turn the pages to certain dates or instances and be refreshed and inspired to "keep on a-keepin' on!" We can neither walk the street nor contact a single person without being reminded of blessings that we have that others do not have It's these blessings that count most of all, not our misfortunes. Our misfortunes are often messengers in disguise!

We in this western world do not fully realize how fortunate we are. First we have the blessing of freedom and free expansion of thought. Then we have the freedom of opportunity. The humblest may rise to a station of usefulness, of which he early only dreamed of attaining. That is one of the blessings of democracy.

If each day we should make note of our many blessings, imagine what a Dictionary of Blessings we would have! And what a reference book it would be. It would help to banish our useless complaints and ghostly regrets.

But to make this a Dictionary of Blessings we should define each of our blessings, and make comments upon them, so as to be impressed by them. Too many of our blessings pass unnoticed and unrecorded.

Voting Machines Are Still Drawing Support

It is a little early in the year to start talking about something that voters in Allegany county will not be called upon to decide until next November 2, but we feel we should call attention to the fact that more and more endorsements of voting machines are being voiced.

The Maryland General Assembly, during its last regular session, enacted a bill authorizing the Allegany County Commissioners to purchase and put in operation voting machines. With that measure an enabling act was passed providing means and methods of financing the undertaking. It was our opinion then, and still is, that the county commissioners should have complied with that legislation.

Instead, petitions, calling for a referendum on the legislative directive to secure voting machines, were circulated at the behest of Commissioner Wilkinson, president of the board. Sufficient signers were secured, with the result that the entire matter has had to be delayed, to be placed before the citizens of the county in the November election.

Meanwhile numerous officials throughout the state have, from time to time, urged voting machines for various counties in Maryland, as a matter of economy to the taxpayers and for accuracy. And, only this week, the subject was again brought to focus when Senator Stromberg, head of the Legislative Council's Committee on Corrupt Practices and Elections, observed that his group would "certainly recommend" the use of voting machines throughout the state of Maryland.

William C. Walsh, former attorney general of Maryland, added, indirectly, perhaps, his endorsement of voting machines when, in a letter to Senator Stromberg's committee, he pointed out that in an election fifteen months ago nearly 5½ per cent of paper ballots were invalidated while only three-tenths of one per cent of voting machine-cast votes were lost. Mr. Walsh's comparison was made in a review of the recount of ballots cast in the disputed senatorial contest between Herbert R. O'Conor, and Col. D. John Markey.

Mr. Walsh has been active in politics for many years and he had had ample opportunities to observe the advantages of paper ballots over machine ballots. It has not been his habit to make snap judgement, or to issue statements, without first giving a subject matured thought, whether it be associated with legal problems or pertain to political matters. And, certainly he would not draw such a comparison on methods of conducting elections if he were not satisfied that one far overshadow the other in many respects.

Senator Stromberg and Mr. Walsh are Democrats, but that fact does not, in the least, make the voting machine issue a partisan matter. The adoption of them has been urged by Republicans, as well. It need only be recalled that chairmen of both the Republican and Democrat State Central Committees for Allegany county not only supported the passage of the voting machine legislation but urged the county commissioners, to no avail, of course, to adopt them.

It is a recognized fact that the use of voting machines can prove not only an economic move to the benefit of the taxpayers, but will speed results of an election and make more certain that a voter's ballot will not be invalidated. These are important facts for the citizens of the county to carry in their mind. They should go far in helping them reach the decision in favor of voting machines.

And Now Stalin's Vacuum Is Tugging At Little Finland

Our people feel a special friendliness toward the Finns for more reasons than the fact that "they paid their debts" after World War I. So the American public is probably more disturbed emotionally by Russia's demands on Finland than it was by the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia. The Finns put up a heroic if hopeless fight against Russian invaders in the winter war of 1939-40. After World War II the United States refusal to treat Finland as an enemy, even thought it had fought against Russia.

Russia presses against their entire eastern frontier, yet the Finns have shown a more independent spirit than the Czechs, and have elected a smaller proportion of Communists to parliament. In simple, undiplomatic language, the Finns are "our kind of people." Probably all Americans save Communists and fellow-travelers wish there were something we could do to save Finland from being gobbled up by the Soviet colossus.

Unhappily, there seems precious little we can do. Some hopeful writers stress the fact that Stalin's request for a "treaty of friendship and mutual assistance" was couched in polite language. But the Soviets are usually polite when they feel sure of their ground. By contrast, Czech Communist Premier Gottwald made brutal demands on President Benes. But Gottwald is a Czech, who carried out orders from the Kremlin.

Since the Finnish Communist party is weak, Stalin is making his own demands—"with deep respect." But he has a willing agent in President Jnho Paasikivi, the man who conducted Finland's peace talks at Moscow in 1940 and 1944 and who ordered anti-Russian candidates off the ballots in the election of 1945.

It would be a bitter pill to lovers of freedom all over the world for the Finns to be swallowed up by Stalin. We haven't any very definite suggestion, but it does seem tops in futility for the democracies to allow Europe to be absorbed into the Russian machine while they stand wringing their hands on the sidelines.

Good Morning

Because he deplored the general lack of human kindness, a New York man started on a recent morning to spread sweetness and light in his daily contacts. His first effort was in a department store. "Good morning," he said to the woman who came to wait on him. "And how are you this fine morning?" Instead of the pleasant smile he expected to receive in return, she said: "A hell of a lot of difference it makes to you how I am."

This may have been an unusual instance, but it illustrates the attitude of the American people toward each other. There still are signs of friendliness, but more often they are resented than welcomed. The person who makes a display of it is usually suspected of being drunk or a bit balmy.

The modern attitude is one of minding one's own business. Except in rare instances, he who deviates from it is rebuffed for his pains.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Dr. Van Dellen

Infantile eczema is an allergic dermatitis that begins, as a rule, between the second and sixth months. In most instances the diet is at fault in that the child is sensitive to one or more foods. Heredity probably plays a role because one or both parents are often bothered with an allergy of some type.

The skin manifests its displeasure in various ways; red blotches may arise or small, elevated, pimplelike lesions. Tiny blisters containing a clear fluid are noted also. When these blebs rupture, liquid oozes from the surface; on drying, scales and crusts form. But the typical eruptions can rarely be seen because itching is intense and they are likely to be macerated through rubbing or scratching. This accentuates roughness, swelling, and scaliness. Crusts located over areas that wrinkle tend to crack and increase leakage. The disturbance usually begins on the cheeks or the outer sides of the lower legs. The wrists, arms, and neck are likewise favored. When severe, much of the body is involved.

Eczema demands more care than merely applying a tar salve or soothing lotion. Unless the cause is found, the disorder is likely to continue. Now and then the answer is found easily especially if the mother notices that a certain item always produces itching or aggravates the rash. The same can be said when the lesions appear after the use of a particular garment or whenever the youngster comes into contact with a dog, horse, or cat. But if no co-relation can be detected, skin tests must be done or an elimination diet instituted, to ascertain the offender.

During the first year of life the infant lives on breast or cow's milk, cereal, egg, green vegetables, potato, orange, and cod liver oil. One of these articles is unquestionably responsible and it is here that a test diet is most useful in tracking down the culprit. Menus of this type should contain simple dishes that are tolerated by most babies. If the rash disappears after this regimen is started, a new product is added and—if the lesions do not return in three or four days—another is included in the meals. In this way the guilty food is finally recognized.

The most frequent allergens are egg white, milk, and wheat and these substances should be considered first. Eczema is uncommon in breastfed babies but when it occurs, the mother's meals must be studied. If cow's milk is to blame, goat's milk or milk-free preparations may be substituted.

Children with severe eczema do better if hospitalized as they can be kept quiet, free from external irritation, and on a controlled diet. One of the most difficult problems is to prevent scratching and sometimes the arms and legs must be bandaged or tied. Other plans consist of placing a piece of cardboard around the elbows, mittens on the hands, or cellophane over the sheet to minimize friction created while moving in bed. Even if the hands or feet are tied the youngster can rub his face and head against the pillow and, to counteract this, some physicians cover the pillow with an X-ray film lubricated with mineral oil.

Sedatives are valuable in quieting the child and controlling irritation. Benadryl and pyribenzamine will relieve the itching that accompanies many types of allergy, including eczema.

Skin Blemish

W. B. writes: I have a growth similar to a star over my left eye and another under the right eye. It does not hurt. What would you suggest?

Reply

There are several types of growths that may appear in this area. Consequently, the diagnosis would have to be made by your physician, who can also indicate the best remedy.

Obesity and Pregnancy

Mrs. J. Writes: Is pregnancy more dangerous in a young woman who is 25 pounds overweight?

Reply

If you look about, you will see many plumpish women wheeling baby buggies. Other factors are more important than weight. Consult your physician for accurate information.

NUDE PATCH

M. F. writes: I awoke one morning to find a big bald spot on the front side of my scalp. What do you think it is?

REPLY

Probably alopecia areata. No one knows the cause of this disorder. The hair may return spontaneously. If not, your physician can prescribe a stimulating solution, vitamin B, or certain hormones if he thinks they are indicated.

THYROID

K. W. writes: I have heard of a new drug to cure thyroid trouble. Is it effective?

REPLY

You probably refer to propylthiouracil, which is being used in many cases of overactive thyroid. It is relatively safe and can be used over a long period of time, if administered carefully. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on thyroid disease.

EMOTHIONAL COUGH

Mrs. H. writes: Is there such a thing as a nervous cough? After an argument with my husband the other night, I was taken with a spasm of coughing and could not stop. I do not have a cold or other illness.

Reply

Yes. A psychic origin of cough should always be considered when no abnormality can be found in the respiratory passages.

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Memo to Senator Ferguson of Michigan:

You will recall that last summer serious charges were made against your Republican colleague, Senator Owen Brewster of Maine, by the West Coast airplane builder, Howard Hughes. Senator Brewster was accused of being a lobbyist for Pan American Airways and of using his high office for the commercial advantage of one airplane company.

Although these charges were publicly made and although Senator Brewster—at that time—said he welcomed an investigation, nothing has happened since. I understand that Senator Brewster since has informed the Justice Department that he did not wish to be investigated. However, in view of your own record for conducting impartial probes, and in view of the fact that you are courageously going after your Democratic colleague, Senator Thomas of Oklahoma, I feel sure that you will also wish to explore thoroughly the serious charges against a Republican.

Accordingly, I tender herewith certain evidence and the names of witnesses which I believe important in the case.

Interview Brewster's Housekeeper

I suggest that you interview Mrs. Ellen Jenny Brown, RFD 4, Dexter, Maine (telephone St. Albans 4 ring 13), who has served as Brewster's housekeeper for the past three summers. Mrs. Brown is a lady with a New England conscience who believes that Senators should live up to their oath of office. I am sure she will tell your committee the truth.

She will tell, among other things, how Brewster used to fly up to Dexter, Maine, almost every week end in a private airplane belonging to Pan-American Airways. The Brewster summer home in Maine was kept open from May 1 to November each year. And when Mrs. Brown first went to work for the Brewsters the Senator spent almost every week end at home.

He would be picked up by a private Pan American plane in Washington, and Mrs. Brown is in a position to testify regarding this because she used to answer the telephone when Sam Pryor, vice president of Pan American Airways, would call to say when the Senator would arrive. The calls usually came from Washington or Greenwich, Conn., the latter being Pryor's home.

The private plane never brought anyone except Brewster. It would circle the Brewster home before landing, which was the signal for Mrs. Brown to start preparing dinner. Once Pryor himself flew in with the Senator and stayed all night. Next day they flew to Moosehead Lake for five days' fishing.

The Senator also filled many speaking engagements and Mrs. Brown has the impression that he also flew to them in a private plane. When Charles Brewster, the Senator's son, returned from overseas in 1945, Brewster brought him to Dexter in a private Pan American plane.

When the Brewster-Hughes hearings were held in Washington last summer, the Brewster household was thrown into an uproar. Brewster immediately stopped flying Pan American planes, taking a train from Boston instead or else flying by Northeast Airlines to Bangor. Mrs. Brown was cautioned not to mention to a soul the Senator's past association with Pan American Airways.

Accepting Favors Unethical

As you know, Senator Ferguson, Congress some time ago passed a law making it illegal for railroads to give free passes to members of Congress. This was because so many favors were passed out to Congressmen by the railroads in the old days that it got to be a scandal. The Civil Aeronautics Board also has stringent rules against free trips on commercial airlines.

Therefore it would seem to any average citizen highly unethical for a U. S. Senator to be constantly accepting free airplane trips from one airline, especially when, at the very same time, he was trying to push a law through Congress benefitting that airline.

Violation Of Lobbying Law?

May I also point out that Sam Pryor of Pan American Airways has not been registered as a lobbyist and that his activities in connection with Senator Brewster would appear to be in violation of the lobbying law.

If you need further evidence, I suggest that you also contact Ernest Glueck, 24 Ormond Street, Rockville Center, L. I., whose nephew Stanley worked for Pan American in Washington from September, 1946, until September, 1947. Stanley told his family of seeing Brewster several times get into Pan American's private plane in Washington. At first Stanley was willing to testify, until his mother persuaded him not to. However, if you put him under subpoena he will doubtless tell the truth.

I also suggest that you check the flight records for Pan American Airways plane NC 4000, piloted by Capt. Alfred Uertoni of New York.

If those records have not been altered or destroyed they should tell an interesting story of trips carrying Senator Brewster, Robert Loyd, one of the secretaries for Pan American in New York, had charge of filling out these manifests.

Pan American also has a file of the inter-office memoranda in its special-service division regarding courtesies extended to public officials. These should be checked—especiallly two dated Dec. 3, 1946, and Dec. 8, 1946, in Miami. These pertain to Senator and Mrs. Brewster's trip to South America and clearly indicate the interest of Juan Trippe, president of Pan American, in the Brewster travels.

I also believe that Robert Thatch, former vice president of Pan American, could throw some interesting light on Pan Am's connection with Brewster; as well as Marshall Bannell, former public-relations expert for Pan American.

While I realize the Senate's reluctance to investigate one of its own members, nevertheless when such serious charges are made it would seem to be the Senate's duty to explore these charges thoroughly in order that public confidence in the good name of Congress may not be lessened.

Respectfully yours,
DREW PEARSON.

Events Almost Sensationally Bear Out Churchill Remarks

By MARK SULLIVAN

This is written on the eve of March 5th, and deals with that date. Only the year is not 1948, it is 1946. It is about the speech Winston Churchill made at Fulton, Missouri, exactly two years ago, with the events that have taken place since—and especially the events taking place this very day which almost sensationally bear out much that Churchill said.

For recalling the Churchill speech, an easy identification is the phrase he there uttered, "the iron curtain", now made memorable by millions of quotations that have carried it into the common tongue. And for recalling what Churchill described and forecast, to our then surprise and dismay the best beginning is to quote the passage in which Churchill used his history-making phrase:

"...An iron curtain has descended across the continent of Europe. Behind the line lie all the ancient states of Central and Western Europe . . . All lie in the Soviet sphere and all are subject . . . not only to Soviet influence but to a very high and increasing measure of control from Moscow . . . The Communist Parties, which were very small in all these eastern states of Europe, have been raised to pre-eminence and power far beyond their numbers, and are seeking everywhere to obtain totalitarian control."

Surprise and Dismay

For the effect of surprise that Churchill's speech had upon us, one reason was that he described something which had taken place without our noticing it. Another reason, for both the surprise and the dismay, was that the actuality he pictured was so contrary to the ideal for which we had fought the war, the ideal of liberation and independence for all countries and peoples.

Our emotion went beyond surprise and dismay it included resentment. After Churchill had made his speech, as his train rolled eastward from Missouri, Time Magazine recorded a poignant scene: ". . . The old man read the papers that were brought him, his pink face lengthening, his blue eyes hardening at the angry editorial comment his speech had aroused."

For the unfavorable reaction to his speech, a reason given was his proposal for a "continuance of the intimate relationships" which during the war had existed between the British and American armed forces, amounting to a suggestion of permanent military cooperation. But neither that, nor even his suggestion of an ultimate "common citizenship" was the real reason for our resentful mood. Under ordinary circumstances, so far as we disapproved that, we would have laughed it off.

What really accounted for our resentment was the intrusion of Churchill's speech upon our comfortable feeling, common at the time, that we were going to cooperate with Soviet Russia, even appease her as much as might be necessary, to the end of peace in a unified world. That course was accepted by most of our people, was urged upon us by many spokesmen, was advocated as the proper policy of government—Henry Wallace was still in the cabinet and six months later was able to persuade President Truman to approve a speech by Wallace advocating a be-nice-to-Russia policy.

Disabused Easy-Going Comfort

That easy-going comfort, Churchill's speech disabused. He further intruded upon our comfort by calling attention to our responsibility, never a popular thing to do.

"The United States stands at this time at the pinnacle of the whole world. It is a solemn moment for the American democracy. With primacy in power is also joined an awe-inspiring accountability to the future. As you look around you, you must feel not only the sense of duty done but also feel anxiety lest you fall below the level of achievement."

Almost exactly a year after Churchill's speech, the sense of responsibility caught up with us and accountability was accepted, in the address of President Truman to Congress in March, 1947, in which he said we would give help to countries striving to keep their independence against aggression by totalitarian power, and specifically recommended aid to Greece and Turkey, then under acute pressure from Russian Communism.

On the second anniversary of Churchill's speech, the chief activity of our government, in the Administration and in Congress, is centered about defense of Western European nations against aggression by Russian Communism. It was epitomized in the report of the news last Wednesday, March 3, on the radio program "Three Star Extra." It is a nearing approach to what Mr. Felix Morley expressed as "a showdown between the United States and Soviet Russia.

Late Banker Played Major Role In Life Without Fanfare

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, March 5—When a man prominent in public life passes away, the eulogies on his service to the people are numerous. When a man dies who has served the public in a private capacity, modestly, without publicity and with a rare devotion to duty, there is unfortunately not the same recognition.

Gordon S. Rentschler, chairman of the board of the National City Bank, who died Wednesday, was known to relatively few Americans but he played a significant part in the economic life of America. Many an official of the Treasury Department here will recall the earnest service he rendered in his quiet way in determining the factors that often had to be analyzed before the government could float large issues of bonds.

Here was a man whose advice to government was always given with the deepest sincerity because he believed thoroughly that private finance and governmental operations were not incompatible and that the public interest could be served by an intelligent understanding of both.

Advice Blunt and Realistic

Here was a man, too, whose advice to private industry was blunt and realistic. Many an industrialist came to him to discuss problems of the day. He was a busy man but he gave of himself to others with a sustaining power that in the end broke down his health.

Here was a man, too, who won the lasting respect of his banking colleagues. Ever since he was made chairman of the clearing house in New York during the fateful days of the bank holiday in 1933, Gordon Rentschler rendered a service that will not be forgotten by those who worked with him.

Here was a man who almost never made a public speech, who never sought publicity of any kind, who never really sought applause from any quarter—a truly remarkable personality who differed so completely from men in public service that one wondered at times what was the incentive that kept him working so hard.

There is often discussion as to what are the rewards in business and finance. The general impression is that financial compensation is the goal and that the men who occupy responsible positions are thinking only in money terms. Gordon Rentschler never gave consideration to compensation for himself but thought a great deal about compensation for others.

Here was a man who never was too busy to worry about individual employees in his large organization and never so satisfied with his service to the shareholders of his institution as to stop at a given point and accept relaxation or a pause. He built up the National City Bank to be the largest bank in the largest city in the world. He was one of the few individuals in banking in recent years who came to the financial district from the industrial world. He knew the heavy-machinery business from his early years in a foundry in Hamilton, Ohio, his home. He knew the midwest and its industrial operations as few men in either industry or finance know it today.

Besides his hard work for a business institution, Gordon Rentschler gave long service to Princeton University, from which he was graduated and where he was a charter trustee. He served also as trustee for the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and was recently elected a trustee of the scientific foundation known as the Carnegie Institution of Washington.

Servant Of The People

There are no clippings that tell of his work for others. There are no brochures that describe his contributions to the many institutions that he served unselfishly and disinterestedly. Here was a man who lived a useful life—a life of benefit to others—and who worked so hard that at the age of 62 the tension under which he had labored broke him down. He was a casualty of many a midnight conference in banking and government circles when matters of high policy and tremendous responsibility were at stake. He departs as one of the unsung heroes of a great career—unknown to the public at large but a personality indelibly impressed on those who did know his character and integrity. He was a servant of the people as much as any man who served in public office.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S chances of election are supposed to be nil; therefore, the Democrats think in terms either of replacing him at the Convention as a capitulation to Henry Wallace or of letting the election go by default to make possible a party housecleaning.

Of course, it is too early to say that Truman's election chances are nil. All sorts of things can happen to pull him out of the doldrums. The Republicans are not too smart in their political manipulations and a world situation might arise to alter the atmosphere. The overconfidence of the Republicans may be helpful to the Democrats.

This much can be said: Truman misunderstood his role and lost his greatest advantage. To the public, he had never been a master mind. He was regarded as a gentle, friendly, kindly, decent citizen, utterly unprepared to take over the complicated mazes that Roosevelt had engineered over a 13-year period. The public was extraordinarily sympathetic; they liked the man and his family.

Truman should have set himself to complete Roosevelt's unfinished term and that's all. He should have called in the ablest men in the country, without regard to party, to provide a national government of the highest caliber to advise and guide him through that Roosevelt maze. Instead he surrounded himself with mediocre personal cronies who for ineptitude, misunderstanding and just plain, downright dumbness have been unequaled in American history.

Then he tried the Roosevelt trick, so ably described in Jim Farley's book, of balancing one element against another, one individual against another. It takes a Talleyrand or a Roosevelt to do that successfully. Mr. Truman lacks the cynicism, the natural capacity for falsehood, the joy of trickiness to be an adept at that art. He inevitably failed. The attempt to balance James Byrnes and Henry Wallace lost him both Byrnes and Wallace; the attempt to please the radicals of the Northern big cities and to hold the Southern Democrats in line smashed the New Deal amalgam which Roosevelt had so painstakingly built molecule upon molecule.

So Mr. Truman is left with few friends. The Left Wing of the New Deal is with Wallace; the Solid South is in a political fury. Only those Democrats who have no other place to go stand by Truman: they and the labor leaders who are distressed that the Taft-Hartley Bill is working so well. It is little enough to have left of the amalgam that gave Roosevelt four terms, and it ought to serve the Republicans well, if they made no mistakes.

But the Republicans are divided between men of principle and men of opportunity. And there is no gainsaying that the opportunists may not come out on top with a miserable "Me Too" campaign that might even elect Truman. "Me Too" has been a curse since 1932.

As it now stands, these are the Republican candidates: Taft, Dewey, Vandenberg, Martin, Stassen and MacArthur. Although the contest still remains between Taft and Dewey in a seew-saw of popularity among party leaders who are likely to be the delegates, the others are hard at work placing banana peels under the feet of each candidate. If all the ill-will engendered by Stassen's invasion of Ohio could work over into a general election, even Truman could defeat the Republicans.

This is a free country and anybody is free to attempt to become President of the United States. Never have the Republicans been so laden down with candidates, each of whom describes his opponents as impossible. They sort of cancel each other out. The MacArthur boom has taken on seriousness with startling suddenness, since the Hearst newspapers have come to his suppport. It is doubtful, however, that, with all his talents, General MacArthur can make the run from distant Tokyo.

For a convention is not an election. The people have nothing to say about a convention. It is a politician's paradise, where he can work as he chooses. For instance, New York State's delegation will be solidly for Dewey until Herbert Brownell releases the delegation, if ever. That means that this huge delegation will have no MacArthur votes—nor Staessen nor Vandenberg votes—unless Dewey wants it tat way—which he won't.

Dictionary Of Blessings

We keep a word dictionary on our desk, or study table, that we may refer to it for correct meanings and expressions. To the writer or speaker it is invaluable. Wouldn't it be a wonderful thing if we could but compile a Dictionary of Blessings!

In this Dictionary we could make note of all the blessings that accumulate each day of our lives, so that as the years accumulate we could keep adding until we had a good-sized volume. We would then be reminded of what a blessing is life itself, with all its experiences, for certainly our blessings far outnumber everything else, no matter what our station in life or circumstances.

With such a Dictionary before us, when the dark days would come, and discouragement should set in, we could turn the pages to certain dates or instances and be refreshed and inspired to "keep on a-keepin' on!" We can neither walk the street nor contact a single person without being reminded of blessings that we have that others do not have. It's these blessings that count most of all, not our misfortunes. Our misfortunes are often messengers in disguise!

We in this western world do not fully realize how fortunate we are. First we have the blessing of freedom and free expansion of thought. Then we have the freedom of opportunity. The humblest may rise to a station of usefulness, of which he early only dreamed of attaining. That is one of the blessings of democracy.

If each day we should make note of our many blessings, imagine what a Dictionary of Blessings we would have! And what a reference book it would be. It would help to banish our useless complaints and ghostly regrets.

But to make this a Dictionary of Blessings we should define each of our blessings, and make comments upon them, so as to be impressed by them. Too many of our blessings pass unnoticed and unrecorded.

Editor:

As students of the seventh grade at Fort Hill High School, we are taking this means of expressing our attitude about the lack of a well balanced recreational program in our city. We are directing this letter and the following questions to all persons who are candidates for election for Mayor and City Councilmen at the Election to be held March 16. What are your plans to provide Cumberland with a planned recreational program?

While several of you have made statements of a general nature concerning this matter, we are more interested in specific problems, such as more and better equipment at Constitution Park and other centers, more playgrounds and recreation centers for the older people of Cumberland as well as for boys and girls; and the hiring of a full-time, well-paid director who will see that the equipment is used properly and that the playgrounds we now have are used to the greatest advantage.

For the past several weeks we have been studying a unit in our Social Studies classes entitled "Profiting Most From Leisure Time." During the course of this unit we saw the movie "Make the Most of Play Time" and were greatly impressed by what other forward looking towns, much smaller than Cumberland, have done in the field of recreation. In addition to the summer and winter sports, these communities have year around social centers where various constructive activities take place, such as the building of model airplanes, ships, and trains by the boys, and the homemaking and sewing clubs for the girls. For those who are interested in other affairs the cities sponsor libraries, museums, chess and checker clubs, orchestras, plays and other similar activities.

We are not foolish enough to believe that the above mentioned activities will be accomplished in just one year but will take many years. However, you can rest assured that we will take full advantage of "any" constructive action you may take concerning recreation in our city. We don't like to play in the streets any more than you like to see us playing there.

Sincerely yours,

Two Guard Companies Stand Army Inspection

Maj. Gerard Foster, Maj. Frank E. Garden and Maj. G. B. Hankins, of Second Army headquarters, Fort George G. Meade, completed inspections of two local National Guard units this week.

This was the first federal inspection here since the two companies were recognized December 12, 1946, under the new National Guard program. The two units, Headquarters Company and Company C, are part of the First Battalion, 115th Infantry, 29th Division.

Each unit is tested once each year for proficiency in training, administration and equipment, and a satisfactory or unsatisfactory rating is given. The local ratings will be received later from headquarters, it was indicated.

County Employes Get Group Insurance

A group insurance plan adopted to provide accident, sickness, hospitalization, surgical expenses and life insurance for county employes has been adopted with about 75 per cent of those eligible participating.

Charles N. Wilkinson, Jr., president of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, signed the policies yesterday, with the coverage effective immediately. Under the program each participating employe pays part of the cost and the county the balance.

The proposed group insurance plan was accepted by the county board at Tuesday's meeting, and in two days representatives of the Connecticut General Life Insurance Company signed practically every eligible county employe, they informed the board yesterday morning.

Harry G. Shupe, Frostburg, is the resident agent of the insurance company, while Harvey W. Redington, Baltimore, aided him as district group plan manager. The county employes will be covered by various sections of the policy as of yesterday.

Commissioners William H. Lemmert and James Holmes suggested that employes in the Clerk of Court and Register of Wills offices, who are not on the county payroll, be given an opportunity to join in the plan. Wilkinson agreed but said the employes in those offices would have to pay for the entire cost of their policies. This part of the program was left to the insurance company representatives to negotiate.

Smartly styled green leatherette headboards and white bedspreads and draperies with an ivy design combine to give this attractive bedroom a cool, fresh atmosphere for Spring and Summer. In the Fall, bedspreads and draperies of warm, Fall colors may replace these for variety and headboards may be slipcovered to match. Walls are done in a combination of solid green and green and white stripe. Chair and floor covering are copper colored.

County Orders Two Heavy Duty Trucks

A $10,957.36 bid of the Light and Decker Company for two heavy duty trucks was accepted yesterday by Allegany County Board of Commissioners. The trucks are to be delivered in 60 to 90 days, with the cost included in the next budget.

The equipment is to be used for road repair work, snow removal, etc. by the county roads department.

Other bids received were $14,753.16 from the Auto Car Company; $11,800 from the Raupach Garage for two Reo trucks, and $10,972.30 from the Steinla Motor Company for two Mack trucks. The latter bid did not meet the specifications called for by the commissioners.

A letter was also received from G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the State Roads Commission, asking the board to meet with members of the commission next Thursday at 11 a. m. at his office. The board accepted the invitation.

No information was available as to the nature of the conference with the State Roads Commission, but board members believe the session will be devoted to matters pertaining to the highways in Allegany county and several programs in which both bodies must cooperate.

Veterans Over 35 Have Trouble Finding Work

Maryland's unemployed veteran problem is reflecting most in the age bracket beyond 35, because of company policy not to hire men over 35 years of age, Grafton Lee Brown, state veterans' employment representative, said yesterday.

"Dozens of veterans have been turned down when they apply for positions, not because they lack ability, rather because of many companies' policies not to hire men over 35 years of age, Brown declared.

"That's a pretty bad picture," he continued, "and the veteran feels pretty sour about it."

There are over 1,052 unemployed veterans in the Cumberland area, according to Brown, who did not give a break-down of the age groups. However, he explained, the Savage River dam project, if and when it hits a peak in labor requirements, will aid greatly in solving the unemployment problem here.

Figures showing veterans seeking work (some of whom may be seeking merely to transfer) throughout the state follow:

Total state, 11,029; Baltimore City, 5,948; total counties, 5,031; Cumberland, 1,052; Frederick, 535; Hagerstown, 577; Oakland, 255; Cambridge, 658; Chestertown, 299; Easton, 124; Elkton, 302; Salisbury, 267; Annapolis, 92; Bel Air, 200; Hyattsville, 195; Silver Spring, 118; Towson, 233; Westminster, 174.

Guatemala, Central or Middle America, is mountainous, having many volcanic peaks, including Tajumulco, 12,821 feet, the highest in Central America.

Three Enlist In Marine Reserve

An Allegany High School student and two other area youths have enlisted in Company D, Fifth Infantry Battalion, Marine Corps Reserve, according to Capt. John T. Fey, commanding officer.

Richard Nelson Johnston, 409 Lehigh Street, signed for three years as a private. He is a student at Allegany.

Joseph Edward Rodeheaver, Route 3, Keyser, W. Va., a Merchant Marine veteran, signed as a private for two years.

Walter Francis Ayersman, Rowlesburg, W. Va., a Navy veteran, enlisted as a private first class for three years.

Editor:

As students of the seventh grade at Fort Hill High School, we are taking this means of expressing our attitude about the lack of a well balanced recreational program in our city. We are directing this letter and the following questions to all persons who are candidates for election for Mayor and City Councilmen at the Election to be held March 16. What are your plans to provide Cumberland with a planned recreational program?

While several of you have made statements of a general nature concerning this matter, we are more interested in specific problems, such as more and better equipment at Constitution Park and other centers, more playgrounds and recreation centers for the older people of Cumberland as well as for boys and girls; and the hiring of a full-time, well-paid director who will see that the equipment is used properly and that the playgrounds we now have are used to the greatest advantage.

For the past several weeks we have been studying a unit in our Social Studies classes entitled "Profiting Most From Leisure Time." During the course of this unit we saw the movie "Make the Most of Play Time" and were greatly impressed by what other forward looking towns, much smaller than Cumberland, have done in the field of recreation. In addition to the summer and winter sports, these communities have year around social centers where various constructive activities take place, such as the building of model airplanes, ships, and trains by the boys, and the homemaking and sewing clubs for the girls. For those who are interested in other affairs the cities sponsor libraries, museums, chess and checker clubs, orchestras, plays and other similar activities.

We are not foolish enough to believe that the above mentioned activities will be accomplished in just one year but will take many years. However, you can rest assured that we will take full advantage of "any" constructive action you may take concerning recreation in our city. We don't like to play in the streets any more than you like to see us playing there.

Sincerely yours,
Seventh grade sections

Two Guard Companies Stand Army Inspection

Maj. Gerard Foster, Maj. Frank E. Garden and Maj. G. B. Hankins, of Second Army headquarters, Fort George G. Meade, completed inspections of two local National Guard units this week.

This was the first federal inspection here since the two companies were recognized December 12, 1946, under the new National Guard program. The two units, Headquarters Company and Company C, are part of the First Battalion, 115th Infantry, 29th Division.

Each unit is tested once each year for proficiency in training, administration and equipment, and a satisfactory or unsatisfactory rating is given. The local ratings will be received later from headquarters, it was indicated.

County Employes Get Group Insurance

A group insurance plan adopted to provide accident, sickness, hospitalization, surgical expenses and life insurance for county employes has been adopted with about 75 per cent of those eligible participating.

Charles N. Wilkinson, Jr., president of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, signed the policies yesterday, with the coverage effective immediately. Under the program each participating employe pays part of the cost and the county the balance.

The proposed group insurance plan was accepted by the county board at Tuesday's meeting, and in two days representatives of the Connecticut General Life Insurance Company signed practically every eligible county employe, they informed the board yesterday morning.

Harry G. Shupe, Frostburg, is the resident agent of the insurance company, while Harvey W. Redington, Baltimore, aided him as district group plan manager. The county employes will be covered by various sections of the policy as of yesterday.

Commissioners William H. Lemmert and James Holmes suggested that employes in the Clerk of Court and Register of Wills offices, who are not on the county payroll, be given an opportunity to join in the plan. Wilkinson agreed but said the employes in those offices would have to pay for the entire cost of their policies. This part of the program was left to the insurance company representatives to negotiate.

Design For Spring

Smartly styled green leatherette headboards and white bedspreads and draperies with an ivy design combine to give this attractive bedroom a cool, fresh atmosphere for Spring and Summer. In the Fall, bedspreads and draperies of warm, Fall colors may replace these for variety and headboards may be slipcovered to match. Walls are done in a combination of solid green and green and white stripe. Chair and floor covering are copper colored.

County Orders Two Heavy Duty Trucks

A $10,957.36 bid of the Light and Decker Company for two heavy duty trucks was accepted yesterday by Allegany County Board of Commissioners. The trucks are to be delivered in 60 to 90 days, with the cost included in the next budget.

The equipment is to be used for road repair work, snow removal, etc. by the county roads department.

Other bids received were $14,753.16 from the Auto Car Company; $11,800 from the Raupach Garage for two Reo trucks, and $10,972.30 from the Steinla Motor Company for two Mack trucks. The latter bid did not meet the specifications called for by the commissioners.

A letter was also received from G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the State Roads Commission, asking the board to meet with members of the commission next Thursday at 11 a. m. at his office. The board accepted the invitation.

No information was available as to the nature of the conference with the State Roads Commission, but board members believe the session will be devoted to matters pertaining to the highways in Allegany county and several programs in which both bodies must cooperate.

Frost is more likely to ocur on clear nights than on cloudy ones because clouds blanket the earth like a quilt on a sleeping person, preventing loss of heat by radiation. Clear air allows the earth to re-radiate the heat which it has stored during the day.

Go to Church this Sunday, your Church, any Church, but go!

What a strange world! This little boy sees only a warped image when he views the globe through ill-fitting glasses. His world is out of focus. To correct this faulty view, he must remove the spectacles.

Many children today are getting a confused picture of life. Their spiritual vision is impaired by human frailties. Their companions and their environment are too often a bad influence. The world about them is not always a clear, lovely sight.

To strengthen their outlook, children must have the benefit of spiritual training. They must be allowed to look upon a more beautiful way of living—and then be encouraged to better their activities and habits. It is the Church which helps give them clean, clear vision of a truly successful Christian life.

Bring the children of your family and your community to church school and church —and bring the world into proper focus for them.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Go to Church this Sunday, your Church, any Church, but go!

What a strange world! This little boy sees only a warped image when he views the globe through ill-fitting glasses. His world is out of focus. To correct this faulty view, he must remove the spectacles.

Many children today are getting a confused picture of life. Their spiritual vision is impaired by human frailties. Their companions and their environment are too often a bad influence. The world about them is not always a clear, lovely sight.

To strengthen their outlook, children must have the benefit of spiritual training. They must be allowed to look upon a more beautiful way of living—and then be encouraged to better their activities and habits. It is the Church which helps give them clean, clear vision of a truly successful Christian life.

Bring the children of your family and your community to church school and church —and bring the world into proper focus for them.

The fact that Sammy Angott, former lightweight champion of the world, is scheduled to fight here on March 15, recalls the days when other noted gladiators of the prize ring either fought in Cumberland or came here in the role of referees.

Sammy Angott

Before Harry Greb became middleweight champion of the world he boxed Fay Keiser here in 1915 and 1916. Keiser was given a shot at Greb's 160-pound crown in Baltimore, March 24, 1924, and the "Human Windmill" stopped Fay in the 12th round.

The second of the champions of yesteryear to fight here was Jack Britton who met Jack Perry of Pittsburgh at South Park (now Taylor Field) June 26, 1919, three months after the New Yorker had won the welterweight title from Ted Lewis, the fighter, not the band leader.

The Ohioan met Johnny Wilson of Boston for the title at Cleveland in 1921. The New Englander was awarded the bout on a foul in the seventh round. A singular situation then arose, for the members of the Cleveland Boxing Commission refused to abide by the referee's verdict, claiming that Wilson had lost by a knockout. The press, however, did not support the stand taken by the commission.

Ken Overlin stopped Joe "Butch" Lynch in the 8th round here March 15, 1940, and was recognized as the middleweight champion on May 23 when he whipped Ceferino Garcia in New York City.

Jack Dempsey, the ex-heavyweight champion, the late Benny Leonard, lightweight crown wearer and Jess Willard, the heavy champ, who preceded Dempsey to the throne have appeared in Cumberland. Dempsey and Leonard refereed bouts while Willard came here with the Sells Floto circus with his boxing act.

It was the Willard - Dempsey championship fight that Cumberland almost had "in the bag" until the governor of Maryland put the kibosh on the affair and Toledo, Ohio, took the match right out of John W. Snyder's lap in 1919. Dempsey belted out Jess in three heats to annex the championship.

And tossing in a few near champions of their day we might mention Willie Davies, Charleroi flyweight, and Tommy Ryan, the McKeesport bantam, both of whom fought here.

And we can't forget that Patsy Perroni, of Youngstown, Ohio, who whipped "Chuck" Burns here as a middleweight, later became one of the few heavyweights to go the limit with Joe Louis. He was outpointed by the Brown Bomber in Detroit.

Angott's record shows that he has held his own with such great fighters as "Sugar" Ray Robinson and "Ike" Williams, current champions; Beau Jack, Bob Montgomery and Fritzie Zivic, past champions.

Sammy decisioned the late Tommy Spiegel, the Uniontown battler with the stiff leg, in a bitter 10-round fight which "Vic" Ricker staged here in about 1935.

Angott's opponent here March 15 will be Rudy Zadell, Akron 140-pounder, who recently returned from a successful boxing tour of South Africa.

During the excitement following Fort Hill's victory over Allegany Wednesday night, Major John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh came near going down for the count when one of his players asked:

"Say coach, when do we start baseball practice?"

The major is a very happy man now. And his brother Joe should be too because he lives on Merry Street in Waterbury, Conn.

Fort Hill has been taking the city boys like Grant took Richmond. If it isn't one of Prof. Will Hahn's teams knocking some one for a loop it's a Cavanaugh-coached outfit slapping some one in the pan.

Hahn's thinclads started the rout last spring in track and field. Cavanaugh's team did the damage with baseball bats. Then Hahn bobbed up in the fall with a gridiron juggernaut and you know what happened Wednesday night at Joe Becker's reception hall on Fayette Street.

"Vic" May, the ex-LaSalle and Cumberland Caseys basketball ace, who officiated at the city playoff game, told us that he's putting away his whistle for keeps after this season.

May was one of the best 40-minute basketball players ever developed here. In fact, he was such a willing workhorse on the court over a stretch of seven seasons that he was aptly dubbed the "Bounding Billow of Basketball" by the late Jack Gallen, well known local sports writer.

Elwood May, strikeout artist of Moorefield's American Legion team, champions of the 1947 Interstate League, will report to Vero Beach, Fla., next Tuesday, for training with a "farm" team of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Here's wishing the popular Hardy county farm boy the best of luck.

The Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce is planning to sponsor a soap box derby here this year and the winner will be sent to Akron, Ohio, for the national event with all expenses paid.

Art Garbark is reported to have the inside track on the baseball coaching job at LaSalle High School.

Garbark is the elevator man who manages the local American Legion team in the Interstate League.

Brother Declan, now a member of the faculty at St. John's High School, Washington, D. C., handled the baseball reins at LaSalle last season when the Explorers won the Tri-State League championship.

Elk Garden Tops Romney, Ridgeley Defeats Keyser

Victors Meet Tonight In Finale At Keyser

KEYSER, W. Va., March 5 — Ridgeley High School's Blackhawks and Elk Garden High School's Elks became finalists in the Potomac State sectional basketball tournament tonight and earned the right to battle it out Saturday night at 8 o'clock for a spot in the Region No. 4 tournament here next week.

Coach Paul Kalbaugh's Elk Garden quint ran over Romney in the opening game of the semi-finals, 42-24, while Coach Jesse Riggleman's Ridgeley aggregation turned back Keyser High in 40-37 thriller.

In the opening game Romney led for a minute on a field goal by Bob Sirk but Elk Garden came back to reel off six consecutive points and was never headed. Elk Garden led at the quarter, 10-7, and at the half, 17-12, then turned on the steam to bury the Vikings in third stanza, 31-15.

The Elks' set shot artists, Murphy, Brinkman and Deshong accounted for 31 points.

Ridgeley started off in a business-like manner in the nightcap by chalking up the first five points but Keyser came back before the quarter ended to tie the score at 7-7 on Fazenbaker's foul goal.

In the second heat Lee put Keyser in front at 8-7 with a foul goal and after Bill Brehany connected for a fielder Tyler tied it up at 9-9 with a free throw. Brehany's pivot shot broke the tie and Ridgeley stayed on top the rest of the game. The score was 19-12 at the half and 31-23 at the end of the third heat.

With Ridgeley leading 39-32 Tyler and Lee tossed in goals to narrow the margin to three points. Foul goals by Mike Lehman and Lee concluded the scoring.

Brehany and Paul Lindsay paced the Hawks with 15 and 12 points while Marvin Lee collected 14 for Keyser. Nelson was ejected on personal fouls.

Tomorrow night's consolation game between Keyser and Romney is set for 6:45. After tournament awards are presented Potomac State will wind-up its conference campaign by playing Concord College. Lineups:

Hogan And Demaret Favored In Tourney

MIAMI, Fla., March 5 (AP) — A couple of "transplanted" Texans, Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret, are the big favorites as 32 of the world's top golf professionals prepare to tee off here tomorrow in the $10,000 Miami international four-ball tournament.

Hogan of Hershey, Pa., and Demaret of Ojai, Calif., have won the tournament the last two years. They are seeded No. 1 in the top bracket, and quoted at odds of 9-5.

The top of the lower bracket finds Bobby Locke of Johannesburg, South Africa, and Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill. On the bottom are Sammy Snead of Hot Springs, Va., and Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C. Both teams are ranked second to Hogan-Demaret and quoted at odds of 7-2.

Allegany Beats Westmont, 40-32

Jim Clingan's Foul Shooting Features

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., March 5 — Allegany High School of Cumberland won a hard-fought battle from Coach Carl Engh's Westmont High quintet tonight by the score of 40-32.

It marked the opening of a two-day visit of the Marylanders to Johnstown. Ferndale High will be host to Coach Walter L. Bowers' team Saturday night.

With the exception of the first period when the lead changed hands several times, Allegany was on top until the third quarter got under way when Johnny "Hula" Hipp banged in two fielders to knot the count at 21-21. Baskets by Bob Lookabaugh and Hipp tied the score again at 23-23. Westmont forged ahead when Hipp sank two free throws but Jim Clingan duplicated for AHS to knot the count at 25-25. Then Don Lilya's double-decker sent AHS ahead and the visitors stayed there.

The quarter scores were 12-9, 21-17 and 27-25 in Allegany's favor.

Strict officiating marked the game, a total of 41 personal fouls being plastered on the teams—20 on Westmont and 21 on the visitors. Lease was ejected on personals in the third period while Hipp and Lilya made exit in the last quarter.

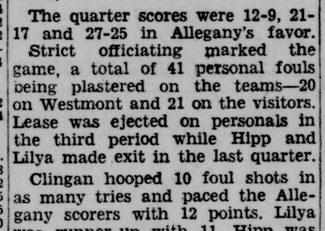

Clingan hooped 10 foul shots in as many tries and paced the Allegany scorers with 12 points. Lilya was runner-up with 11. Hipp was high man for Westmont with 19 points.

It was Allegany's 17th victory in 22 starts. Lineups:

TED COWTAILS PELLETT

SARASOTA, Fla., March 5—(AP)—Seconds after he told several visiting baseball writers "I'm not hitting a lick, never do in the spring," Ted Williams today lashed one of the longest drives ever seen here.

It was the first bal lthat the Red Sox slugger has knocked out of the park here since the club began its preseason drills.

Oldtimers among observers insisted the ball which disappeared over the center field fence some 425 feet distant "traveled as far, at least nearly as far," as one Babe Ruth cowtailed out of the park in Tampa in 1919. The Ruthian wallop often has been described as "the longest homer ever hit."

Williams then proceeded to clout two more over the right field wall and lined another into center which bounced over the 10 foot barrier.

Eddie Dyer Improves

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 5—(AP)—After spending the night in a hospital, Manager Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cardinals reported no ill effects today from an injury suffered when he was hit on the side of the head by a line drive in practice yesterday.

Dyer sat in the grandstand and watched two squad teams play the first practice game of the season. The Slaughters walloped the Moores 7-3 in five and one-half innings.

A field goal by Isabelle Turner 33 seconds before the final whistle gave Coach Agnes Howat's Beall High School sextet a 14 to 12 victory over Allegany High School at Campobello yesterday and clinched the WMI League chambpionship for Fort Hill High School.

The outcome of yesterday's game removed the possibility of a tie between AHS and Fort Hill for first place at the end of the campaign. If Allegany had beaten Beall yesterday and Central next week while Bruce was defeating Fort Hill the race would have ended in a tie between the two local schools.

Take Runner-Up Berth

Beall's triumph in its final game of the season in the five-team circuit moved the Frostburg team into the runner-up berth. Bruce, however, can finish in second place if victorious next week.

Fort Hill now holds the league and Allegany County Class "A" titles. Penn Avenue (now Fort Hill) won its first WMI League championship in 1934. This is the 23rd season for the circuit. Before the loop was revived this year the last titleholder was Allegany in 1942.

In yesterday's tilt Allegany held a 3-1 lead at the quarter and a 6-5 edge at the half but Beall forged to the front at the close of the third quarter only to have the Blue and White tie the score in the final stanza before Beall squeezed out a victory.

Howe Increases Lead

Betty Hanna paced the Frostburg scorers with nine points while Dolores Howe topped AHS with five tallies. Miss Howe is leading the individual scoring race with 82 points. Lois Cook of Central is second with 73 and Hann and Turner of Beall have 72 points each. Lineups:

Wheeling To Play Dukes Here Sunday

Altoona Win Tonight Will Settle Issue

Wheeling's Puritans will provide the opposition for the Cumberland Dukes in an All-American Basketball League game tomorrow night at 9 o'clock on SS. Peter and Paul court.

The Dukes have an outside chance of finishing in the playoffs and since the game is an important one to the local club it is expected to attract a large crowd to the west side gym.

Cumberland and Wheeling have met four times and the Puritans have been returned winners thrice by scores of 66-57 and 55-48 and 71-64. The Dukes' lone win was by the score of 62-56.

If Altoona loses two remaining games and Cumberland wins three, the Dukes will finish 4th with a percentage of .440 to .400 for Altoona. If Altoona loses two games Cumberland can tie the Pennsy team by winning two of three. If Altoona wins one or both of its games Cumberland will be eliminated.

And if Altoona defeats Columbus at Altoona tonight the race for fourth place will end.

TCU Coach Resigns

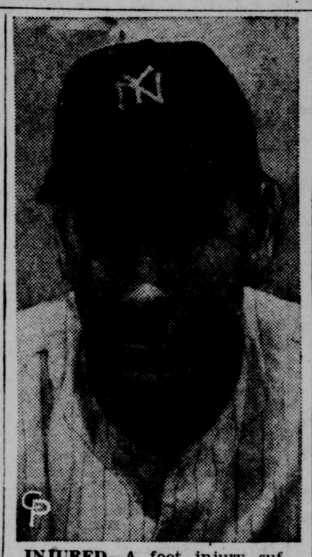

FORT WORTH, Tex., March 5 (AP) —Hub McQuillan, veteran cage coach at TCU, resigned Friday "for the best interest of the school" in a letter to Athletic Director Howard Gubbs. He said his plans for the future were indefinite.

DePaul, LaSalle Enter New York Cage Tournament

Eight Teams Include NYU, Bowling Green

NEW YORK, March 5—(AP)—The eight-team field for the National Invitation Basketball Tournament was completed today with acceptance from DePaul of Chicago, LaSalle of Philadelphia, Bowling Green of Ohio and New York University.

The tournament, sponsored by the Metropolitan Intercollegiate Basketball Association, will be held at Madison Square Garden, March 11, 13, 15 and 17 with two games scheduled each night.

Other teams which accepted invitations previously are North Carolina State, Texas, St. Louis and Western Kentucky.

The tournament winner automatically qualifies for one of the eight spots in the Olympic tryouts opening at the Garden March 27.

In announcing the final additions, tonight, Chairman Asa Bushnell of the selection committee said the pairings would be drawn Monday.

DePaul, which winds up its season against Loyola in Chicago tomorrow, has won 21 games and lost five. It defeated St. Louis, 52-42, in its last appearance.

Bowling Green won 27 of its 32 starts in a regular season already concluded. LaSalle wound up its campaign with a 19-3 record, including triumphs over Arkansas, Utah, Southern California and Pennsylvania.

New York University, whose selection was announced in advance of the other three earlier today, saw its hopes for a perfect season shattered by Notre Dame Monday night. The Irish downed the Violets, 64-59, for their only loss in 20 starts. NYU has two more games to play.

Inclusion of NYU in the invitation meet paved the way for Columbia to represent the second district in the Eastern Regional eliminations of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Columbia has dropped only one game in 19 appearances and has three more games on its schedule but is favored to repeat as Ivy League champion.

Holy Cross, Kentucky and Michigan already have been named to represent their respective divisions in the NCAA competition.

The Eastern and Western NCAA winners will go into the Olympic tryouts, along with the champion of the New York Invitation tourney, the winner of the NAIB tourney opening Monday in Kansas City, the National YMCA champion and the three top AAU quintets.

NEGRO BAN RESCINDED, MANHATTAN TO PLAY

NEW YORK, March 5 (INS) — Manhattan College agreed late today to play in the NAIB Basketball Tournament at Kansas City as a result of the action of tournament officials in voting to rescind a regulation preventing negroes from participating.

Manhattan, which has no negro players on its team, previously had withdrawn from the tourney on ethical grounds because of the ban.

F. D. Bittle, principal, responded, accepting the board and expressing gratitude that the citizens of the community are showing such interest in the school and its athletic program.

The club hopes to have a state athletic man at a future meeting to learn more about the state set-up on athletics for schools the size of Oakland, Mr. Dusic said. He said he hoped a full time athletic director could be had for the new high school so that all students could participate in some kind of an athletic program.

Champion Stops Challenger In Opening Round

Highly-Touted Negro Kayoed Second Time

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, March 5 (AP)—Light-heavyweight champion Gus Lesnevic handled Philadelphia Billy Fox like he owned him tonight knocking out the challenger in 1:58 of the first round before a jam-packed Madison Square Garden mob. Lesnevich weighed 175 to 172¼ for Fox.

Six straight right hands to Fox's head sent him down for a count of six after a minute of fighting. He barely wobbled to his feet as the champion from Cliffside Park, N. J., tugged at Referee Frank Fullam trying to get at him.

Fox Counted Out

Cagy Gus, now a two-fisted madman, surged over Fox and draped him across the bottom rope with another terrific right. Fox rolled to the canvas and was counted out for the second time in his life.

He had won his 50 previous fights, except for a kayo by Lesnevich, all by the knockout route. A ten-year difference in the age bracket proved no handicap to Lesnevich, who may now choose to mingle exclusively with the heavyweights. He has held the crown since 1941 but never looked better than tonight.

After a few seconds of slow sparding, Gus staggered Fox with a right to the jaw. The 22-year-old lad backed away and slipped in retreat, falling on all fours. There was no count and he was soon back up there, facing those bombs the champ was pegging.

Tus did Gus, who seems to get better with age, score a stunning kayo over the highly-touted challenger. Seldom has he earned an easier dollar.

A 1 to 2 favorite climbing through the ropes, Lesnevich sent the big crowd into a frenzied uproar with the fury of his attack. His fourth straight title defense was guaranteed a success from the moment of the first punch.

Melts Away Poundage

If the 175 pound king was weakened by this afternoon's weight-making ordeal he certainly did not show it. They had Gus in a side room down at the boxing commission, shadow boxing for several minutes in heavy overcoats to melt away four ounces.

When he finally made the beam balance at 175 he and his manager Joe Vella promised to make Fox pay for the extra work. They boasted that Gus would dump Billy in the lap of his manager, Blinky Palermo. He missed by only a few inches.

The sellout crowd was officially counted as 18,453 which paid $14,-519. It was the biggest crowd of the year and highest gross gate since the Louis-Walcott affair in December.

26 Beaver Trapped In Tucker County

Largest One Weighs About Sixty Pounds

PARSONS, March 5.—Wendell Swank, field technician of Elkins, Russell DeGarmo, chief game technician of Charleston; Paul Arthur, executive secretary for the Conservation Commission along with Fielding Kyer, conservation officer for Tucker County spent Thursday checking tagged and sealed beaver.

They report that only 26 beavers were trapped in Tucker County this year which is much lower than last year. The beaver were also much smaller than in previous years with only one large one. It has a 32x40 inch spread and weighed approximately sixty pounds, trapped by Glenn Harper of Davis.

During the open season from February 5 to the 16 Ben F. Thompson, Glenn Harper, John R. Harper, of Davis; Harper Kerns of Dry Fork; George Teter of Parsons each trapped three beaver; Paul Thompson of Davis, Estel Pifer, St. George, Fred Bowman of Davis each reported two; Hansel Mallow, Davis, John Barr, St. George; E. R. Fox, Dry Fork, Carl R. Conrad of Romney, Roscoe Beall of Davis each trapped one.

Several farmers in this county have large beaver dams on their farms and were given permits to trap the animals. The open season was for any hunter who could trap on farmers land with their written consent.

Cumberland Sees Champs

Sentinels Rule The Roost

May Going To Dodger Camp

Jaycees Will Stage Derby

By C. V. BURNS

The fact that Sammy Angott, former lightweight champion of the world, is scheduled to fight here on March 15, recalls the days when other noted gladiators of the prize ring either fought in Cumberland or came here in the role of referees.

Sammy Angott

Before Harry Greb became middleweight champion of the world he boxed Fay Keiser here in 1915 and 1916. Keiser was given a shot at Greb's 160-pound crown in Baltimore, March 24, 1924, and the "Human Windmill" stopped Fay in the 12th round.

The second of the champions of yesteryear to fight here was Jack Britton who met Jack Perry of Pittsburgh at South Park (now Taylor Field) June 26, 1919, three months after the New Yorker had won the welterweight title from Ted Lewis, the fighter, not the band leader.

The Ohioan met Johnny Wilson of Boston for the title at Cleveland in 1921. The New Englander was awarded the bout on a foul in the seventh round. A singular situation then arose, for the members of the Cleveland Boxing Commission refused to abide by the referee's verdict, claiming that Wilson had lost by a knockout. The press, however, did not support the stand taken by the commission.

Ken Overlin stopped Joe "Butch" Lynch in the 8th round here March 15, 1940, and was recognized as the middleweight champion on May 23 when he whipped Ceferino Garcia in New York City.

Jack Dempsey, the ex-heavyweight champion, the late Benny Leonard, lightweight crown wearer and Jess Willard, the heavy champ, who preceded Dempsey to the throne have appeared in Cumberland. Dempsey and Leonard refereed bouts while Willard came here with the Sells Floto circus with his boxing act.

It was the Willard - Dempsey championship fight that Cumberland almost had "in the bag" until the governor of Maryland put the kibosh on the affair and Toledo, Ohio, took the match right out of John W. Snyder's lap in 1919. Dempsey belted out Jess in three heats to annex the championship.

And tossing in a few near champions of their day we might mention Willie Davies, Charleroi flyweight, and Tommy Ryan, the McKeesport bantam, both of whom fought here.

And we can't forget that Patsy Perroni, of Youngstown, Ohio, who whipped "Chuck" Burns here as a middleweight, later became one of the few heavyweights to go the limit with Joe Louis. He was outpointed by the Brown Bomber in Detroit.

Angott's record shows that he has held his own with such great fighters as "Sugar" Ray Robinson and "Ike" Williams, current champions; Beau Jack, Bob Montgomery and Fritzie Zivic, past champions.

Sammy decisioned the late Tommy Spiegel, the Uniontown battler with the stiff leg, in a bitter 10-round fight which "Vic" Ricker staged here in about 1935.

Angott's opponent here March 15 will be Rudy Zadell, Akron 140-pounder, who recently returned from a successful boxing tour of South Africa.

During the excitement following Fort Hill's victory over Allegany Wednesday night, Major John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh came near going down for the count when one of his players asked:

"Say coach, when do we start baseball practice?"

The major is a very happy man now. And his brother Joe should be too because he lives on Merry Street in Waterbury, Conn.

Fort Hill has been taking the city boys like Grant took Richmond. If it isn't one of Prof. Will Hahn's teams knocking some one for a loop it's a Cavanaugh-coached outfit slapping some one in the pan.

Hahn's thinclads started the rout last spring in track and field. Cavanaugh's team did the damage with baseball bats. Then Hahn bobbed up in the fall with a gridiron juggernaut and you know what happened Wednesday night at Joe Becker's reception hall on Fayette Street.

"Vic" May, the ex-LaSalle and Cumberland Caseys basketball ace, who officiated at the city playoff game, told us that he's putting away his whistle for keeps after this season.

May was one of the best 40-minute basketball players ever developed here. In fact, he was such a willing workhorse on the court over a stretch of seven seasons that he was aptly dubbed the "Bounding Billow of Basketball" by the late Jack Gallen, well known local sports writer.

Elk Garden Tops Romney, Ridgeley Defeats Keyser

Victors Meet Tonight In Finale At Keyser

KEYSER, W. Va., March 5 — Ridgeley High School's Blackhawks and Elk Garden High School's Elks became finalists in the Potomac State sectional basketball tournament tonight and earned the right to battle it out Saturday night at 8 o'clock for a spot in the Region No. 4 tournament here next week.

Coach Paul Kalbaugh's Elk Garden quint ran over Romney in the opening game of the semi-finals, 42-24, while Coach Jesse Riggleman's Ridgeley aggregation turned back Keyser High in 40-37 thriller.

In the opening game Romney led for a minute on a field goal by Bob Sirk but Elk Garden came back to reel off six consecutive points and was never headed. Elk Garden led at the quarter, 10-7, and at the half, 17-12, then turned on the steam to bury the Vikings in third stanza, 31-15.

The Elks' set shot artists, Murphy, Brinkman and Deshong accounted for 31 points.

Ridgeley started off in a business-like manner in the nightcap by chalking up the first five points but Keyser came back before the quarter ended to tie the score at 7-7 on Fazenbaker's foul goal.

In the second heat Lee put Keyser in front at 8-7 with a foul goal and after Bill Brehany connected for a fielder Tyler tied it up at 9-9 with a free throw. Brehany's pivot shot broke the tie and Ridgeley stayed on top the rest of the game. The score was 19-12 at the half and 31-23 at the end of the third heat.

With Ridgeley leading 39-32 Tyler and Lee tossed in goals to narrow the margin to three points. Foul goals by Mike Lehman and Lee concluded the scoring.

Brehany and Paul Lindsay paced the Hawks with 15 and 12 points while Marvin Lee collected 14 for Keyser. Nelson was ejected on personal fouls.

TED COWTAILS PELLETT

SARASOTA, Fla., March 5—(AP)—Seconds after he told several visiting baseball writers "I'm not hitting a lick, never do in the spring," Ted Williams today lashed one of the longest drives ever seen here.

It was the first bal lthat the Red Sox slugger has knocked out of the park here since the club began its preseason drills.

Oldtimers among observers insisted the ball which disappeared over the center field fence some 425 feet distant "traveled as far, at least nearly as far," as one Babe Ruth cowtailed out of the park in Tampa in 1919. The Ruthian wallop often has been described as "the longest homer ever hit."

Williams then proceeded to clout two more over the right field wall and lined another into center which bounced over the 10 foot barrier.

Eddie Dyer Improves

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 5—(AP)—After spending the night in a hospital, Manager Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cardinals reported no ill effects today from an injury suffered when he was hit on the side of the head by a line drive in practice yesterday.

Dyer sat in the grandstand and watched two squad teams play the first practice game of the season. The Slaughters walloped the Moores 7-3 in five and one-half innings.

Hogan And Demaret Favored In Tourney

MIAMI, Fla., March 5 (AP) — A couple of "transplanted" Texans, Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret, are the big favorites as 32 of the world's top golf professionals prepare to tee off here tomorrow in the $10,000 Miami international four-ball tournament.

Hogan of Hershey, Pa., and Demaret of Ojai, Calif., have won the tournament the last two years. They are seeded No. 1 in the top bracket, and quoted at odds of 9-5.

The top of the lower bracket finds Bobby Locke of Johannesburg, South Africa, and Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill. On the bottom are Sammy Snead of Hot Springs, Va., and Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C. Both teams are ranked second to Hogan-Demaret and quoted at odds of 7-2.

Central at Allegany
(end of season)

A field goal by Isabelle Turner 33 seconds before the final whistle gave Coach Agnes Howat's Beall High School sextet a 14 to 12 victory over Allegany High School at Campobello yesterday and clinched the WMI League chambpionship for Fort Hill High School.

The outcome of yesterday's game removed the possibility of a tie between AHS and Fort Hill for first place at the end of the campaign. If Allegany had beaten Beall yesterday and Central next week while Bruce was defeating Fort Hill the race would have ended in a tie between the two local schools.

Take Runner-Up Berth

Beall's triumph in its final game of the season in the five-team circuit moved the Frostburg team into the runner-up berth. Bruce, however, can finish in second place if victorious next week.

Fort Hill now holds the league and Allegany County Class "A" titles. Penn Avenue (now Fort Hill) won its first WMI League championship in 1934. This is the 23rd season for the circuit. Before the loop was revived this year the last titleholder was Allegany in 1942.

In yesterday's tilt Allegany held a 3-1 lead at the quarter and a 6-5 edge at the half but Beall forged to the front at the close of the third quarter only to have the Blue and White tie the score in the final stanza before Beall squeezed out a victory.

Howe Increases Lead

Betty Hanna paced the Frostburg scorers with nine points while Dolores Howe topped AHS with five tallies. Miss Howe is leading the individual scoring race with 82 points. Lois Cook of Central is second with 73 and Hann and Turner of Beall have 72 points each. Lineups:

Wheeling To Play Dukes Here Sunday

Altoona Win Tonight Will Settle Issue

Wheeling's Puritans will provide the opposition for the Cumberland Dukes in an All-American Basketball League game tomorrow night at 9 o'clock on SS. Peter and Paul court.

The Dukes have an outside chance of finishing in the playoffs and since the game is an important one to the local club it is expected to attract a large crowd to the west side gym.

Cumberland and Wheeling have met four times and the Puritans have been returned winners thrice by scores of 66-57 and 55-48 and 71-64. The Dukes' lone win was by the score of 62-56.

If Altoona loses two remaining games and Cumberland wins three, the Dukes will finish 4th with a percentage of .440 to .400 for Altoona. If Altoona loses two games Cumberland can tie the Pennsy team by winning two of three. If Altoona wins one or both of its games Cumberland will be eliminated.

And if Altoona defeats Columbus at Altoona tonight the race for fourth place will end.

DePaul, LaSalle Enter New York Cage Tournament

Eight Teams Include NYU, Bowling Green

NEW YORK, March 5—(AP)—The eight-team field for the National Invitation Basketball Tournament was completed today with acceptance from DePaul of Chicago, LaSalle of Philadelphia, Bowling Green of Ohio and New York University.

The tournament, sponsored by the Metropolitan Intercollegiate Basketball Association, will be held at Madison Square Garden, March 11, 13, 15 and 17 with two games scheduled each night.

Other teams which accepted invitations previously are North Carolina State, Texas, St. Louis and Western Kentucky.

The tournament winner automatically qualifies for one of the eight spots in the Olympic tryouts opening at the Garden March 27.

In announcing the final additions, tonight, Chairman Asa Bushnell of the selection committee said the pairings would be drawn Monday.

DePaul, which winds up its season against Loyola in Chicago tomorrow, has won 21 games and lost five. It defeated St. Louis, 52-42, in its last appearance.

Bowling Green won 27 of its 32 starts in a regular season already concluded. LaSalle wound up its campaign with a 19-3 record, including triumphs over Arkansas, Utah, Southern California and Pennsylvania.

New York University, whose selection was announced in advance of the other three earlier today, saw its hopes for a perfect season shattered by Notre Dame Monday night. The Irish downed the Violets, 64-59, for their only loss in 20 starts. NYU has two more games to play.

Inclusion of NYU in the invitation meet paved the way for Columbia to represent the second district in the Eastern Regional eliminations of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Columbia has dropped only one game in 19 appearances and has three more games on its schedule but is favored to repeat as Ivy League champion.

Holy Cross, Kentucky and Michigan already have been named to represent their respective divisions in the NCAA competition.

The Eastern and Western NCAA winners will go into the Olympic tryouts, along with the champion of the New York Invitation tourney, the winner of the NAIB tourney opening Monday in Kansas City, the National YMCA champion and the three top AAU quintets.

Manhattan, which has no negro players on its team, previously had withdrawn from the tourney on ethical grounds because of the ban.

Champion Stops Challenger In Opening Round

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, March 5 (AP)—Light-heavyweight champion Gus Lesnevic handled Philadelphia Billy Fox like he owned him tonight knocking out the challenger in 1:58 of the first round before a jam-packed Madison Square Garden mob. Lesnevich weighed 175 to 172¼ for Fox.

Six straight right hands to Fox's head sent him down for a count of six after a minute of fighting. He barely wobbled to his feet as the champion from Cliffside Park, N. J., tugged at Referee Frank Fullam trying to get at him.

Fox Counted Out

Cagy Gus, now a two-fisted madman, surged over Fox and draped him across the bottom rope with another terrific right. Fox rolled to the canvas and was counted out for the second time in his life.

He had won his 50 previous fights, except for a kayo by Lesnevich, all by the knockout route. A ten-year difference in the age bracket proved no handicap to Lesnevich, who may now choose to mingle exclusively with the heavyweights. He has held the crown since 1941 but never looked better than tonight.

After a few seconds of slow sparding, Gus staggered Fox with a right to the jaw. The 22-year-old lad backed away and slipped in retreat, falling on all fours. There was no count and he was soon back up there, facing those bombs the champ was pegging.

Tus did Gus, who seems to get better with age, score a stunning kayo over the highly-touted challenger. Seldom has he earned an easier dollar.

A 1 to 2 favorite climbing through the ropes, Lesnevich sent the big crowd into a frenzied uproar with the fury of his attack. His fourth straight title defense was guaranteed a success from the moment of the first punch.

Melts Away Poundage

If the 175 pound king was weakened by this afternoon's weight-making ordeal he certainly did not show it. They had Gus in a side room down at the boxing commission, shadow boxing for several minutes in heavy overcoats to melt away four ounces.

When he finally made the beam balance at 175 he and his manager Joe Vella promised to make Fox pay for the extra work. They boasted that Gus would dump Billy in the lap of his manager, Blinky Palermo. He missed by only a few inches.

The sellout crowd was officially counted as 18,453 which paid $14,-519. It was the biggest crowd of the year and highest gross gate since the Louis-Walcott affair in December.

26 Beaver Trapped In Tucker County

Largest One Weighs About Sixty Pounds

PARSONS, March 5.—Wendell Swank, field technician of Elkins, Russell DeGarmo, chief game technician of Charleston; Paul Arthur, executive secretary for the Conservation Commission along with Fielding Kyer, conservation officer for Tucker County spent Thursday checking tagged and sealed beaver.

They report that only 26 beavers were trapped in Tucker County this year which is much lower than last year. The beaver were also much smaller than in previous years with only one large one. It has a 32x40 inch spread and weighed approximately sixty pounds, trapped by Glenn Harper of Davis.

During the open season from February 5 to the 16 Ben F. Thompson, Glenn Harper, John R. Harper, of Davis; Harper Kerns of Dry Fork; George Teter of Parsons each trapped three beaver; Paul Thompson of Davis, Estel Pifer, St. George, Fred Bowman of Davis each reported two; Hansel Mallow, Davis, John Barr, St. George; E. R. Fox, Dry Fork, Carl R. Conrad of Romney, Roscoe Beall of Davis each trapped one.

Several farmers in this county have large beaver dams on their farms and were given permits to trap the animals. The open season was for any hunter who could trap on farmers land with their written consent.

Regular Checks Will Keep Car Maintenance Cost Down

William Wilgus
Passenger Service Manager

Preventive medicine is wise. By regular examination your doctor prevents you from getting sick. "The same is true of your car," insists "Bill" Wilgus, Gurley Brothers' Passenger Car Service Manager. Regular inspections by a skilled mechanic will prevent what might result in costly repairs or a breakdown. "Bill" has been diagnosing the ailments of Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto and Chrysler since 1929, and his consistent record of recommending the proper treatment has earned him an enviable reputation. It will be wise for you to consult "Bill" about your car. He will explain how to keep it on the road with less time out for service and at the same time keep the maintenance cost lower per mile.

Regular inspections by a skilled mechanic will prevent what might result in costly repairs or a breakdown. "Bill" has been diagnosing the ailments of Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto and Chrysler since 1929, and his consistent record of recommending the proper treatment has earned him an enviable reputation. It will be wise for you to consult "Bill" about your car. He will explain how to keep it on the road with less time out for service and at the same time keep the maintenance cost lower per mile.

Polish Youth Is Mobilized For War Call

By LARRY ALLEN
AP Newsfeatures

WARSAW—Poland is mobilizing her youth to speed national reconstruction and to build a reservoir of military strength for use "in event of emergency."

Throughout the nation a total of 75,000 work brigades of boys and girls, aged 16 to 21, are being formed. Nearly 5,000,000 are involved.

The girls, along with the boys, are compelled to undergo vocational and physical education in every city, town and village in Poland. They, too, must give about 6½ hours work daily at some national reconstruction task.

The boys have an extra compulsory duty—military training. They get that under the direction of militia or regular army advisers after they've done their day's bit at some reconstruction project.

This training is to last for six months, Along with boys from 16 to 21 years of age, all men up to 30 years who have not had any previous army service must also undergo military training.

Leaders of the Communist-backed "Fighting Youth Organization" (ZWM) claim that only about 1,000,000 out of the 4,500,000 boys and girls between 16 and 21 are enrolled in youth units in Poland. But they emphasize there'll be a 100 per cent enrollment by the end of 1948.

These same leaders say the new government decree known as "Sluzba Polsce" (In the Service of Poland) does not aim at the "militarization of youth." But they add, it is wise to have the nation's youth fit and ready and militarily trained "in event of emergency."

The decree imposes sanctions of various types upon youths who try to evade service. On the other hand, those who work hard and train well may have their terms of compulsory military service shortened or have priority in getting regular government jobs or entering schools of higher education.

Refugee Health Tests Attacked

GENEVA —(AP)— The resettlement program of the international refugee organization may collapse as result of "excessively high" medical standards imposed by national selection missions, I.R.O. Executive Secretary William H. Tuck says. Twelve nations are selecting potential immigrants among nearly 1,000,000 displaced persons under I.R.O. protection in Europe.

Tuck says the selection missions are removing the cream of the refugees, from the point of view of physical fitness, while often turning down an entire family because a single member did not meet their requirements. Twenty to 56 per cent of candidates were at present being rejected on medical grounds, the report said.

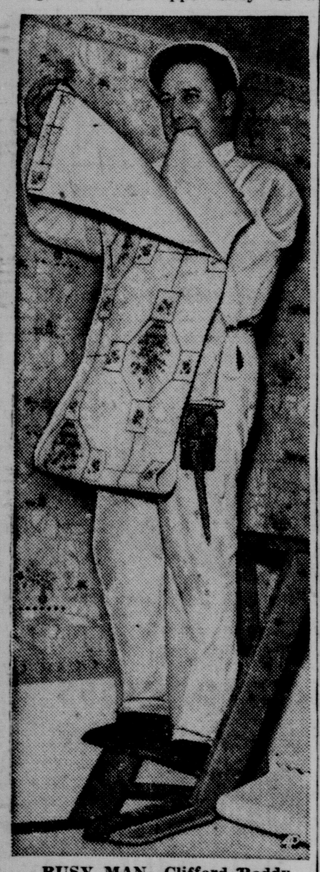

Tuck cited specific instances of persons turned down for x-ray evidence of tuberculosis healed many years before, for "easily remedied" endemic goitre and even for being slightly below average weight, after many years on German rations.

THIS ONE-ARMED PAPER HANGER PASTES A JOKE

Ap Newsfeatures

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. — Clifford Roddy doesn't mind jokes about one-armed paper hangers—he's one himself and he gets a kick out of work.

Clifford, 38-year-old father of three sons, says he took up paper hanging to prove that there's a larger world of opportunity for a

As he convalesced, Clifford knew he couldn't return to his job in a steel mill. How would he support his family?

Clifford recalled that he had done some paper hanging when he was a youth.

"Now," he said, "I'll be a paper hanger again. And I'll prove to myself that a one-armed man can do anything if he has will power."

Clifford selected his mother's home for a "trial flight."

"I put the ceiling up better than I expected," he says. "In fact ,it was the best ceiling I ever put up. After that the walls were easy.

Lion Kills Tiger In Zoo Battle

ADELAIDE (AP)—In a savage 1½-minute battle Big Leo, a 10-year-old lion, killed Old Girl, 17-year-old tigress, at the Adalaide Zoo.

Keepers cleaning out the cages opened the dividing doors to let the lions into tigers' cage in the belief that the tigers were locked behind the back wall. But Old Girl was sleeping against a dwarf wall in front.

A zoo attendant said that if Old Girl had been awake and a bit younger, Leo wouldn't have stood a chance.

Polish Youth Is Mobilized For War Call

By LARRY ALLEN
AP Newsfeatures

WARSAW—Poland is mobilizing her youth to speed national reconstruction and to build a reservoir of military strength for use "in event of emergency."

Throughout the nation a total of 75,000 work brigades of boys and girls, aged 16 to 21, are being formed. Nearly 5,000,000 are involved.

The girls, along with the boys, are compelled to undergo vocational and physical education in every city, town and village in Poland. They, too, must give about 6½ hours work daily at some national reconstruction task.

The boys have an extra compulsory duty—military training. They get that under the direction of militia or regular army advisers after they've done their day's bit at some reconstruction project.

This training is to last for six months, Along with boys from 16 to 21 years of age, all men up to 30 years who have not had any previous army service must also undergo military training.

Leaders of the Communist-backed "Fighting Youth Organization" (ZWM) claim that only about 1,000,000 out of the 4,500,000 boys and girls between 16 and 21 are enrolled in youth units in Poland. But they emphasize there'll be a 100 per cent enrollment by the end of 1948.

These same leaders say the new government decree known as "Sluzba Polsce" (In the Service of Poland) does not aim at the "militarization of youth." But they add, it is wise to have the nation's youth fit and ready and militarily trained "in event of emergency."

The decree imposes sanctions of various types upon youths who try to evade service. On the other hand, those who work hard and train well may have their terms of compulsory military service shortened or have priority in getting regular government jobs or entering schools of higher education.

Refugee Health Tests Attacked

GENEVA —(AP)— The resettlement program of the international refugee organization may collapse as result of "excessively high" medical standards imposed by national selection missions, I.R.O. Executive Secretary William H. Tuck says. Twelve nations are selecting potential immigrants among nearly 1,000,000 displaced persons under I.R.O. protection in Europe.

Tuck says the selection missions are removing the cream of the refugees, from the point of view of physical fitness, while often turning down an entire family because a single member did not meet their requirements. Twenty to 56 per cent of candidates were at present being rejected on medical grounds, the report said.

Tuck cited specific instances of persons turned down for x-ray evidence of tuberculosis healed many years before, for "easily remedied" endemic goitre and even for being slightly below average weight, after many years on German rations.

THIS ONE-ARMED PAPER HANGER PASTES A JOKE

Ap Newsfeatures

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. — Clifford Roddy doesn't mind jokes about one-armed paper hangers—he's one himself and he gets a kick out of work.

Clifford, 38-year-old father of three sons, says he took up paper hanging to prove that there's a larger world of opportunity for a one-armed man than just being a night watchman or handy man.

As he convalesced, Clifford knew he couldn't return to his job in a steel mill. How would he support his family?

Clifford recalled that he had done some paper hanging when he was a youth.

"Now," he said, "I'll be a paper hanger again. And I'll prove to myself that a one-armed man can do anything if he has will power."

Clifford selected his mother's home for a "trial flight."

"I put the ceiling up better than I expected," he says. "In fact it was the best ceiling I ever put up. After that the walls were easy.

WELL ARMED-- Policemen of the Cumberland Department this week were issued new .38 caliber revolvers and black leather holsters, the latter designed without the "fly top" which chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn said proved cumbersome. Officer Kenneth Morrissey (left), and Officer James Brown (right), demonstrate the newly issued weapons, while Sgt. John Sherry (center), displays one of the old type revolvers used by the department for the past 25 years. The new .38 is mounted on a .45 caliber frame, which police say makes a larger weapon, but "a much more accurate one."

Keepers cleaning out the cages opened the dividing doors to let the lions into tigers' cage in the belief that the tigers were locked behind the back wall. But Old Girl was sleeping against a dwarf wall in front.

A zoo attendant said that if Old Girl had been awake and a bit younger, Leo wouldn't have stood a chance.

Faulty Survey Is Checked For New Keyser Fire Hall

Error Discovered In Original Work

By June B. Rolley

KEYSER, W. Va.—As the result of a discrepancy in the original survey of a lot at the corner of Mineral and Center Streets, site for the proposed municipal fire station, a new survey was made and is now being checked by State Road Commission engineers in Charleston.

The second survey was made after a local engineer discovered the original survey did not agree in metes and bounds with the legal description of the lot.

Plans for the fire station call for an arc that will be formed by eliminating the right angle of the corner of Center and Mineral Streets, which, as the survey indicates, would be several feet farther north than was indicated in the survey.

Officials said either the curve in the road will be built according to plans for the Fire Hall, or plans for the fire station will be altered.

Work on the fire hall, which is to be supervised by Frank Snyder, local contractor, is tentatively scheduled to start March 15.

Faulty Survey Is Checked For New Keyser Fire Hall

Error Discovered In Original Work

By June B. Rolley

KEYSER, W. Va.—As the result of a discrepancy in the original survey of a lot at the corner of Mineral and Center Streets, site for the proposed municipal fire station, a new survey was made and is now being checked by State Road Commission engineers in Charleston.

The second survey was made after a local engineer discovered the original survey did not agree in metes and bounds with the legal description of the lot.

Plans for the fire station call for an arc that will be formed by eliminating the right angle of the corner of Center and Mineral Streets, which, as the survey indicates, would be several feet farther north than was indicated in the survey.

Officials said either the curve in the road will be built according to plans for the Fire Hall, or plans for the fire station will be altered.

Work on the fire hall, which is to be supervised by Frank Snyder, local contractor, is tentatively scheduled to start March 15.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Margaret Bell Feagles, who passed away 6 years ago, March 5, 1942.
Six years have passed since that sad day
When the one we loved was called away.
God took her home—it was his will,
But in our hearts she liveth still.
Sadly missed by her Daughter, JOSEPHINE SHANSKI; Grandson, BILL.

In loving memory of our daddy and husband, John Werner, who passed away one year ago today, March 6, 1947.
We never shall forget you
Whom we loved and could not save,
But God wanted you, dearest daddy,
So he called you away.
And our thoughts wander daily
To your grave not far away.
Where they laid you, dearest daddy,
Just one year ago today.
Sadly missed by WIFE and CHILDREN.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, March 5—(INS)—You don't expect a regular cut and dried column today, do you? I am still on a pink cloud and so excited over my wonderful party Thursday night that I am in a daze.

I started reminiscing and thought of so many things, and most of all I am so thankful to have been a reporter. Sometimes when I am tired and the phone rings all hours of the day and night, I think it would be much easier to wash dishes—at least, you'd get through. Then the joy of a scoop comes along—and all is forgotten.

When Lilli Palmer first came here, it was as Mrs. Rex Harrison, the wife of an important star. Well, she's still Mrs. Rex Harrison, the wife of an important star, but she's made a place now of her own with "My Girl Tisa," and "Body And Soul" which was one of the pictures chosen for Academy consideration.

Jane Russell

So it isn't surprising that Lilli has been chosen to co-star with Dana Andrews in "No Minor Vices." This time, Lilli plays a doctor's wife in a light comedy.

"Marriage of 1948" by Vera Caspary and Isadore Goldsmith, her favorite boy-friend, has been bought by Warners. The authors have taken the divorce problem and the allegation that two couples out of three break up their marriage and analyzed it.

It's an argument against divorce and purports to show what causes marital separations.

Examples of why marriages go on the rocks will be furnished by three couples.

This certainly must appeal to Alfred Hitchcock's terrific sense of humor. He and Mrs. Hitchcock sent their daughter, Pat, aged 19, to their native England to learn perfect English diction.

So what happens? Pat, who is a mighty fine little actress, gets herself a job in the London presentation of Tennessee Williams' play, "This Property Condemned," and she plays a southern girl with a thick accent. Nary an English syllable in a carload.

Oh, dear these titles really get you down. Here is one to end all eerie names—"The Grave Scratcher." It is by Mary Loos and Richard Sale and is the story of the overland delivery of a locomotive in 1876.

Eddie Albert and Gale Storm, who were teamed in the Loos-Sale story, "The Dude Goes West" (formerly called "The Tenderfoot"), will be reunited as the leads in "The Grave Scratcher." Eddie plays a cigar store Indian salesman, and Gale, a dead-aim Dora.

Allied Artists will release, and shooting is scheduled to start early in April.

It will be old-home week for Bruce Bennett when he attends the 1948 Olympic games in London this summer. Twenty years ago Bruce was the U. S. shotput champion and competed in the 1928 games on the American team under his real name of Herman Brix.

Bruce, who has just finished "Dames Don't Talk" for Warners, will accompany Dean Cromwell, head coach of the American track and field team, to the games and will serve as an adviser for the shotput events.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Mrs. Milton Sperling, the former Betty Warner, is expecting her baby Monday. This will be her third child.

Lauren Bacall has received a cable from her mother, Mrs. Natalie Bacall, saying she has arrived safely in England for a two-month stay. She wants "Baby" and "Bogey" to join her.

Produces S. P. Eagle flew to Cuba over the weekend to get permission to film "Rough Sketch," which deals with Cuba's revolutionary history.

Helga Moray and Dr. John McDonald, Beverly Hills physician, a dinner duo at Charley Foy's night club.

Charles Boyer and his pretty wife, the former Pat Patterson, leave for New York the day after Easter for the opening of "Arch Of Triumph."

No teacher, Barbara Hale said, could afford the glamorous wardrobe provided for her in "The Boy With Green Hair," so she turned in her beautiful studio clothes and with a budget of $125, purchased three dresses, two hats and two pairs of shoes for the entire movie.

Minna Wallis has had the most terrible time. A spider bit her face and she's had to have it lanced twice and, believe me, it's been no fun. Lucky, though, it wasn't a black widow.

That's all today.

Baering Down On The News

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

The Solid South resents being told it is in the bag like the week's laundry. But when it votes Republican I want to be three days at sea with the wind in back of my ears.

— o —

Old Hank Wallace fattens on dissention and you figure he might go South and grab himself some emoluments of office. But the South wouldn't touch Hank with a ten-foot pole with an insulated handle.

— o —

Here's the way the score reads. Truman sored up the South, the thought of Wallace makes them sore and they were sore at the Republicans to start with. They studied politics at the Sorbonne.

WIFE PRESERVERS

If little drops form on top of the meringue of your pies, try using less sugar. The excess sugar in the meringue forms syrup. From one to five tablespoons of sugar to each egg white are the correct proportions.

Belated Selective Recovery Flurry Boosts Stocks; Amusements Advance

NEW YORK, March 5 (AP)—The stock market, all but unconscious during the great part of today's proceedings, showed faint signs of life toward the finish on a selective recovery flurry.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .1 of a point at 61.4 after the dip of .3 the day before. The market remained one of the narrowest of the year. Of 902 issues registering, against 901 in the previous session, 349 rose, 318 fell and 235 were unchanged.

Amusements turned upward, after hovering around record lows, on reports some compromise might be reached on the British film tax. The feeling that power and light company issues had been oversold aided this group. Rubbers still were backward in reflection of the output cutbacks. Most steels, motors, mail orders and oil did little either way.

American Power and Light $5 and $6 preferreds were up 2¼ points each at 75½ and 86½, respectively. Advances of major fractions to a point or so were recorded for Standard Gas $4 and $6 preferreds at 20¾ and 88½, respectively; Twentieth Century Fox 20½, Paramount Pictures 19¼, Warner Brothers 11¼, Loew's 16⅝, Electric Power and Light 16, Texas Pacific Coal and Oil 45½ and Allied Chemical 173½.

Climbing earnings lifted Bendix Home Appliances 1⅛ at 19¾ and Kennecott Copper ⅞ at 45⅜. Shamrock Oil got up three-eighths at 27⅜ on a hoisted dividend.

Goodrich yielded 1½ at 50, United States Rubber one at 40¾ and Goodyear three-fourths at 40¼. On the downside were United States Tobacco, Chesapeake and Ohio, International Harvester, Oliver Corporation, United Air Lines, Standard Oil (NJ), Consolidated Edison, Cerro De Pasco and International Nickel.

Prices edged ahead in a quiet bond market. Changes were fractional in most cases and there were a good number of losers.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Margaret Bell Feagles, who passed away 6 years ago, March 5, 1942.
Six years have passed since that sad day
When the one we loved was called away.
God took her home—it was his will,
Sadly missed by her Daughter, JOSEPHINE SHANSKI; Grandson, BILL.

In loving memory of our daddy and husband, John Werner, who passed away one year ago today, March 6, 1947.
We never shall forget you
Whom we loved and could not save,
But God wanted you, dearest daddy,
So he called you away.
And our thoughts wander daily
To your grave not far away.
Where they laid you, dearest daddy,
Just one year ago today.

Carpenters Will Rejoin Allegany Trades Council

Green Promises Probe Of Local's Complaints

Officials of Carpenters Local 1024, AFL, announced last night that the union plans to return to the Allegany Trades Council next Tuesday night since the principal cause of its disaffiliation no longer exists.

The carpenters local on February 24 withdrew its delegates from the Allegany Trades Council, a union statement said, "until such time as the Allegany Trades Council withdraws its affiliation from certain political organizations which we believe under present conditions do not conform with the principles of the Carpenters Brotherhood and the American Federation of Labor."

The union had been affiliated with the Allegany Trades Council, central AFL body of Allegany County, for 43 years.

J. E. Mullenax, secretary of the Carpenters union, said last night that the local plans to resume its affiliation with the Trades Council at its meeting Tuesday.

The resignation of William Boyd Coleman as president of the Western Maryland Labor Unity Conference, he explained, has removed the principal objection to our affiliation with the Trades Council.

Delegates Withdrawn

Our delegates, he said, were withdrawn when the Trades Council refused to drop its affiliation with the Labor Unity Conference after Carpenter delegates objected to Coleman's leadership of the Unity Conference on the grounds that he had failed to sign the non-Communist pledge and that he was an official of a third party movement.

Letters were received yesterday by Mullenax from M. A. Hutchinson, first vice president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, and from William Green, general president of the American Federation of Labor.

Hutchinson's communication said: "This will acknowledge receipt of your communication of February 24, and note is made of what you have to say therein.

Green's letter, dated March 1, said:

"I received your letter dated February 24 in which you advise me of the withdrawal of Carpenters Local 1024 from affiliation with the Allegany Trades Council for reasons which you make clear in your communication. This is particularly true because of your long affiliation with the Allegany Trades Council.

"Central Bodies should under no circumstances become affiliated with any organization whose representative refused to sign a non-Communist pledge as required by the Taft-Hartley Law.

"I will write the representatives of the Allegany Trades Council, asking for a report concerning the complaints which you filed with me against action taken by the Allegany Trades Council."

Union officials said the Trades Council delegates had voted 12-12 on the question of disaffiliation and that the chairman cast the deciding vote.

Coleman Resigns

In his letter of resignation, as head of the Unity Conference, Coleman pointed out that his "activities with the new progressive party of the State of Maryland would take so much time" that he would be unable to devote the proper amount of time to the Unity Conference.

C. E. Stutzman, who served as Unity Conference president in 1947, was elected president to succeed Coleman Thursday night.

During the recent Local 1874, TWUA, election, Playford Aldridge, who, with his entire slate, was swept into office, charged that despite orders of the membership, Coleman and Joseph Barley had not signed the anti-Communist affidavits.

Coleman, accusing Aldridge with bringing a "red herring" into the picture, said in part, "He (Aldridge) criticizes me and my friend and coworker, Joseph Barley, for not rushing to sign the yellow-dog non-Communist affidavits required by the Taft-Hartley Law. He fails to mention that Philip Murray, CIO president, and John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers president, have actually refused to sign such affidavits."

Claude S. Keller Thanks City Voters

Claude S. Keller, a city primary candidate for council, said last night he wishes to extend his appreciation to the voters who cast their ballots for him last Tuesday.

"I appreciate the support given to me by my friends, and believe they indicated their interest in my platform for good clean government. I shall continue to support such a program and will cooperate with any elected officers who advocate and sponsor the type of good government our people want and deserve."

Wrong Longitude

The News was informed last night by an authoritative source, however, that the correct longitude is 7846.

Temperature Reading

Weather remained cold yesterday and temperatures declined well below freezing last night. The highest point mercury could reach during the entire day was 36 above zero by mid-afternoon, and at 11 p. m. it had dropped back to 21 above. The day's minimum was 11 above with 16 above reported at 8 a. m. There was no snow or rainfall, and skies were clear part of the day. The forecast indicates rather cloudy, continued cold weather and possibly some snow by tonight.

William B. Robb Dies Suddenly In Allegany Grove

Oil And Gas Operator Was Once Cub Reporter

He was the father of John M. Robb, well known local attorney and president of the Junior Association of Commerce.

Mr. Robb became ill yesterday morning while visiting in Cumberland but began to feel better after he returned to his home, only to drop dead there about 3:15 p. m.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said death resulted from a heart attack.

Mr. Robb was born in Cumberland April 15, 1871, a son of the late Charles and Josephine Wolfe Robb.

He was a brother of the late Associate Judge David A. Robb, a well known Allegany County attorney and once state senator.

After spending several years in Alaska, Mr. Robb traveled to California, then to Mexico and later to Texas and Arkansas during the early days of the oil boom.

Since that time, Mr. Robb had been engaged in oil and gas "wildcatting" operations.

He returned to Cumberland in 1916 and had recently been interested in gas developments in Virginia.

Mr. Robb was a member of Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Willie Wilson Robb; two sons, William B. Robb, Jr., and John M. Robb, both of Allegany Grove; one daughter, Miss Jean Robb, Milwaukee; two grandchildren, Barbara Anne Robb and John M. Robb, Jr.; one brother, Albert Robb, Oroville, Cal., and two sisters, Mrs. Frank W. King and Miss Mary H. Robb, both of this city.

The body is at the George Funeral Home.

Talbert Is Given 10 Days In Jail

A local man who police said failed to return a borrowed car at the appointed time, last night was sentenced to serve 10 days in jail in default of a $10 fine after he pleaded guilty to unauthorized use of a neighbor's automobile.

Magistrate Roy S. Bowman, Cresaptown, ordered Clifton Talbert, 222 Glenn Street, committed to Allegany County Jail when he admitted borrowing an automobile owned by Ray F. Alt, 213 Glenn Street, and keeping it for an extra day, according to police.

Trooper Milton Hart, who arrested Talbert Thursday night on Front Street, said the prisoner borrowed the automobile Tuesday with the understanding that he would return it by 4 p. m. the same day.

Alt, however, charged that Talbert kept the car beyond that time and police said the machine was towed from a muddy side street in South Cumberland Thursday after it became bogged down.

Talbert had the machine towed to a local garage Thursday afternoon and was arrested later in the night by Trooper Hart who said Alt swore out a warrant for Talbert's arrest Thursday afternoon charging him with unauthorized use of the automobile.

Talbert was held in City Jail Thursday night, but was transferred to Allegany County Jail yesterday morning. He was returned there last night following the trial.

Rotarians Will Give Classification Talks

Classification talks will be given by two members at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Cumberland Rotary Club on Tuesday at Central YMCA.

The members are Ross O. Decker, secretary-treasurer of the Light and Decker Company, retailers of agricultural implements; and Raymond T. Sendell, manager of the truck tire department, Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

ANXIOUS FOR SPRING-- These West Side youngsters, spurred on by sunny weather and the recollection of a few recent warm days, couldn't resist the urge to get in a little marble shooting yesterday. Their ring was slightly muddy and they were dressed for wintry weather but that apparently was no handicap to their enthusiasm. Each wanted to be the "shooter" when the photographer snapped the picture. The boys are (left to right) Joseph Yockus, William Yeager, Raymond Spear, William Miller, Leo Franklin and Joseph Lear.

Cub Pow Wow May Be Held By Potomac Council

Group Will Attend Wilkinsburg Event

Five representtives of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, will go to Wilkinsburg, Pa., today to attend a Cub Pow Wow which will be held from 2 p. m. until 8:30 p. m., according to Kenneth E. Jackson, council executive.

They are Earl S. Black, Petersburg, W. Va., field Scout executive for the council; Edward M. Kirk, Cub master of Pack 3, Gephart School; Howard A. King, chairman of the Pack 3 committee; James Sills, a committee member; and Joseph W. Nicodemus, chairman of the Cub pack committee at Potomac Park.

Mrs. Kirk, Mrs. King and Mrs. Black will also be in the party.

The Cub Pow Wow will be divided into four sections, with emphasis placed on games, handicrafts, ceremonies and management.

Jackson said the local group will make the trip to obtain necessary information so that a similar event can be held by Potomac Council.

Because it will take several weeks for Cub members to prepare handicraft work and other items, the local council's Pow Wow will probably not be held until some time in May, he explained.

At present there are eight Cub packs in Potomac Council. Each pack has from 10 to 12 adult leaders, including "den" mothers and fathers, Cub masters and pack committeemen.

Jackson, King, Black, Nicodemus, Kirk, George Stimmel and Donald A. Lacoss attended a meeting in Johnstown, Pa., Thursday night to obtain data regarding Cub Pow Wows.

Stimmel will be Cub master of Pack 2 at Pennsylvania Avenue School which is now being organized, while Lacoss is Cub master of Pack 20, Mount Royal School.

4 Persons Treated At Local Hospitals

Delpon Johnson, Jr., 18 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delpon Johnson, 409 Independence Street, was treated last night in Memorial Hospital for injuries to his lower lip, received in a fall at his home. His parents said he cut his lip on a tin can.

Connie Spooler, 17 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Spooler, 1008 Kent Avenue, was treated at the hospital for lacerations of her chin, suffered when she fell at her home, striking her chin on a stove drawer.

SCHEDULES ANNOUNCED FOR FIRST AID COURSES

Schedules for two Red Cross First Aid courses were announced yesterday by Lee Silcox, first aid and water safety chairman of the local Red Cross chapter.

A course will start Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at the city Hall auditorium, and will continue every Sunday for nine weeks. The classes were organized primarily for the instruction of the Auxiliary Police Force Disaster Group, but will be open to the public. Instructors will be Eugene C. Kreissib, of the Auxiliary Police Force, and Lt. Detective Edwin C. Lilya, of the city police force.

Classes will start at the new Nurses' Home at Allegany Hospital Tuesday at 7:30 p. m., and will meet every Tuesday and Thursday. These classes were started for the police department, and for industrial workers, but are also open to the public. Silcox will be the instructor.

Classes in both courses will be of two hours duration, and will continue until eight hours of instruction are completed. Interested persons may register at the first class in either course.

Lepley Is Given 10-Year Parole

Eugene S. Lepley, 25, this city, who once held four Cumberland policemen at bay with five pistols, yesterday was paroled for 10 years in Hampshire County, W. Va., Circuit Court where he pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering.

Lepley was arrested January 8, this year, at the camp of Dr. Arthur F. Jones, local physician, on the Walter Woodson farm, near Springfield, W. Va., which police said he entered after using a tire tool to break the door.

Sheriff C. H. Hott, said Lepley was returned to Romney, W. Va., yesterday from Newton D. Baker Hospital, Martinsburg, W. Va., where he has been held under armed guard since his arrest.

Lepley, according to authorities, yesterday pleaded guilty to the charge and was paroled for 10 years, after a one to 10 year sentence in Moundsville, W. Va., penitentiary was set aside, on condition that he be of good behavior.

Lepley was arrested in Cumberland about a year ago after he kept Lt. Detective Edwin R. Lilya and three other officers in a room at his home by threatening to shoot them.

He was arrested at the time after Lilya tricked him, and later was committed to a veterans hospital for treatment, but was released a short time later.

FIRE CHIEFS PROPOSE STATE BUILDING CODE

The feasibility of a state-wide building code that would noticeably reduce fire hazards was discussed by members of the Allegany-Garrett County Fire Chiefs' Association in Bloomington this week.

H. A. Lasher, secretary, said the association has for some time been studying the possibility of a state building code that would enforce uniform construction regulations and eliminate many of the present fire hazards.

Further study of the proposed program will be made, Lasher said, before an effort is made to attract legal support.

A United States Naval fire training film, "Chemistry of Fire," was purchased by the organization and will be available to other volunteer fire units in the two counties. The first showing is scheduled for Monday, March 15, at 7:30 p. m. at Baltimore Pike Volunteer Fire Company hall.

Lasher and Bruce Long, chief of the LaVale Volunteer Fire Company, were named delegates to represent the chiefs' association at executive board meetings of the Allegany-Garrett Volunteer Firemen's Association.

The chiefs will meet again April 7 at 8 p. m. in LaVale Fire Hall.

Flintstone Man Fined In Hit-Run Accident

Blaine J. Jordan, Flintstone, last night was convicted on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident and fined $6.45 before Magistrate Roy S. Bowman, Cresaptown.

Trooper First Class William Baker, who investigated, said Jordan's car struck a machine owned by Gordon Leatherman, 504 Victoria Street, Wednesday at 2 p. m. while it was parked on Knox Street in front of the Community Baking Company building, where Leatherman is employed.

Building Trades Protest Teachers Work On School

Lucas Says Practice Unfair To Idle Men

George Lucas, president of the Building Trades Council, AFL, complained to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday that three school teachers did painting work at Fort Hill High School at night and taught during the day.

Lucas said he believes this practice is unfair to the building tradesmen and to licensed contractors.

He stated that during the past couple of weeks, several hundred unemployed men have called at the Allegany Trades office seeking work, and that many of these men are unemployed veterans.

Lucas said there is virtually nothing the unions can do, although in five or six weeks some of these men will be put to work on the construction of pipe in Ridgeley.

It will probably be another month, he said, before spring home building opens up and road construction gets underway to any extent. In the meantime, he explained, school teachers doing part time maintenance work, keep regularly trained men for these trades idle. He said he believes it unfair for teachers to be permitted to do work when so many men are walking the streets in search of work.

The county commissioners told Lucas they have nothing to do with school maintenance, and referred him to Charles L. Kopp, school superintendent. Commissioner William H. Lemmert said, "Our hands are tied, although we are in complete sympathy with the unemployed veterans and tradesmen. This is the responsibility of the Allegany County Board of Education."

TROOPER SPIOCH AGAIN ARRESTS E. C. MOORE

Edward C. Moore, 29, Pekin, near Lonaconing, was arrested yesterday by State Trooper First Class A. M. Spioch on a disorderly conduct warrant obtained by Mrs. Edith Beeman, Lonaconing.

Moore is the same man who attempted to shoot Trooper Spioch September 22, 1946, on Railroad Street in Lonaconing, and was disarmed and taken into custody by the officer. At that time, Moore, armed with a rifle, pulled the trigger several times in an effort to shoot Spioch, but the loaded gun failed to discharge.

Moore was paroled, and when arraigned yesterday before Magistrate Bernard McPartland, said people had been "picking on him" since the incident.

Mrs. Beeman said Moore had molested her and called her names. Magistrate McPartland fined Moore $10 and costs and warned him to keep on his good behavior.

Trooper Spioch said when he got the warrant to arrest Moore yesterday, he exercised due caution because of his previous experience with the man. Spioch said when he did find Moore, the man was asleep and offered no trouble when awakened.

Cumberland Mentioned In Moose Magazine

In a recent issue of the Moose magazine, Eugene Gunning, assistant managing editor of the Evening Times, is given a nice piece of publicity, in an article by F. Roy Yoke, supreme governor of the Loyal Order of Moose.

According to the article, Moose Governor Yoke met Gunning in a Morgantown restaurant and said, "Gene, are you a member of the Moose?"

Gunning replied, "No."

"Nobody ever asked me," Gunning replied.

Then Governor Yoke extended Gene an invitation and said he would personally sponsor his application. Governor Yoke, in his article, tells the membership this is a prime example of many local lodges' failure to get good men into the order. "There are many worthwhile citizens who would become good loyal Moose," he declares, "if some Moose asked them."

Cumberland Eagles Will Hold Annual Public Memorial Service March 14

The annual memorial service of Cumberland Aerie No. 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will be held Sunday, March 14, at 2 p. m. at the Eagles' Home, North Mechanic Street, according to C. William H. Baer, worthy president.

Paul M. Fletcher, assistant state's attorney, will be the guest memorial speaker. The lodge memorial ritual will be conducted by the officers, including Baer, Frank T. Kelley, past president; Charles E. Keplinger, vice president; Francis T. Twigg, chaplain, Frank C. McKnight, secretary; Daniel D. Willard, treasurer; John W. Harbaugh, conductor; William Sell, inside guard; Merle W. Lookabaugh, outside guard; Francis H. Shultz, John H. Hager and Raymond R. Johnston, trustees.

The Fort Hill a capella choir, directed by Miss Annetta Yates, will sing several selections, and selections will also be offered by a young men's quartet, accompanied by James Borns.

Instrumental music will be offered by Colomy's Orchestra. Rev. Hixon T. Bowersox, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, and Rev. Charles E. Bogan, St. Patrick's Catholic Church, will also participate in the program.

The sacred pageant this year will be in the form of a pure white stage setting, honoring deceased members of the order, by showing a large white memorial monument trimmed in gold, with a girl, clad in white, placing a memorial wreath at the foot of the shaft. During this ceremony, the secretary reads the names of deceased members for 1947-48, including the following:

Charles L. Allamong, Thomas J. Hoban, Felix G. Mantheiy, William Zantop, Harry L. Bolinger, Claude E. Campbell, James W. Everly, William H. Myers, Rudolph F. Valentine, William G. Miller, Charles L. McCormick, Roy Albright, Otto Barchiese, William F. Twigg, Frank H. McCoy.

Alfred J. Kasubvick, William Izat, Walter J. Keifer, Ellis R. Abbott, Silas O. Nicholas, William C. Clugston, Harry L. Leasure, George W. Stump, Bernard E. Giles, Amos L. Hughes, John W. Spriggs, Paul J. Childs, Lawson N. Wagner, Wilson G. Grant, Earl C. Kuhns, and Charles Leon.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles here always honors World War II dead at their memorial services and in addition the order maintains a permanent health and education benefit fund for their children up to the age of 21.

Medical Aid Group Is Organized In Disaster Program

Dr. Wylie Faw Is Named Chairman

Plans have been prepared by a recently organized medical aid committee for its functions under the Cumberland flood disaster plan set up by Associate Judge George Henderson, disaster relief chairman of Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross.

Dr. Wylie M. Faw, Jr., will serve as chairman of the committee, which will provide aid shelters with trained nurses on duty, administration of first aid, and care of injured, sick or disabled persons until medical care is secured.

His co-chairman will be Dr. Leonard Cooper.

Mrs. George Henderson will supervise personnel and supplies for the medical aid shelters, whose location has not as yet been determined.

Nurses aides trained during the war will also be asked to assist registered nurses at the shelters in event of need.

Mrs. H. B. Marley, a public health nurse, is co-chairman with Mrs. Henderson. Their deputies are Mrs. Howard Tolson and Miss Marion Weber, former county supervisor of nurses.

Nurses on call for disaster service are Mrs. Christine Lewis O'Neill, Mrs. William Eyler, Mrs. John Keim, Mrs. Raymond R. Johnson, Mrs. Harlene Hafenbuhler, Mrs. Charles Cotter and Mrs. S. Louis Curl.

Those who will be available to relieve other nurses are Mrs. John M. Groobey, Mrs. C. C. Zimmerman, Mrs. Pauline Knepp, Mrs. Ormond Howe and Miss Grace Torbet.

Immediately following a flood alert, supplies will be checked and placed at the shelters and all assistants will be notified. In the event of any other type of disaster, nurses will be telephoned and asked to stand by until needed.

Transportation for hospital evacuation will be furnished by the rescue and transportation committee of the disaster organization. In the event flood waters prevent transportation from the West Side to local hospitals, evacuation of sick or injured persons to Frostburg may be necessary.

Pensions secured during February for Spanish American servicemen totaled $1,152; World War I, $10,293.60, and World War II, $10,652.40, for a total of $22,098.

Insurance claims totaled $11,000 and burial allowances $1,950.

Garage Addition Permit Granted

Dr. Clay Durrett, 303 Grand Avenue, has obtained a permit in the city engineer's office to build a one-story addition to a garage on the rear of the lot along an alley at the southwest corner of Race and Third Streets.

The 12 by 20-foot addition will have galvanized iron walls and a composition roof. Work will be done by A. L. Will at an estimated cost of $200.

A permit was granted to Mrs. Katie Miller to use part of an apartment on the second floor of a two-story brick building at 47 North Liberty Street as an art needlework shop. The building, owned by Mrs. Nellie Wilson Footer, 404 Washington Street, is located in a business zoning district.

George Schramm, Retired Salesman, Dies At Hospital

Was Vice-President Commercial Bank

George J. Schramm, 80, 852 Camden Avenue, retired salesman and director and vice president of the Commercial Savings Bank, died last night at Memorial Hospital, where he was admitted Thursday after suffering a stroke.

One of the oldest residents and natives of this county, Mr. Schramm was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Christian Schramm and was born in Barton. He came here at an early age and lived in Cumberland most of his lifetime.

He was employed for 45 years as a grocery salesman for the Kenneweg Company until his retirement six years ago. He travelled throughout the local trading area and was widely known.

In recent years he became associated with the Commercial Savings Bank here and was named to the board, later becoming vice president.

Mr. Schramm was one of the oldest and earliest members of the Duke Memorial Bible Class and was also a lifelong member of First Presbyterian Church. He was a member of Ohr Lodge No. 131, A. F. and A. Masons. In 1910, he was elected to serve one term in the city council here.

Mr. Schramm is survived by two brothers, Fred Schramm, Piedmont, W. Va., and William Schramm, Barton; a daughter, Mrs. Ralph R. Webster, this city; and two sons, George Nelson Schramm, Pittsburgh, Pa., and Harry B. Schramm, Leechburgh, Pa. His wife was the late Mrs. Viola Lingo Schramm.

FIVE DRIVERS PROFIT FROM "COURTESY WEEK"

The Western Maryland Motor Club's Courtesy Week ended in Cumberland last night, but club officials were hopeful that the lessons learned would become part of the daily driving habits of Cumberland motorists.

Five drivers, whose acts of courtesy behind the wheel were outstanding, received $5 cash awards. The club made one award each day, Monday through Friday, basing the findings on reports made by club members.

A large percentage of the awards was given to drivers "who have politely waited to give pedestrians time to cross the street even though the traffic light had changed in favor of the motorist," officials said.

Outstanding information derived from the five-day campaign, officials said, is that each of the award winners has several years of driving experience, with accident-free records over a long period of time.

Driving courtesy and freedom from accidents go hand in hand, officers of the club declared last night, adding that it appears from the campaign that there is a definite correlation between courtesy and safety.

Two Join Navy

Two local youths who applied for enlistment at the local Navy recruiting station have been accepted at the Baltimore office, Chief Torpedoman's Mate Edgar L. Schrader announced yesterday.

Richard Howard Adams, 17, 209 Hay Street, and John William Stafford, 17, 307 Footer Place, enlisted for three years and were sent to Great Lakes Naval Training Station for recruit training.

Gibson Prepares Breakdown Of City Spending

Police, Fire, Health Form Largest Item

City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson said yesterday he has prepared a breakdown of items for which city taxes are spent, on the basis of expenditures in the fiscal year which ended last March 31.

He pointed out that expenditures are running about the same during the current fiscal year, and that the breakdown will probably be the basis for preparation of next year's budget this spring.

Based on one tax dollar, the analysis shows that the largest overall expenditure was 52 cents for "protection of life, health and property." This includes 20 cents for the Police Department, 16 cents for the Fire Department, seven cents for garbage collection, five cents for street lighting and four cents for health activities.

The second largest item was 35 cents for debt service, including 16 cents for interest on bonds, 13 cents for bond retirement and six cents for the sinking fund.

Twenty-one cents went for maintenance of streets and sewers, with seven cents each for street cleaning and street and alley work; four cents for sewers, and three cents for engineering costs.

General and administrative operations took only eight cents of each tax dollar, including four cents for general salaries and two cents each for collection of taxes and other expenses.

Six cents of each dollar was spent for recreation, with four cents of that amount for parks and playgrounds and two cents for support of the Cumberland Free Public Library.

Two cents was spent for the maintenance of City Hall and the annex.

Keyser Mill Votes For Union Shop

The first test of union security under the Taft-Hartley Law in the Cumberland area was won yesterday by a sub-local of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, when workers of the Potomac Worsted Spinning Mill in Keyser voted for a union shop.

John G. Thomas, business agent, said 36 of the 67 eligible employes voted for the union shop while 20 voted against the proposal. One ballot was challenged and 10 workers absent during the balloting held yesterday from noon until 12:45 p. m. at the plant.

Louis Aronin, field agent of the National Labor Relations Board, conducted the election. Aronin is attached to the Baltimore regional office of the NLRB.

Thomas said certification of the vote by Ross M. Madden, regional NLRB director, is expected by Tuesday.

The law requires that a union must secure 51 per cent of eligible voters for such a poll and not a mere majority of those voting.

Fort Hill Band Plans Annual Spring Concert

The annual spring concert by the Fort Hill High School Band, will be held Tuesday, April 20, at 8:15 p. m. at the high school auditorium, according to Phillip Kestor, director.

The band, comprised of over 50 pieces, has been rehearsing for the annual event, and proceeds will be used to finance the organization's trip to Winchester, Va., where it will appear in the annual Apple Blossom Festival Parade April 30.

The band will also play for the Senior Class Play program April 9 at the school, and will be seen here at the annual Memorial Day exercises and parade.

The program for the spring concert is being designed to please the diversified audience expected to attend, with types of music which will appeal to all people, the director said last night.

Answer Filed In LaVale Election Case

An answer was filed in Circuit Court yesterday by Harry and David Kauffman in the LaVale Sanitary District case in an effort to show that the referendum on the Sanitary District was properly conducted, and that people in the district voted in favor of the plan.

The Kauffmans represent Miles G. Thompson and a long list of LaVale residents, who intervened in the suit of Violet McGill and others against the county commissioners and tax collector to have the election declared illegal and the plan set aside.

The Court has given the defendants until March 8 to file their answers, and Lewis M. Wilson, attorney to the county board, is preparing their answer in the case.

23 Nominated For "First Lady" Title

Twenty-three persons have been nominated for the title of Cumberland's "First Lady of 1947" by over 100 clubs and organizations. Ballots, which will be sent to the groups, must be returned by March 19.

The winner will be honored by the four chapters of Beta Sigma Phi of Cumberland at a dinner Tuesday, March 30, at 6:30 p. m. at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Belated Selective Recovery Flurry Boosts Stocks; Amusements Advance

NEW YORK, March 5 (AP)—The stock market, all but unconscious during the great part of today's proceedings, showed faint signs of life toward the finish on a selective recovery flurry.

Belated activity put the day's volume at 620,000 shares compared with 580,000 Thursday which were a five-hour low since September 24.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .1 of a point at 61.4 after the dip of .3 the day before. The market remained one of the narrowest of the year. Of 902 issues registering, against 901 in the previous session, 349 rose, 318 fell and 235 were unchanged.

Amusements turned upward, after hovering around record lows, on reports some compromise might be reached on the British film tax. The feeling that power and light company issues had been oversold aided this group. Rubbers still were backward in reflection of the output cutbacks. Most steels, motors, mail orders and oil did little either way.

American Power and Light $5 and $6 preferreds were up 2¼ points each at 75½ and 86½, respectively. Advances of major fractions to a point or so were recorded for Standard Gas $4 and $6 preferreds at 20¾ and 88½, respectively; Twentieth Century Fox 20½, Paramount Pictures 19¼, Warner Brothers 11¼, Loew's 16⅝, Electric Power and Light 16, Texas Pacific Coal and Oil 45½ and Allied Chemical 173½.

Climbing earnings lifted Bendix Home Appliances 1⅛ at 19⅝ and Kennecott Copper ⅞ at 45⅝. Shamrock Oil got up three-eighths, at 27⅝ on a hoisted dividend.

Goodrich yielded 1½ at 50, United States Rubber one at 40⅝ and Goodyear three-fourths at 40¼. On the downside were United States Tobacco, Chesapeake and Ohio, International Harvester, Oliver Corporation, United Air Lines, Standard Oil (NJ), Consolidated Edison, Cerro De Pasco and International Nickel.

In the curb modest improvement was achieved by Aluminum Ltd. and Clinchfield Coal. Turnover here was 180,000 shares versus 170,000 yesterday.

Prices edged ahead in a quiet bond market. Changes were fractional in most cases and there were a good number of losers.

Carpenters Will Rejoin Allegany Trades Council

Green Promises Probe Of Local's Complaints

Officials of Carpenters Local 1024, AFL, announced last night that the union plans to return to the Allegany Trades Council next Tuesday night since the principal cause of its disaffiliation no longer exists.

William Green, AFL president, meanwhile, informed the carpenters he will institute an investigation concerning the charges preferred by the local.

The carpenters local on February 24 withdrew its delegates from the Allegany Trades Council, a union statement said, "until such time as the Allegany Trades Council withdraws its affiliation from certain political organizations which we believe under present conditions do not conform with the principles of the Carpenters Brotherhood and the American Federation of Labor."

The union had been affiliated with the Allegany Trades Council, central AFL body of Allegany County, for 43 years.

J. E. Mullenax, secretary of the Carpenters union, said last night that the local plans to resume its affiliation with the Trades Council at its meeting Tuesday.

The resignation of William Boyd Coleman as president of the Western Maryland Labor Unity Conference, he explained, has removed the principal objection to our affiliation with the Trades Council.

Delegates Withdrawn

Our delegates, he said, were withdrawn when the Trades Council refused to drop its affiliation with the Labor Unity Conference after Carpenter delegates objected to Coleman's leadership of the Unity Conference on the grounds that he had failed to sign the non-Communist pledge and that he was an official of a third party movement.

Letters were received yesterday by Mullenax from M. A. Hutchinson, first vice president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, and from William Green, general president of the American Federation of Labor.

Hutchinson's communication said: "This will acknowledge receipt of your communication of February 24, and note is made of what you have to say therein.

"Under the circumstances you are justified in taking the action you did."

Green's letter, dated March 1, said:

"I received your letter dated February 24 in which you advise me of the withdrawal of Carpenters Local 1024 from affiliation with the Allegany Trades Council for reasons which you make clear in your communication. This is particularly true because of your long affiliation with the Allegany Trades Council.

"Central Bodies should under no circumstances become affiliated with any organization whose representative refused to sign a non-Communist pledge as required by the Taft-Hartley Law.

"I will write the representatives of the Allegany Trades Council, asking for a report concerning the complaints which you filed with me against action taken by the Allegany Trades Council."

Union officials said the Trades Council delegates had voted 12-12 on the question of disaffiliation and that the chairman cast the deciding vote.

Coleman Resigns

In his letter of resignation, as head of the Unity Conference, Coleman pointed out that his "activities with the new progressive party of the State of Maryland would take so much time" that he would be unable to devote the proper amount of time to the Unity Conference.

C. E. Stutzman, who served as Unity Conference president in 1947, was elected president to succeed Coleman Thursday night.

During the recent Local 1874, TWUA, election, Playford Aldridge, who, with his entire slate, was swept into office, charged that despite orders of the membership, Coleman and Joseph Barley had not signed the anti-Communist affidavits.

Coleman, accusing Aldridge with bringing a "red herring" into the picture, said in part, "He (Aldridge) criticizes me and my friend and coworker, Joseph Barley, for not rushing to sign the yellow-dog non-Communist affidavits required by the Taft-Hartley Law. He fails to mention that Philip Murray, CIO president, and John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers president, have actually refused to sign such affidavits."

Claude S. Keller Thanks City Voters

Claude S. Keller, a city primary candidate for council, said last night he wishes to extend his appreciation to the voters who cast their ballots for him last Tuesday.

"I appreciate the support given to me by my friends, and believe they indicated their interest in my platform for good clean government. I shall continue to support such a program and will cooperate with any elected officers who advocate and sponsor the type of good government our people want and deserve."

Wrong Longitude

A picture showing a facsimile of the U. S. Skyway No. 1 marker being prepared for Cumberland, which was published in yesterday's News, incorrectly designated the city's longitude as 2846.

The News was informed last night by an authoritative source, however, that the correct longitude is 7846.

Temperature Reading

Weather remained cold yesterday and temperatures declined well below freezing last night. The highest point mercury could reach during the entire day was 36 above zero by mid-afternoon, and at 11 p. m. it had dropped back to 21 above. The day's minimum was 11 above with 16 above reported at 8 a. m. There was no snow or rainfall, and skies were clear part of the day. The forecast indicates rather cloudy, continued cold weather and possibly some snow by tonight.

William B. Robb Dies Suddenly In Allegany Grove

Oil And Gas Operator Was Once Cub Reporter

William Boothe Robb, 76, well known oil and gas operator, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at his home in Allegany Grove.

He was the father of John M. Robb, well known local attorney and president of the Junior Association of Commerce.

Mr. Robb became ill yesterday morning while visiting in Cumberland but began to feel better after he returned to his home, only to drop dead there about 3:15 p. m.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said death resulted from a heart attack.

Mr. Robb was born in Cumberland April 15, 1871, a son of the late Charles and Josephine Wolfe Robb.

He was a brother of the late Associate Judge David A. Robb, a well known Allegany County attorney and once state senator.

Mr. Robb began his career as a cub reporter on a Cumberland newspaper before going to Alaska during the height of the Gold Rush.

After spending several years in Alaska, Mr. Robb traveled to California, then to Mexico and later to Texas and Arkansas during the early days of the oil boom.

Since that time, Mr. Robb had been engaged in oil and gas "wildcatting" operations.

He returned to Cumberland in 1916 and had recently been interested in gas developments in Virginia.

Mr. Robb was a member of Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Willie Wilson Robb; two sons, William B. Robb, Jr., and John M. Robb, both of Allegany Grove; one daughter, Miss Jean Robb, Milwaukee; two grandchildren, Barbara Anne Robb and John M. Robb, Jr.; one brother, Albert Robb, Oroville, Cal., and two sisters, Mrs. Frank W. King and Miss Mary H. Robb, both of this city.

The body is at the George Funeral Home.

Talbert Is Given 10 Days In Jail

A local man who police said failed to return a borrowed car at the appointed time, last night was sentenced to serve 10 days in jail in default of a $10 fine after he pleaded guilty to unauthorized use of a neighbor's automobile.

Magistrate Roy S. Bowman, Cresaptown, ordered Clifton Talbert, 222 Glenn Street, committed to Allegany County Jail when he admitted borrowing an automobile owned by Ray F. Alt, 213 Glenn Street, and keeping it for an extra day, according to police.

Trooper Milton Hart, who arrested Talbert Thursday night on Front Street, said the prisoner borrowed the automobile Tuesday with the understanding that he would return it by 4 p. m. the same day.

Alt, however, charged that Talbert kept the car beyond that time and police said the machine was towed from a muddy side street in South Cumberland Thursday after it became bogged down.

Talbert had the machine towed to a local garage Thursday afternoon and was arrested later in the night by Trooper Hart who said Alt swore out a warrant for Talbert's arrest Thursday afternoon charging him with unauthorized use of the automobile.

Talbert was held in City Jail Thursday night, but was transferred to Allegany County Jail yesterday morning. He was returned there last night following the trial.

Rotarians Will Give Classification Talks

Classification talks will be given by two members at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Cumberland Rotary Club on Tuesday at Central YMCA.

The members are Ross O. Decker, secretary-treasurer of the Light and Decker Company, retailers of agricultural implements; and Raymond T. Sendell, manager of the truck tire department, Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

ANXIOUS FOR SPRING-- These West Side youngsters, spurred on by sunny weather and the recollection of a few recent warm days, couldn't resist the urge to get in a little marble shooting yesterday. Their ring was slightly muddy and they were dressed for wintry weather but that apparently was no handicap to their enthusiasm. Each wanted to be the "shooter" when the photographer snapped the picture. The boys are (left to right) Joseph Yockus, William Yeager, Raymond Spear, William Miller, Leo Franklin and Joseph Lear.

Cub Pow Wow May Be Held By Potomac Council

Group Will Attend Wilkinsburg Event

Five representtives of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, will go to Wilkinsburg, Pa., today to attend a Cub Pow Wow which will be held from 2 p. m. until 8:30 p. m., according to Kenneth E. Jackson, council executive.

They are Earl S. Black, Petersburg, W. Va., field Scout executive for the council; Edward M. Kirk, Cub master of Pack 3, Gephart School; Howard A. King, chairman of the Pack 3 committee; James Sills, a committee member; and Joseph W. Nicodemus, chairman of the Cub pack committee at Potomac Park.

Mrs. Kirk, Mrs. King and Mrs. Black will also be in the party.

The Cub Pow Wow will be divided into four sections, with emphasis placed on games, handicrafts, ceremonies and management.

Jackson said the local group will make the trip to obtain necessary information so that a similar event can be held by Potomac Council.

Because it will take several weeks for Cub members to prepare handicraft work and other items, the local council's Pow Wow will probably not be held until some time in May, he explained.

At present there are eight Cub packs in Potomac Council. Each pack has from 10 to 12 adult leaders, including "den" mothers and fathers, Cub masters and pack committeemen.

Jackson, King, Black, Nicodemus, Kirk, George Stimmel and Donald A. Lacoss attended a meeting in Johnstown, Pa., Thursday night to obtain data regarding Cub Pow Wows.

Stimmel will be Cub master of Pack 2 at Pennsylvania Avenue School which is now being organized, while Lacoss is Cub master of Pack 20, Mount Royal School.

4 Persons Treated At Local Hospitals

Delpon Johnson, Jr., 18 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delpon Johnson, 409 Independence Street, was treated last night in Memorial Hospital for injuries to his lower lip, received in a fall at his home. His parents said he cut his lip on a tin can.

Connie Spooler, 17 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Spooler, 1008 Kent Avenue, was treated at the hospital for lacerations of her chin, suffered when she fell at her home, striking her chin on a stove drawer.

Mrs. Sally Engle, 50, Route 2, city, was treated at Allegany Hospital yesterday after she fell down a flight of cellar steps at her home, fracturing her left wrist. A splint was applied and she was sent home.

SCHEDULES ANNOUNCED FOR FIRST AID COURSES

Schedules for two Red Cross First Aid courses were announced yesterday by Lee Silcox, first aid and water safety chairman of the local Red Cross chapter.

A course will start Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at the city Hall auditorium, and will continue every Sunday for nine weeks. The classes were organized primarily for the instruction of the Auxiliary Police Force Disaster Group, but will be open to the public. Instructors will be Eugene C. Kreissib, of the Auxiliary Police Force, and Lt. Detective Edwin C. Lilya, of the city police force.

Classes will start at the new Nurses' Home at Allegany Hospital Tuesday at 7:30 p. m., and will meet every Tuesday and Thursday. These classes were started for the police department, and for industrial workers, but are also open to the public. Silcox will be the instructor.

Classes in both courses will be of two hours duration, and will continue until eight hours of instruction are completed. Interested persons may register at the first class in either course.

Lepley Is Given 10-Year Parole

Eugene S. Lepley, 25, this city, who once held four Cumberland policemen at bay with five pistols, yesterday was paroled for 10 years in Hampshire County, W. Va., Circuit Court where he pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering.

Lepley was arrested January 8, this year, at the camp of Dr. Arthur F. Jones, local physician, on the Walter Woodson farm, near Springfield, W. Va., which police said he entered after using a tire tool to break the door.

Sheriff C. H. Hott, said Lepley was returned to Romney, W. Va., yesterday from Newton D. Baker Hospital, Martinsburg, W. Va., where he has been held under armed guard since his arrest.

Lepley, according to authorities, yesterday pleaded guilty to the charge and was paroled for 10 years, after a one to 10 year sentence in Moundsville, W. Va., penitentiary was set aside, on condition that he be of good behavior.

Lepley was arrested in Cumberland about a year ago after he kept Lt. Detective Edwin R. Lilya and three other officers in a room at his home by threatening to shoot them.

He was arrested at the time after Lilya tricked him, and later was committed to a veterans hospital for treatment, but was released a short time later.

FIRE CHIEFS PROPOSE STATE BUILDING CODE

The feasibility of a state-wide building code that would noticeably reduce fire hazards was discussed by members of the Allegany-Garrett County Fire Chiefs' Association in Bloomington this week.

H. A. Lasher, secretary, said the association has for some time been studying the possibility of a state building code that would enforce uniform construction regulations and eliminate many of the present fire hazards.

Further study of the proposed program will be made, Lasher said, before an effort is made to attract legal support.

A United States Naval fire training film, "Chemistry of Fire," was purchased by the organization and will be available to other volunteer fire units in the two counties. The first showing is scheduled for Monday, March 15, at 7:30 p. m. at Baltimore Pike Volunteer Fire Company hall.

Lasher and Bruce Long, chief of the LaVale Volunteer Fire Company, were named delegates to represent the chiefs' association at executive board meetings of the Allegany-Garrett Volunteer Firemen's Association.

The chiefs will meet again April 7 at 8 p. m. in LaVale Fire Hall.

Flintstone Man Fined In Hit-Run Accident

Blaine J. Jordan, Flintstone, last night was convicted on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident and fined $6.45 before Magistrate Roy S. Bowman, Cresaptown.

Trooper First Class William Baker, who investigated, said Jordan's car struck a machine owned by Gordon Leatherman, 504 Victoria Street, Wednesday at 2 p. m. while it was parked on Knox Street in front of the Community Baking Company building, where Leatherman is employed.

Building Trades Protest Teachers Work On School

Lucas Says Practice Unfair To Idle Men

George Lucas, president of the Building Trades Council, AFL, complained to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday that three school teachers did painting work at Fort Hill High School at night and taught during the day.

Lucas said he believes this practice is unfair to the building tradesmen and to licensed contractors.

He stated that during the past couple of weeks, several hundred unemployed men have called at the Allegany Trades office seeking work, and that many of these men are unemployed veterans.

Lucas said there is virtually nothing the unions can do, although in five or six weeks some of these men will be put to work on the construction of pipe in Ridgeley.

It will probably be another month, he said, before spring home building opens up and road construction gets underway to any extent. In the meantime, he explained, school teachers doing part time maintenance work, keep regularly trained men for these trades idle. He said he believes it unfair for teachers to be permitted to do work when so many men are walking the streets in search of work.

The county commissioners told Lucas they have nothing to do with school maintenance, and referred him to Charles L. Kopp, school superintendent. Commissioner William H. Lemmert said, "Our hands are tied, although we are in complete sympathy with the unemployed veterans and tradesmen. This is the responsibility of the Allegany County Board of Education."

TROOPER SPIOCH AGAIN ARRESTS E. C. MOORE

Edward C. Moore, 29, Pekin, near Lonaconing, was arrested yesterday by State Trooper First Class A. M. Spioch on a disorderly conduct warrant obtained by Mrs. Edith Beeman, Lonaconing.

Moore is the same man who attempted to shoot Trooper Spioch September 22, 1946, on Railroad Street in Lonaconing, and was disarmed and taken into custody by the officer. At that time, Moore, armed with a rifle, pulled the trigger several times in an effort to shoot Spioch, but the loaded gun failed to discharge.

Moore was paroled, and when arraigned yesterday before Magistrate Bernard McPartland, said people had been "picking on him" since the incident.

Mrs. Beeman said Moore had molested her and called her names. Magistrate McPartland fined Moore $10 and costs and warned him to keep on his good behavior.

Trooper Spioch said when he got the warrant to arrest Moore yesterday, he exercised due caution because of his previous experience with the man. Spioch said when he did find Moore, the man was asleep and offered no trouble when awakened.

Cumberland Mentioned In Moose Magazine

In a recent issue of the Moose magazine, Eugene Gunning, assistant managing editor of the Evening Times, is given a nice piece of publicity, in an article by F. Roy Yoke, supreme governor of the Loyal Order of Moose.

According to the article, Moose Governor Yoke met Gunning in a Morgantown restaurant and said, "Gene, are you a member of the Moose?"

Gunning replied, "No."

"Why not?" asked the governor.

"Nobody ever asked me," Gunning replied.

Then Governor Yoke extended Gene an invitation and said he would personally sponsor his application. Governor Yoke, in his article, tells the membership this is a prime example of many local lodges' failure to get good men into the order. "There are many worthwhile citizens who would become good loyal Moose," he declares, "if some Moose asked them."

Cumberland also received some publicity in the last issue of Moose magazine, when a picture of the Morgantown, W. Va., High School Band, marching down Baltimore Street, appeared. The band was here in connection with the LaSalle-Mooseheart football game early last fall.

Medical Aid Group Is Organized In Disaster Program

Dr. Wylie Faw Is Named Chairman

Plans have been prepared by a recently organized medical aid committee for its functions under the Cumberland flood disaster plan set up by Associate Judge George Henderson, disaster relief chairman of Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross.

Dr. Wylie M. Faw, Jr., will serve as chairman of the committee, which will provide aid shelters with trained nurses on duty, administration of first aid, and care of injured, sick or disabled persons until medical care is secured.

His co-chairman will be Dr. Leonard Cooper.

Mrs. George Henderson will supervise personnel and supplies for the medical aid shelters, whose location has not as yet been determined.

Nurses aides trained during the war will also be asked to assist registered nurses at the shelters in event of need.

Mrs. H. B. Marley, a public health nurse, is co-chairman with Mrs. Henderson. Their deputies are Mrs. Howard Tolson and Miss Marion Weber, former county supervisor of nurses.

Nurses on call for disaster service are Mrs. Christine Lewis O'Neill, Mrs. William Eyler, Mrs. John Keim, Mrs. Raymond R. Johnson, Mrs. Harlene Hafenbuhler, Mrs. Charles Cotter and Mrs. S. Louis Curl.

Those who will be available to relieve other nurses are Mrs. John M. Groobey, Mrs. C. C. Zimmerman, Mrs. Pauline Knepp, Mrs. Ormond Howe and Miss Grace Torbet.

Immediately following a flood alert, supplies will be checked and placed at the shelters and all assistants will be notified. In the event of any other type of disaster, nurses will be telephoned and asked to stand by until needed.

A serious emergency may require establishment of added medical aid shelters by dividing supplies and personnel.

Transportation for hospital evacuation will be furnished by the rescue and transportation committee of the disaster organization. In the event flood waters prevent transportation from the West Side to local hospitals, evacuation of sick or injured persons to Frostburg may be necessary.

George Schramm, Retired Salesman, Dies At Hospital

Was Vice-President Commercial Bank

George J. Schramm, 80, 852 Camden Avenue, retired salesman and director and vice president of the Commercial Savings Bank, died last night at Memorial Hospital, where he was admitted Thursday after suffering a stroke.

One of the oldest residents and natives of this county, Mr. Schramm was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Christian Schramm and was born in Barton. He came here at an early age and lived in Cumberland most of his lifetime.

He was employed for 45 years as a grocery salesman for the Kenneweg Company until his retirement six years ago. He travelled throughout the local trading area and was widely known.

In recent years he became associated with the Commercial Savings Bank here and was named to the board, later becoming vice president.

Mr. Schramm was one of the oldest and earliest members of the Duke Memorial Bible Class and was also a lifelong member of First Presbyterian Church. He was a member of Ohr Lodge No. 131, A. F. and A. Masons. In 1910, he was elected to serve one term in the city council here.

Mr. Schramm is survived by two brothers, Fred Schramm, Piedmont, W. Va., and William Schramm, Barton; a daughter, Mrs. Ralph R. Webster, this city; and two sons, George Nelson Schramm, Pittsburgh, Pa., and Harry B. Schramm, Leechburgh, Pa. His wife was the late Mrs. Viola Lingo Schramm.

FIVE DRIVERS PROFIT FROM "COURTESY WEEK"

The Western Maryland Motor Club's Courtesy Week ended in Cumberland last night, but club officials were hopeful that the lessons learned would become part of the daily driving habits of Cumberland motorists.

Five drivers, whose acts of courtesy behind the wheel were outstanding, received $5 cash awards. The club made one award each day, Monday through Friday, basing the findings on reports made by club members.

A large percentage of the awards was given to drivers "who have politely waited to give pedestrians time to cross the street even though the traffic light had changed in favor of the motorist," officials said.

Outstanding information derived from the five-day campaign, officials said, is that each of the award winners has several years of driving experience, with accident-free records over a long period of time.

Driving courtesy and freedom from accidents go hand in hand, officers of the club declared last night, adding that it appears from the campaign that there is a definite correlation between courtesy and safety.

Gibson Prepares Breakdown Of City Spending

Police, Fire, Health Form Largest Item

City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson said yesterday he has prepared a breakdown of items for which city taxes are spent, on the basis of expenditures in the fiscal year which ended last March 31.

He pointed out that expenditures are running about the same during the current fiscal year, and that the breakdown will probably be the basis for preparation of next year's budget this spring.

Based on one tax dollar, the analysis shows that the largest overall expenditure was 52 cents for "protection of life, health and property." This includes 20 cents for the Police Department, 16 cents for the Fire Department, seven cents for garbage collection, five cents for street lighting and four cents for health activities.

The second largest item was 35 cents for debt service, including 16 cents for interest on bonds, 13 cents for bond retirement and six cents for the sinking fund.

Twenty-one cents went for maintenance of streets and sewers, with seven cents each for street cleaning and street and alley work; four cents for sewers, and three cents for engineering costs.

General and administrative operations took only eight cents of each tax dollar, including four cents for general salaries and two cents each for collection of taxes and other expenses.

Six cents of each dollar was spent for recreation, with four cents of that amount for parks and playgrounds and two cents for support of the Cumberland Free Public Library.

Two cents was spent for the maintenance of City Hall and the annex.

Keyser Mill Votes For Union Shop

The first test of union security under the Taft-Hartley Law in the Cumberland area was won yesterday by a sub-local of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, when workers of the Potomac Worsted Spinning Mill in Keyser voted for a union shop.

John G. Thomas, business agent, said 36 of the 67 eligible employes voted for the union shop while 20 voted against the proposal. One ballot was challenged and 10 workers absent during the balloting held yesterday from noon until 12:45 p. m. at the plant.

Louis Aronin, field agent of the National Labor Relations Board, conducted the election. Aronin is attached to the Baltimore regional office of the NLRB.

Thomas said certification of the vote by Ross M. Madden, regional NLRB director, is expected by Tuesday.

The law requires that a union must secure 51 per cent of eligible voters for such a poll and not a mere majority of those voting.

Answer Filed In LaVale Election Case

An answer was filed in Circuit Court yesterday by Harry and David Kauffman in the LaVale Sanitary District case in an effort to show that the referendum on the Sanitary District was properly conducted, and that people in the district voted in favor of the plan.

The Kauffmans represent Miles G. Thompson and a long list of LaVale residents, who intervened in the suit of Violet McGill and others against the county commissioners and tax collector to have the election declared illegal and the plan set aside.

The Court has given the defendants until March 8 to file their answers, and Lewis M. Wilson, attorney to the county board, is preparing their answer in the case.
